Teaching About Reds In County's Schools Defended

Tam District Aide Asserts Students Not Indoctrinated

By ELLEN DIETSCHY

Marin County high school students are not being indoctrinated with an automatic hate of communism and unreasoned support for democracy, as has been urged recently by some groups.

"We want the students to come to their own conclusions and be able to support them," said Duane Miller, supervisor of social studies for Tamalpais School District.

His statement reflected the county-wide approach to the subject of communism in the schools, which supports Thomas W. Braden, state board of education president, in his stand that schools should teach patriotism but not "indoctrinate" children.

All of the teachers interviewed showed concern about attempts to force a meaningless patriotism on the youngsters instead of requiring the students to evaluate the information presented, arrive at their own conclusions, and support their positions.

Each teacher, in effect, agreed with Braden's recent statement that "patriotism which is effortless, thoughtless and untested by fact and conscience is no patriotism at all."

Several months ago, Braden and State Supt. Maxwell Rafferty engaged in a hot dispute over the subject, Rafferty contending there is "nothing wrong with indoctrination in patriotism" and that schools should teach the evils of communism.

The greatest emphasis on the communist system of government and its comparison with democracy comes in American government, sociology and economics courses generally taken by high school seniors.

This is not the first time the students have been confronted with the subject, however.

At every school, an historical approach to communism is taken at the sophomore level in world history classes. Problems the United States has faced with the rise of communism are discussed in United States history in the 11th grade and the contemporary world situation is covered in a mandatory government course for seniors.

All the teachers agreed that the formal study of communism could not be undertaken by the seniors without the background they had received earlier.

The approach to the discussion of communism is generally governed by the teacher.

"Our school board's policy states that the teachers shall feel free to examine controversial ideas in the classroom and should create an atmosphere which does not stifle the chance for controversy to occur," said Alfred N. Thomson, San Rafael High School principal.

SOME MERIT SEEN IN ONE PLAN STAFF

But Chairmen In Cities Not Too Keen About Single Commission For County

By DOROTHY SIMPERS

But they look at the idea without enthusiasm and reserve judgment until they know more details.

The proposal was made recently by the county planning commission and praised Tuesday by all county supervisors. It has been referred to a committee studying the unification of governmental functions in the county.

B. D. Dobbs, county planning director, suggested a single planning commission for the whole county might eventually be possible. Two supervisors opposed this idea. Commission chairmen queried today felt it would not be advantageous.

Charles R. Leitzell, San Anselmo Planning Commission chairman, said there probably would be advantages to a single staff, because many small cities cannot now afford to hire planners.

ENTIRE STAFF

San Anselmo's city engineer is the entire planning staff now, and "is doing a very good job," Leitzell said. He pointed out, however, that residents sometimes have a difficult time finding out the law if the engineer is not in his office.

Leitzell felt a single commission would not work because so many areas of the county have problems that are not common to other areas. He also pointed out that local commissions have evening meetings and people can attend after work. The county planning commission meets during the day, and persons with business have to take time off from work, sometimes waiting all day to be heard.

Fairfax commission Chairman Dan M. Miller favors the idea of a single staff if it were made large enough and the organization flexible enough so assistance could be given to the various commissions. Staff members should be assigned to and working for and with the individual commissions, he said.

CAN'T AFFORD

Miller said Fairfax cannot afford a staff now, and the county staff has not the people to help. He plans to see Dobbs soon to see if anyone is available "because we could use help."

He doesn't think a single commission would work, because "it takes a great deal of personal knowledge of the terrain, particularly in a small town."

Mill Valley commission chairman Robert C. Mountjoy is not sure an overall staff for the county would work as well as good staffs for individual communities.

He feels large-scale matters could be handled well by one staff, "but for individual, specific problems of the community, there is such wide disparity of character and tastes, it would still be desirable to have a staff handle close-in planning."

Mountjoy said if members of an overall staff were assigned to particular communities and given responsibility to coordinate area planning with the entire county, the proposal would

Folder Is Kept Secret

By ROBERT M. COPPOCK

During yesterday's meeting of the Marin County Parks and Recreation Commission, Park Director Kelvin J. Nelson passed around a folder containing photographs of land for possible acquisition by the county for park purposes.

He refused to let a representative of the press see the folder's contents, but quietly discussed the pictures with commission members individually during the meeting.

NELSON OPINION

After the meeting, he said negotiations were going on for parcels of property and he felt information on the owners should not be released.

He said that in some cases the land, or rights to use the land, may be given to the county. Earlier in the day he had commented that development rights for large parcels of land in the county might be given to the county.

After the meeting Nelson added that his discussions with the commissioners about the material in the folder concerned "personal matters between himself and the commissioners," but might pertain to parks in the future."

COUNTY EMPLOYEE

(Nelson is an employee of the people of Marin County through the board of supervisors. He receives $795 per month.)

On Tuesday, Nelson suggested to the supervisors that the county could acquire development rights to farm land, in the form of easements, to prevent its being subdivided and built upon.

Supervisor William D. Fusselman asked him where the money for such rights would come from. Nelson, in reply, asked if the county would accept such rights as gifts from land owners.

Yesterday County Assessor Bert W. Broemmel told a reporter that such "gifts" could, in many cases, relieve a property owner of heavy future property taxes as neighboring land was developed. The owner would still have use of the land, he noted, but could never sell it for higher type development. Broemmel added that in some cases, a land owner might gain an income tax break with such a gift. He warned that only land certain to be used by the county should be so taken.

Leslie Stone Enters Race For Ludy's Job

Forest Knolls architect Leslie Stevens Stone, 37, announced today he is definitely in the race for county supervisor from District 4 (West Marin).

"Federal andt state parks create opportunities and also bring problems," said Stone. "The greatest problem is how to meet the growth—roads and preservation of agricultural land.

"It becomes increasingly important to realize that many of our problems in the Fourth District are not ours alone but also those of the entire county as well. The solutions to problems that are unique to us, in many instances, are found with the cooperation and the understanding of the people and their repersentatives of all five districts."

Stone has a master's degree in architecture from University of California. He is associated with Kentfield architect Jack Hermann.

He lives on Barranca Road in Forest Knolls with his wife, Helen, and seven children. Three of the children are from his previous marriage. His first wife, Johanna, died in a fire in 1961. His present wife has four children from her previous marriage.

Stone has been a member of the Lagunitas School District board since 1958, serving four years as chairman. He is a member and former president of the San Geronimo Valley Horsemen's Assn., member of the Audubon Society and Marin conservation League.

Stone was on the San Geronimo Valley Master Plan Committe and the Master Plan and Zoning Committee.

$125,000 Study Of Bay Is Requested

A $125,000 budget request for studies at the Army Engineers' San Francisco Bay model in Sausalito on shoaling in the bay is now before Congress.

The engineers have included the request in 1964-65 federal budget proposals, Rep. Donald H. Clausen (R-Crescent City) reported in a letter to the Marin County Development Assn. yesterday.

The proposed allocation, if granted by Congress, would permit silting studies in four areas of the bay in the next two years. At least one of the areas studied would be in the North Bay, Clausen reported.

The Corps of Engineers in Washington told the congressman it was aware of silting problems which necessitate further bay model studies on shoaling.

The model has been scheduled to close next June with completion of studies on proposed barriers and dams in the bay.

The development association in January urged that the model and its experienced personnel should be kept intact if there still existed important problems the model was uniquely fitted to solve.

4th Yank Since Monday Killed In S. Vietnam

SAIGON (UPI) — Communist guerrillas have killed a U.S. Army officer — the fourth American officer to die in South Vietnam since Monday —during a combat patrol in the jungle highlands 230 miles north of Saigon, a U.S. military spokesman announced today.

The spokesman said the Army officer received two bullet wounds in the head while on patrol with government troops yesterday 30 miles southeast of the town of Pleiku.

The officer was not identified.

In other action north of Saigon, a U.S. Army enlisted man was wounded in the face and arm when a Communist bullet tore through a helicopter he was flying in support of Vietnamese ground forces.

The death of the officer raised to 191 the number of Americans to die in South Vietnamese since the U.S. military aid program started in 1961.

Of these, 111 have been killed in action. The others were victims of plane crashes, or other accidents.

Redistricting Bill In Hopper

SACRAMENTO (AP)—A constitutional amendment was make sure California Congressional districts meet the test of the U.S. Supreme Court's recent decision requiring "equal representation for equal numbers of people."

At present, said Assembyman Tom Bane (D-North Hollywood) the author, the state constitution "prevents us from drawing equal Congressional districts."

He referred to a requirement that a Congressional district must contain either an entire county or an entire Assembly district.

Dead Baby Is Found At Roadside

The body of a newborn baby was found at noon today beside Highway 101 just outside Novato.

Two California Division of Highways workers on a repair job on Highway 101 spotted the body as they entered their car to eat lunch. It lay about 100 feet from the San Marin entrance from the highway.

The two, Harold Oscar Lundgren and James Ellsworth Robinson, both of Petaluma, immediately drove to the Novato Police Department to report the find. Novato police called the sheriff's office, since the location is outside the city.

The body lay to the right side of northbound lanes of the highway, across from the San Marin entrance.

This infant, a white male, lay with its face and hands in water which had collected in the gulley beside the highway. The body bore no marks of violence.

Asst. Coroner William C. Bradley, who accompanied sheriff's officers to the scene, estimated the baby had been dead over a week.

The child had blonde hair. The umbiblical cord had been tied with twine.

Another School Measure On Tap

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Assemblyman James E. Whetmore (R-Garden Grove) introduced a bill today to appropriate 75 million dollars out of the state treasury for California schools.

He differed with Gov. Edmund G. Brown's proposal to tie new state aid to schools to a countywide school tax.

Whetmore said his bill has no revenue-producing feature "for the very good reason that the money is already there." He placed the state surplus at 100 million dollars.

Lodge Backers Seek Big Write-In Vote

By RAYMOND LAHR

CONCORD, N.H. (UPI) — The Rockefeller campaign organization is keeping a nervous watch on the drive to collect write-in votes for Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge in the Republican presidential primary in New Hampshire.

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York is fighting to overtake Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona before the vote next Tuesday.

Rockefeller interrupted his current tour today to fly to New York for the funeral of Mrs. Robert F. Wagner, wife of the mayor.

J. Richard Jackman, Concord businessman who heads the draft-Lodge campaign, told newsmen yesterday that Lodge will poll about 20,000 write-in votes—20 per cent of the expected Republican turnout.

Rockefeller supporters believe that 80 to 90 per cent of the Lodge support will come from votes that otherwise would go to the New Yorker. They fear that Rockefeller would be seriously damaged by any Lodge write-in vote of more than 15,000.

In his campaign swing in the Concord area yesterday, Rockefeller told one questioner that he and Lodge are probably closer together on issues than any other two Republican presidential possibilities.

When another questioner asked later about differences between him and Nixon, he replied that they both generally were in the middle of the road.

Jew Defends Pius' Attitude During War

DETROIT (UPI) — A Jewish scholar yesterday defended the late Pope Pius XII for failing to publicly condemn the Nazi in the Jewish persecutions of World War II.

Dr. Joseph Lichten, director of inter-cultural affairs of the Anti-Defamation League of B'nai B'rith, spoke at an interfaith "dialogue" at Mercy College, a Catholic girls' school.

Lichten said that "the question of whether the pope was silent or not is a question of judgment."

He said that the "most important thing is that he personally and through his office was helping Jews in Nazi-occupied Europe — which was not an easy thing to do, nor a thing that many other world figures did."

Lichten criticized the controversial play, "The Deputy," now running on Broadway. It contends the pope could have saved the lives of countless Jews by speaking out against Hitler.

Referring to the author, Rolf Hochhuth, Lichten said he was "a child during the period in question; further, his primary motivation was to write a good play and not an accurate record.

Marin Registers 91,105 Vehicles

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Marin County had a total of 91,105 motor vehicles registered at the end of 1963, the state department of motor vehicles reported, as compared to 86,020 a year earlier.

The county's vehicle registrations included 77,104 automobiles; 7504 trucks; 5349 trailers; and 1148 motorcycles. Tom Bright, DMV director, said registration pushed the 10 million level but failed to reach that total, ending the year with 9,990,626 registered on Dec. 31. This was a gain of 232,551 during the year.

9 Lawmakers Back Cranston, Say Engle Too Sick To Run

A joint statement was issued by Reps. John E. Moss, George P. Miller, John J. McFall, James C. Corman, George E. Brown Jr., Jeffrey Cohelan, Augustus F. Hawkins, Don Edwards and Robert L. Leggett.

They expressed belief that Engle, who underwent brain surgery Aug. 24, might endanger his life by conducting a vigorous statewide campaign for re-election.

Engle, who has made periodic appearances in the Senate this year, has announced his candidacy for re-election. He lacks endorsement by state party leaders.

The nine congressmen said they had withheld comment on the forthcoming election "in the hope that some evidence, far more encouraging than is presently available, would be forthcoming regarding the recovery by Sen. Clair Engle of full health."

"In our judgment, the evidence is not now at hand upon which to base a reasonable expectation that:

"1. The senator will have recovered sufficiently to energetically campaign in the great State of California; and

"2. Upon re-election he would have the stamina needed for one of the nation's most demanding offices.

"We sincerely believe that the rigors of a statewide campaign would so jeopardize his health as to actually endanger his life, a sacrifice he should not be called upon to make.

"Having reached this difficult decision, it is our conviction that State Controller Alan Cranston merits the support and confidence of the people as one uniquely qualified to carry all the demanding duties of senator from the largest state in the union."

The congressman praised Cranston for conducting his office in "an efficient and exemplary manner," exhibiting "a high degree of wisdom and integrity."

The statement concluded:

"His conduct as one of the state's highest elected officers has been that of the statesman. He will make an excellent United States senator, and we know the California congressional delegation can work in harmony with Alan Cranston to the best interests of the state."

World Problem Films Tonight

Strategists of a "non-violent" method for solving world problems will tell their position tonight in a public program at the Mill Valley Community Church.

The program, at 8 p.m., is sponsored by the Peace Center of Marin, as part of its World Problems Films Series. It is free.

In addition to documentary films, there will be questioning of Marin County residents who took part in pacifist demonstrations, said Jerry Rubin, Corte Madera, of the center's council.

1,000 CUBANS AT BASE DISMISSED

U.S. Sailors Replace Discharged Natives; Castro Offer To Turn On Water Rejected

WASHINGTON (AP) — More than 1,000 Cuban workers have been fired from the Guantanamo naval base, and the Navy has ordered U.S. sailors there to replace them.

The Cuban workers discharged to date total more than half of the 1,800 who came through the gate each day.

The Associated Press learned this today after the United States spurned an offer by Prime Minister Fidel Castro to turn on the water to the base once again.

Castro's halting of the flow of fresh water to Guantanamo a month ago set off a chain of U.S. reactions, including the firing of Cuban workers who commuted to jobs on the base.

The United States has vowed to make the base self-sufficient. It has made arrangements to build a 10-million-dollar permanent water desalting plant and associated equipment for converting sea water into fresh water.

The Navy now is supplying water to the base with relays of huge tankers shuttling between Florida and Guantanamo on Cuba's eastern end.

At last report, the base had 17 million gallons of water in storage. This is about 1 million more than were in storage tanks on the day Castro shut off the tap because the United States was holding 36 Cuban fishermen accused of poaching in U.S. waters.

'Who Was That Lady?' To Open At Novato Tomorrow

"Who Was That Lady I Saw You With," a farce by Norman Krasna, which is the spring play of the Novato Community Club, will open at 8:30 p.m. tomorrow at the Novato Community House.

It will be repeated Saturday and March 13 and 14 at the same time.

Eric Kollgaard, director, designed and built a 22-foot revolving circular stage for the play, besides designing sets and special effects with the help of other club members.

The stage weighs approximately 800 pounds and took considerable manpower to move to the community house from the Diaz Ranch barn, where rehearsals were held.

During the 13 scenes in the two-act play, the scenery is changed backstage while the action is taking place on the front of the stage. There are either two or three scenes on the stage at all times, although only one is seen by the audience.

The stage turns on rollers and requires four men to maneuver.

Action in the play starts when David Williams, played by Al Newman, a chemistry professor, is caught innocently kissing a girl student who was happy because he had rearranged her schedule.

To patch up the quarrel between Williams and his wife Ann, (played by Al's real wife, Patti Newman), Michael Haney (played by Kollgaard) devises an outlandish story for Williams that he is doing work for the FBI.

Matters are soon complicated by the real FBI and Russian spies until the climax is reached in the basement of the Empire State Building, which is panned off as a submarine.

Other in the cast are Mr. and Mrs. John Littlefield, Vincent McGovern, Robert G. Whisenhunt, Donal Merkley, Grant Nelson, Mrs. Nancy Hendrickson, William W. Hints, Mrs. Donald Cassady, John Geser, Donald Kelly, Robert Comanduran, and Edward Hamann.

Donald Leaf is technical director, Ben Cimolie, scene designer, Ted Lane, assisted by Rex Minshall and Gerry Young, stage director, R. K. Henshillwood, scenery assistant; John Geser in charge of special effects, Bob Lombardi, in charge of lighting, Connie Craig, head of properties; Mrs. Shirley Lane, in charge of ticket sales, and Mrs. Robert Anderson, the program.

Tickets are available at the Roamin' Chariot in the Patio Building, Bob's Barber Shop in Nave Shopping Center, Irv Links Men's Store, 875 Grant Avenue and Chapman's Shoes in the Tresch Triangle, as well as at the door the night of each performance.

'Bash' Tryouts Set

Rehearsals and tryouts for the Novato Community Club's "Briney Bash" will be held at 8 p.m. next Monday at the Diaz Ranch, Donald A. Leaf, club president, announced today. "Bash" production date has not yet been set.

No Publicity Hoax, Sinatra Witness Says

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Defendant John Irwin, under government cross examination, said today he never received any hint from Frank Sinatra Sr. or his son that the latter's alleged kidnaping was for publicity.

"And it made me very nervous," Irwin said.

Irwin earlier had testified that co-dependant Barry Keenan had told him Sinatra Jr. knew in advance of the kidnaping. Asst. U.S. Atty. Thomas R. Sheridan asked Irwin this morning if he knew on his own that this was so.

"I don't believe that I had any knowledge that he was in on it," said Irwin.

"I was very nervous. I was emotional all day and I kept waiting for some hint from either Frank Jr. or Frank Sr."

Sheridan: "You didn't get any, did you?"

Irwin: "No."

Sheridan: "The longer it went without you getting any hint, the more nervous you got?"

Irwin: "Yes."

The period referred to was when Sinatra Jr. was in custody in a hide-out and Irwin, by his own admission, had joined his two co-defendants to help obtain $240,000 ransom from Sinatra Sr.

The keystone of the defense case has been the contention that the affair was a publicity hoax. So far, no witnesses have testified that of their own knowledge they knew this to be so.

Keenan himself has not testified.

Inquirer Answered In Own Tongue

Jan Van Der Laag, a native of Holland who now lives in Eustis, walked into the Chamber of Commerce to find the secretary penning a letter to P. C. Poot of Curacao, who had written a letter of inquiry about a winter vacation to Eustis.

Recognizing the Dutch name, Van Der Laag asked to answer the note — and even offered to show Poot the town when he arrives.

Boy Scouts Visit 46 Foreign Lands

NEW YORK (AP) — During the last six years more than 29,000 members of the Boy Scouts of America have visited brother Scouts in 64 foreign countries.

The overseas travel by Scouts is part of the organization's international relationships service to provide better communication between the Scouting associations of the Free World. More than 6,300 Scouts from 46 nations have visited the U.S. during the same period.

Purse Is Mighty

BLOOMINGTON, Ill. (AP) — Men may laugh at the big, heavy purses women carry but sometimes they come in handy, Mrs. J. C. Harvey found out. She told police she hit a youth with her pocketbook when he attempted to grab it, and the hefty weapon knocked him off his feet.

Waterfront Rezoning To Get Study

Sausalito Planning Commission last night sent to its waterfront committee a request for a rezoning study of the proposed Sausalito Properties Inc. hotel-apartment-marina development.

Acting Chairman Robert L. Nissen said today he could not estimate when the study will be completed.

The Rezoning study was requested Tuesday night by the city council. Properties, Inc., be withdrawn since, under the new zoning ordinance, it is unnecessary. A variance for six offstreet parking spaces was requested to convert the present retail use at 664 Bridgeway to five offices.

Construction Lot Building Missing

Marin sheriff's office said William H. Simpson of Dickson Simpson Inc., 40 Woodland Street, San Rafael, said yesterday an eight-foot by 16-foot construction office is missing from a construction lot in Loma Verde. The shed was left there "two or three" months ago, officers reported.

Liz Taylor Divorce Is Expected Soon

The decree is expected to be granted on grounds of default, since Fisher failed to answer Miss Taylor's petitions filed Jan. 14, with a 21-day deadline for a reply.

Lottery Initiative Signatures Filed

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Signatures to qualify a state-controlled lottery initiative for the November ballot were filed in California cities today.

Sponsors said the lottery would be the largest in the world, distributing an estimated 110-million-dollars a year in prizes and contributing 325-million-dollars to public schools.

Sheppard Again Seeks Freedom

COLUMBUS, Ohio (UPI)—Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard, serving a life term for the bludgeon slaying of his pretty, pregnant wife 10 years ago, asked the state again today to set him free.

Dr. Sheppard's typewritten plea to the pardon and parole commission came amid growing speculation the country's most publicized prisoner may be on his way to freedom.

The parole commission chairman promptly announced Sheppard's plea to "re-evaluate" his case would be taken up tomorrow and a recommendation to Gov. James A. Rhodes may be made within a day or two.

Jail Chef Has Pensive Hobby

LOUISVILLE (AP) — Thomas E. Staples, a chef at the city jail, spends his off-duty hours collecting ball-point pens.

He now has about 2,300 including "some that won't write but that doesn't make any difference."

Most of the pens are inscribed with the name of a firm or place. One of his favorites has a small auto floating around in the fluid in the upper section. Another contains a concealed penknife.

Staples admits the hobby may pall on him some day but "not until I get about 6,000 of them."

Pet Insists On His Own Way

ARLINGTON, Ky. (AP) — After the veterinarian prescribed a number of pills for Mrs. Ova Jones' dog, her son decided that he'd make the pet swallow them.

He pried open the collie's mouth, put the pills far back on her tongue, then held the dog's mouth shut. Lassie gulped and the youngster let go.

"The dog promptly spat out the pills," said Mrs. Jones. "My son got disgusted and threw the pills on the floor. Lassie then ambled over and ate them all."

covered in the textbook for the class as well as in the teacher's presentation of material.

At Marin Catholic High School, according to Sister Marian Leona, the study of the effects of communism is often included in religion classes.

Members of her sociology classes last year were required to read as an additional classroom assignment one book relating to communism. The students read H. B. Overstreet's "What We Must Know About Communism," J. Edgar Hoover's "Masters of Deceit," George Orwell's "Animal Farm," and Louis Budenz's "The Techniques of Communism" among others.

Albert Gautraud, chairman of the social studies department at Terra Linda High, reported the constitutions and economic systems of the United States and the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics, as well as the structure of socialistic, communistic and democratic governments are discussed and contrasted.

Millard Morgan, lead teacher in Novato High School's team teaching program for social studies, said students are made aware of the fact that although similar liberties are promised citizens of the United States and the USSR, the former are allowed to practice them whereas the latter's government only takes credit for promising them.

"We stress that what is done is more important than what you say is done," he said.

At San Rafael High School, teachers are not trying to get the students to accept one point of view or another when they discuss and compare republican and authoritarian forms of government, said Prosper Boutet, social studies department chairman.

"We hope to give the kids a chance to understand all points of view, to be able to analyze and interpret the information given them," Boutet said. "Education is much more complex than merely choosing sides."

Collateral reading is done by most of the county's students in their study of communism. At Novato, students read articles from many publications including news magazines, The Reporter, Nation, and National Review.

Gwendolyn Gibson, American government teacher at Tomales High School, reflected the opinion of the other teachers when she said, "You just can't tell the students our form of government is best or try to whitewash our problems. . . . They have to know what the problems are in order to understand how they are solved by the different systems of government."

Duane Miller of Sir Francis Drake High School summarized the thoughts of all teachers interviewed with: "We hope to prepare the students with the skills and knowledge which will enable them to live in the world and understand its problems.

"They need to know how and why democracy works, and in being able to understand the ways others have coped with their problems, we hope they will be able to solve the problems which will face them after we, their teachers, are long gone."

Sister Sues, Says Will Left Her Pittance

The will of Mrs. Lillian A. Lovell, San Rafael widow who died Feb. 16, has been contested by a sister who claims the $1,000 left her is a mere pittance and that the deceased was wrongfully influenced by a male friend who was left the bulk of the estate.

Mrs. Lovell was the widow of Dr. Robert B. Lovell, who died in 1943.

Hearing on the contest suit and aplication for admittance of the will to probate is set for April 6 before Superior Court Judge N. Charles Brusatori.

Evelyn E. Dryden, Sacramento, sister of Mrs. Lovell, filed the contest Monday in Marin County Clerk's office. She alleges Mrs. Lovell was of unsound mind when signing the will last Jan. 27, that the will was not properly executed, and that at signing Mrs. Lovell was under the influence of Victor Purdey, who the sister claims resided for several years with Mrs. Lovell in the latter's home at 1201 Grand Avenue, San Rafael.

She alleges Purdey, who was left all shares owned by Mrs. Lovell in Marin County Financial Corp., and all money she had in Marin County Savings and Loan Assn., caused Mrs. Lovell to be "addicted to the excess use of alcohol, used physical force and violence upon her person on many occasions, verbally berated and dominated" Mrs. Lovell.

The sister alleges she and Mrs. Lovell were "close and affectionate" before Purdey influenced the deceased.

The will, filed Feb. 18, leaves money of the deceased in Crocker-Citizens National Bank in San Rafael to a brother, Harold A. Smith of Fairfax; houses at 1201 Grand Avenue and in Bolinas to a niece, Lorene Balzan of Fairfax; $5,000 each to Gordon Balzan, Robert Balzan, grandnephew, and Darlene Balzan, all of Fairfax; the $1,000 to Evelyn Dryden; and the stocks and money —amount not immediatly learned—to Purdey.

Leydecker Outlines Problems Of Labor

Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker, speaking at the installation dinner of the Marin County Labor Council last night, outlined the problems of labor in Marin.

Leydecker told the Edgewater Inn gathering that the current Stanford Research Institute Study on what industries would be desirable in Marin could do much to solve the problems. He said an important concern is preserving the county's natural beauty while developing industry. He stressed the importance of good planning.

OBITUARIES

Frank Paille Dies At 62; Mass Held

Requiem Mass for Frank Paille, 62, of 69 Bella Vista, San Anselmo, who died yesterday in a local hospital after long illness, will be offered at 9:30 a.m. tomorrow at St. Anselm's Church, San Anselmo. Burial will be in Golden Gate National Cemetery, San Bruno.

A native of San Francisco, he had lived in Marin County for 40 years. He retired last September after 31 years as a correctional officer at San Quentin Prison.

He was a member of Lt. Henry C. Wreden Post 5147, Veterans of Foreign Wars, of San Francisco and the California State Employees Assn. He was a veteran of World War I.

Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. today at Chapel of the Hills, San Anselmo.

G. H. ROBERTS

George H. Roberts of Mill Valley, a retired sheet metal production worker, died yesterday at a local hospital at the age of 77.

He had lived in California and Marin County 21 years, last residing at 526 East Blithedale Avenue. He was born at Holdredge, Neb.

Roberts worked last for International Sales, a heating equipment company in San Francisco. He was a member of the Modern Woodmen of America, Camp 1720 in Nebraska.

Surviving are his wife, Grace E. Roberts; three sons, Edward G. and Ernest L. Roberts of Mill Valley; and Howard R. Roberts of Placerville, and a sister, Mrs. Jennie Ham of Benkleman, Neb.

Funeral will be at 2 p.m. tomorrow at Russell and Gooch Mortuary, Mill Valley. Burial will be in Mount Tamalpais Cemetery, San Rafael.

work. "I would want to reserve judgment until the techniques of providing service were outlined thoroughly," he said.

He also felt individual commissions should be kept because their work is of a voluntary nature, and residents like to become involved with their communities.

San Rafael commission chairman Pat Hetherton said he had read of the proposal with "quite a little interest" but was not ready yet to express an opinion.

Robert Johnson, chairman of the Novato Planning Commission, is "not to enthused" about the proposal for a single staff until he knows more about it. He would be for it "tentatively speaking" until more details were available, he said.

He does not go along with the single commission idea, "unless they could show me it would be beneficial, and not just economically, either."

College Problems Committee Voted

The executive council of the Associated Students of the College of Marin voted Tuesday to set up a college problems committee which will seek easier communications between faculty and students.

The council also agreed to conduct a fund raising drive on the compus for the John F. Kennedy Memorial Library in Boston and a Kennedy memorial scholarship fund for a College of Marin student.

A constitutional revision committee was set up to revise the student government constitution and election code. It will be headed by Robert Scoville.

MOUNT TAMALPAIS CEMETERY
Quiet Beauty
for families of every faith

Ninety years ago, Marin pioneers set aside this lovely site as a final resting place for all faiths.
Since then, Mount Tamalpais has developed facilities to meet each family's preference. Here are lovely gardens, the Angeles Garden or Memory Chapel mausoleums for above-ground burial, Marin's modern new crematorium, and the Chapel of Light Columbarium.
If you haven't visited Mount Tamalpais, you are invited to see the beauty of its typically Marin setting. Our staff will be glad to answer your questions.

PUPILS' PLANTING PROJECT

John Wilson (left) and James Barnes, eighth graders at Lagunitas School, keep an eye and some water on their planting section along the corridor at the new portion of the school. Planting of the open areas was a project for fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth graders in January. Part of the lesson was that plants need upkeep. This has to be done in what spare time the pupils can find between classes.

4 Firms Seek TV Franchise For Larkspur

Larkspur has no subscribers to its present television franchise yet four companies are interested in taking it over, the Larkspur City Council heard last night.

One of them, Television Communications Inc., wrote to City Mgr. Ronald E. Piper requesting that talks be held on granting another franchise.

The present franchise is held by Bob's TV of San Rafael. Piper told the city council that owner Robert Lewis has failed to file an annual report on operations and a financial statement with the city as is required in the franchise ordinance.

However, Pipes said this was understandable as Lewis had no subscribers in Larkspur. The council directed Piper to hold discussions with Television Communications Inc. and the three other companies that have shown interest in moving into Larkspur.

The Larkspur City Council also:

1. Adopted the personnel ordinance and a resolution setting up precincts and election officers for the April 14 city election.
2. Approved a street deficiency report for the State Devision of Highways over the objections of Mayor Lesly A. Daveler, who said it was not consistent with an earlier report.
3. Put off to a work session on March 18 consideration of raises for city employees, other than police and firemen, and a proposed subdivision ordinance.
4. Approved an encroachment permit for G. E. Somers of 8 Alta Way to enclose a deck which will extend 12 feet into the right of way of Alta Way.
5. Approved sending copies of recently adopted ordinances to the Larkspur Library where citizens may read them.

TOUCHY MARRIAGE PROBLEM

That Itch You Have Might Be Because Of Allergy To Your Mate

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — There's no doubt, allergists agree, that husbands and wives can be allergic to each other.

One physician said there were five authenticated cases of allergies developed between man and wife. Dandruff was the villain in each case.

Another allergist recalled a couple that was on the brink of divorce because everytime they kissed, the husband's eyes would water, his nose would itch and he would become irritable.

"It took quite a while," said the doctor, "but we discovered he was allergic to the face powder his wife wore. Most such cases turn out to have similar answers."

A third physician said symptoms of an allergy often may be purely psychological.

"Husband and wife just don't like being near each other," he said. "But they don't want to admit this, even to themselves. So they come up with symptoms which they hope they can blame on an allergy."

New Tam Student Behavior Code Expect To Be Stricter

A student behavior code is being drafted at Tamalpais High School which may call for stricter punishments than are now enforced.

The code is expected to be put into effect soon after the Easter holiday, according to Vice Principal Charles Crawford.

Being drawn up by Crawford and using suggestions of students who were all asked to fill out questionnaires on the subject, the code will include a new policy on smoking, that of the Tamalpasi Union High School District trustees now being formulated.

It will contain a general statement discouraging inappropriate dress or appearance but will not specify that a student should wear a certain type of dress or hair style.

"In general, the students seem to favor stricter punishments than we have been giving," said Crawford. "But for cutting classes and tardiness, they feel that the present policy of detention is sufficient."

The idea of a formal behavior code arose from meetings between teachers and the administration while discussing a proposal for a "closed campus" at Tamalpais.

A closed campus is being considered but the board of trustees had given the school until early April as a test period to make progress in improving student behavior. Closing the campus, which would mean students could not leave during the school day, was suggested following several fights on campus in recent months.

A Petaluma truck driver drew $266 fine and five days in Marin County Jail yesterday for drunken driving which resulted in an injury accident on Highway 101 on Feb. 1.

Charles G. Preis of 15 Mono Avenue, Fairfax, paid $166 fine for driving while intoxicated on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard in San Anselmo on Feb. 19.

Civil Rights Discussion Set Monday

A panel discussion on "Current Issues in Civil Rights" will be sponsored Monday night by the Sausalito Democratic Club.

The discussion, open to the public, will start at 8 p.m. at Alta Mira Hotel. The current Civil Rights Bill, the Rumford Act, housing, education, and other civil rights programs will be discussed.

Panelists will be Maxwell A. Hull, teacher at Tamalpais High School and past chairman of the Marin Committee for Fair Play; Cyril E. Beattie, acting dean of the Marin Study Center; Lanny Berry, probation officer and active member of the Congress of Racial Equality, and Douglas Quiett of Marin City, chairman of Marin County CORE.

Moderator will be Robert Berdahl of Sausalito, assistant professor of political science at San Francisco State College.

Womack Supporters Form Committee

A group of Novato residents headed by Harley A. McAskill has formed a committee to "return J. Wayne Womack to the Novato city council."

Lockheed Unveils Model Of 2,000-MPH Transport Plane

SAUGUS (AP)—Lockheed Aircraft Corp. has unveiled a model of a 2,000-mile-an-hour plane it calls the fastest entry in the competition to design a U.S. supersonic transport.

The needle-nosed model was put through wind tunnel tests yesterday at Lockheed's Rye Canyon Research Center.

Designers say the craft which has double delta wings could carry 218 passengers and fly up to 80,000 feet.

The showing also marked the first time newsmen were permitted to view the 22-million-dollar research center, 26 miles from Lockheed-California Co. headquarters in Burbank.

Lockheed is in competition with North American Aviation and Boeing Co. for the contract to develop a new airliner, scheduled for passenger service in the 1970s.

Sewage Improvement Plan Gets Approval

The Corte Madera Sanitary District board Tuesday night approved a sewage improvement plan for property on which the Campbell-Bishop Chevrolet agency is to be located east of Highway 101 on Paradise Drive.

The board also asked that the Marin County Assn. of Insurance Agents review the district's insurance coverage and determine whether it is adequate.

Chairmen Named For Senior Ball

Two committee chairmen have been selected for Redwood High School's senior ball, tot be held at Peacock Gap Country Club on May 23.

Suspect Cleared In Robbery Case

Phaterrel Green, 24, of 143 Drake Avenue, Marin City, was released by San Francisco police Monday after questioning in connection with a strong-arm robbery in San Francisco Feb. 25.

Police said they questioned four suspects in the robbery and cleared three of them, including Green.

Sew-Sew Shop Opens In Novato; 3-Way Move Set In San Rafael

Newly opened at 824 Grand Avenue, Novato, is the Sew-Sew Shop of Mrs. Bea Carpenter. This occupies three rooms of the old Novato City Hall—two of them devoted to retail yardage, millinery, handbags, custom made hats and hat material. The third room is the briday salon where Mrs. Carpenter will design bridal gowns, bridesmaids' gowns and flower girls' dresses. She says it is her idea to coordinate all these for a single wedding when desired.

For several years she has been engaged in raising five children (and still is) but as a former designer known as Beatrice Rose in dress circles, she's been interested in getting back into this work near her home in Novato.

A THREE-WAY MOVE on Fourth Street, San Rafael, is scheduled for around May. It will start with the removal of the Jay Vee Store at 933 Fourth—but Jay Vee's destination is still unknown. District supervisor Frank Robichaud says it will be somewhere in downtown San Rafael.

San Rafael Toy Shop at 1225 Fourth will occupy the vacated Jay Vee premises. Walter Zurcher is bound to be happy about this as he has had an eye on this part of the street for some time, and no doubt will be making the most of it with more night openings.

Cottage Book Shop at 1336 Fourth Street will move into the toy store sometime in June after the place is remodeled. John Lidell and Daniel Druckerman are happy about this, too. They'll have five times as much space as they do now.

In the Corte Madera Shopping Center, the Jay Vee Store at 303 Freeway is closing out March 14. Again—Frank Robichaud says no plans have been made to relocate, but remarked, "We've been in Marin too long (over 20 years) to sell it short. We'll open somewhere else." (It could be farther north).

The Louis George Fine Men's Apparel is moving in here and will be completely installed by May 1. We understand a gift shop of some sort will occupy the present Louis George store at 66 Corte Madera Center.

GROCERY DEPARTMENT of the C and T Country Store, 540 Irwin Street, San Rafael, has been taken over by Olen Bartlett of Kentfield and Albert Gondolla of Terra Linda. They own Top Hat Market in Mill Valley. Burton Chandler and Charles Thompson still retain the C and T meat department.

BROTHERS Edward and Larry Santa of San Rafael who own National Automotive

WALTER ZURCHER
Will move toy shop

Machine Shop in San Francisco are preparing to build at 25 Vivian Way, San Rafael, and open another shop. They'll probably call it Marin Automotive. Edward will run it; Larry will continue in charge of the one in the city. New place should be ready by June 1.

ANNUAL CONVENTION of the California Mortgage Bankers Assn. will be held this year at Palm Springs April 8-10. More than 400 mortgage bankers and their wives are expected to attend. Marin County association members are Sonoma Mortgage Corp. of Novato and Investors Mortgage Service Co. and Title Insurance and Trust Co. of San Rafael.

JOHN C. STICKNEY of Sleepy Hollow has completed his first qualification for Equitable Life Assurance Society's Million Corps. . . . Thomas J. Corrigan of San Anselmo, claim representative for State Farm Mutual Automobile Insurance Co., has just completed a technical course of study in Santa Rosa.

Living Cost Up With Cut In Tax

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—A clue to how Americans will use at least part of their additional take-home pay, thanks to the tax cut, is offered by the new cost of living index.

They'll spend it for more of the things they didn't buy in quantity a few years back.

The Labor Department's new consumer price index also helps clear up another mystery for many citizens: How come the outgo side of the family budget always seems to rise more than the old index said it should?

The new index takes in items that loom large on some family budgets now, but which the old one, as last revised in 1953, ignored. And the new one says that families spend a smaller per centage of their incomes now on such things as food than they did formerly, although eating better; and considerably more on other goods or services than they did when personal incomes were smaller.

Since the price of food hasn't gone up as much in recent years, as has the cost of many goods and services not thought of as necessities, the new way of calculating the cost of living gives a clue to where the money goes — for new goods and services, or more of those once thought of as luxuries or now-and-then items.

And since Americans have tended in recent years to put any extra income into such upgrading of living standards, the additional take-home pay may well add to the volume of such spending. Whether this increased demand will affect prices or charges remains to be seen.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics says the cost of food has risen 6 per cent in the last 10 years. If your grocery bill has gone up more than that, the bureau suspects that is because you now buy higher quality meats and vegetables, which naturally cost more than economy grades; and that you spend much more for convenience, precooked or otherwise processed food. Also there are a lot of new food items, or new versions of old items, that tempt you.

Even son, the bureau holds that the percentage of the family budget spent for food hos slipped from 28.18 in 1953 to 22.43 today. The new index thus won't be affected as much by the changes in prices of various foods as in the past.

The items in today's family budget to which the government gives more emhpasis include housing, with hotel and motel rates newly added, up to 33.23 per cent from 30.17; transportation, to 13.88 per cent from 11.65, with autos and car servicing accounting for most of the increase; health and recreation up to 19.45 per cent from 18.03.

Some of the new spending habits the government now acknowledges are parking fees, college tuition, outboard motors, moving expenses, golf fees, legal aid, funeral services, and between-meal snacks.

Market Improves; Losses Erased

NEW YORK (AP) — Late improvement brought mixed pattern to the stock market at the close today. Trading was active.

Man yearly declines were lessened or erased.

Volume for the day was estimated at 4.9 million shares compared with 5.28 million yesterday.

The market headed lower in early trading as brokers said it continued to consolidate gains made in a three-day push to record highs. As the session wore on the selling tapered off and there was improvement.

Steels, cigarette stocks and mail order-retails moved narrowly higher. The leading motors showed an irregular edge to the upside.

A lower tone continued among utilities, airlines, building materials, electrical equipments, chemicals and oils.

Selected issues were strong. Cerro, at a new high, gained nearly a point. Active and up more than a point were Ampex, Fansteel and Leesona, and fractionally higher.

Penick and Ford, off ⅝ at 19½ on 10,000 shares, looked like one of the column leaders. Consolidated Cigar dropped ½ to 45 on 17,000 shares.

Losses of about a point were shown by Eastman Kodak, Du Pont, American Telephone and Eastern Air Lines. IBM picked up a half dozen points. Xerox rose 3.

Prices on the American Stock Exchange moved irregularly higher in moderate trading.

Chemical, Plastics Firm Earnings Up

NEW YORK — Celanese Corp. of America has reported 1963 net earnings of 32.6 million dollars—up 18 per cent over those of 1962, on record sales of 356.3 million dollars. The 1963 sales were at an all-time high in each of the major domestic product areas — fibers, chemicals and plastics.

Net earnings last year were equal to $3.26 a common share, based on the 8,679,506 shares outstanding at the end of 1963 and including 964,390 new shares issued during the year. Earnings for 1962 were 27.5 million dollars, or $3 a share, on the 7,715,116 shares outstanding at the end of that year.

Hertz Auto Firm Forms New Company

NEW YORK—The Hertz Corp. has announced that it has formed a new car-rental concern separate from Hertz Rent A Car—known as Valcar Rentals Corp.—to serve a different vehicle renting market. Its first office will be in Los Angeles.

Valcar will enter the limited service market where price —not service—is the renter's first consideration. This market is comprised mainly of city motorists whose driving generally is limited to their own locale and who return cars to the station of rental.

AEC Issues Permit For A-Facility

BERKELEY (UPI) — The Atomic Energy Commission yesterday gave the go-ahead to four companies to start construction of a nuclear power plant at Camp Pendleton in San Diego County.

A construction permit was issued to Southern California Edison Co., San Diego Gas and Electric Co., Bechtel Corp., and Westinghouse Electric Corp.

The plant—first of its kind in Southern California—will be located on an 84-acre site on the shore at the northwest end of the Marine Corp's Camp Pendleton.

It will be powered by a pressurized water reactor and will have a capacity of approximately 375,000 net electrical kilowatts (395,000 gros kw.)

Latest date for completing the facility under the AEC permit is Dec. 31, 1966.

Bechtel, of San Francisco, and Westinghouse, of Pittsburgh, Pa., will be co-contractors for construction of the plant. Southern California Edison will own 80 per cent of the plant and San Diego Gas, 20 per cent.

Issuance of the provisional construction permit follows a public hearing before the atomic safety licensing board in Santa Ana last November and a favorable desision of the board on Jan. 29.

Dodge Sets Record

DETROIT—Retail sales of Dodge cars in February set a new record for the fifth month in a row, Dodge general manager Byron J. Nichols has reported. He said Dodge dealers sold 32,083 last month—highest for any February in Dodge history. The February total was 34 per cent higher than for the same month a year ago, when 24,016 cars were sold.

WALL STREET CHATTER

Tax Cut Stimulating, But Boom Ruled Out

NEW YORK (UPI) — Investors Research Co. says "the tax cut will be a decisive sustaining force in the 1964 business advance but will not trigger a big boom within the next year.

"Not only does this view make sense from an economic standpoint, it is the verdict of the stock market. The market has had a year to contemplate the implications of the tax reduction. The market does not wait until an event occurs, it anticipates months in advance. If the tax cut were to stimulate a boom in the economy, the market would be in a full-fledged bull market with the bulk of stocks moving upward. This situation does not exist. We are in a flat environment with a select body of stocks scoring good advances."

MORE TO GO

Forbes Investographs, Inc. says "last week, we agreed that the market could easily go right on through 800. It did, and has further to go."

NO SIGNS YET

Spear and Staff says "while an intermediate correction is always possible, there are no definite signs of a major top as yet. Thus, we think there is still justification for buying lesser known issues which are selling at a reasonable price-earnings ratio and which have a good growth record."

Anti-Smog Firm Tells Guarantee

LOS ANGELES—A special anti-smog guarantee, designed to protect the California car owner, has been announced by the Walker Manufacturing Co.

Walker, a subsidiary of Kern County Land Co. of San Francisco, produces Smog Ban, an aproved anti-smog crankcase ventilator system.

The warranty guarantees no to auto engines, no manifold drilling for installation, maintenance free and no crankcase fumes.

Walker assembles its anti-smog kits at Bakersfield, where the company also has a smog test center.

Chrysler Reports Increase In Sales

DETROIT—Retail sales of Chrysler Corp. passenger cars in February totaled 75,663 units, a 25 per cent increase over the same month last year and the best February since 1957.

Daily rate of retail sales of Chrysler Corp. passenger cars in February was 3,027 units, a 20 per cent increase over the 2,525 daily rate of February last year. Total sales in February last year were 60,606 units.

President Names 10 Women To High Government Posts

Determined Administration Not Be 'Stag'

AUTOGRAPH AFTER AWARD—Mrs. Anna M. Kross, New York City commissioner of corrections gets President Lyndon B. Johnson to autograph dinner programs for her grandchildren after receiving an award in Washington, D.C., last night. AP Wirephoto)

The chief executive chose a women's National Press Club dinner last night to announce that he had appointed 10 women to high-level government posts. One will be an ambassador and another the first woman member of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Johnson made his surprise announcement at the club's first Eleanor Roosevelt Memorial Award dinner. He presented the award, a Vermeil candlestick, to Judge Anna M. Kross, a Russian immigrant who became New York City's crusading commissioner of corrections.

The president named Mrs. Virginia Mae Brown of Pliny, W. Va., a former assistant state attorney general, to the ICC. He also said Mrs. Katherine Elkus White of Red Bank, N.J., daughter of a former diplomat, has been chosen as the U.S. envoy to a nation he did not identify immediately because of protocol. Johnson said the country would be named in a few days.

Johnson said he intends to bring women "of imagination and energy to the fore" in the fields of education and the arts.

The other women named:

Mrs. Mary Dublin Keyserling, wife of economist Leon Keyserling, to head the women's bureau of the Labor Department.

Rose McKee, former Senate reporter for the old Internationaly News Service and a recent information specialist for the National Assn. of Home Builders, to be director of public information for the Small Business Administration.

Mrs. Norman Chandler, wife of the president of the Los Angeles Times Mirror Corp., to be a member of the advisory committee to the U.S. Information Agency.

County Rec May Increase Senior Aid

The Marin County Parks and Recreation Commission yesterday agreed to consider a proposal by the City of San Rafael that the county pay half the cost of a senior citizen program in the city.

The county now pays half the rent on the former American Legion hall, which has been converted to a city recreation center, and half the cost of utilities. Joseph D. Rodota, San Rafael recreation director, wrote asking that the county also split the cost of operating the program for seniors.

Richard Phenix, coordinator of the senior citizen program for the Marin Council of Community Services, appeared for Rodota, who was ill, and said that about half the persons who use the building for the program are from outside San Rafael.

He said an average of 125 persons a day were served in the program last November and the number is rising.

County parks director Kelvin J. Nelson said the total cost to the county next year, if expenses remained stable, would be $7,940. He said he would include the request in his proposed budget.

By the 1965-66 fiscal year, Phenix said, a program should be started in Mill Valley for Southernr Marin residents. A drive for a similar program in the Novato area has bogged down, he said.

"The board of supervisors has been reluctant to appropriate funds specifically for senior citizens," commented commissioner Adele J. Alpers. "This is a special segment of society."

"This is why the emphasis in the center has been on community services by the seniors," said Phenix.

Confronted by a request, already approved by the board of supervisors, for a group picnic on the Civic Center grounds, commissioners said the parks and recreation department should be more active in aiding to determine policies on Civic Center use.

"We have tried to get the point across that these things should be referred to us," said commissioner Helen Newman.

Chairman Gibbs H. Lawson then said Nelson should arrange to have the commission at least included on mailing lists for meeting notices on plans for the Civic Center.

Further revisions were approved in the plan for development of Paradise Beach Park. The major change was elimination of the boat mooring dock, since commissioners felt it would be dangerous for swimmers.

Also dropped was a proposal to extend small concrete block peninsulas at each end of the beach in hopes the tidal action would increase the size of the beach naturally. Nelson said the effect might be to change the current off-shore and to cause erosion of the shoreline.

The Marin County Parks and Recreation Commission also:

1. Approved plans, to be presented March 12 to the state wildlife conservation board in Sacramento, for a parking lot for 60 cars at Agate Beach, Bolinas. The state is expected to pay for construction, to include mainly excavation.

2. Was told by Nelson the supervisors have directed that future subdivision plans calling for reservation of open space be referred to the commission for study, and said a policy on maintenance of such areas will have to be devised.

3. Heard a report from planning director B. D. Dobbs that Walter Horchler, now doing park planning for the federal government, would start work for the county April 1 on the six-month job of revising the county recreation master plan.

4. Heard from work training coordinator Kenneth L. Hickel of the welfare department a description of the New York training program and how it might be used for park maintenance and development.

5. Voted approval of the proposed $19,700 Marin City "total education program" and asked the board of supervisors to appropriate necessary funds.

6. Agreed to limit terms of commission officers to two years.

7. Set a meeting April 1 to discuss the 1964-65 budget and preliminary plans for Paradise Beach Park.

8. Set a meeting April 8 for regular commission business.

Baby Show Registration Scheduled

Registration for the Marin County Baby Pageant and Pre-teen Show April 12 at San Rafael High School auditorium will begin March 12 and close March 14.

Parents are to take a photograph of each entrant when they register at Macy's in San Rafael, Kaufman's Department Store in San Anselmo or J. C. Penney Co. in Corte Madera Shopping Center. A free health examination will be given to all children under five years of age.

"Miss and Master Junior Marin County" and "Miss and Master Pre-teen" will be presented trophies at the baby beauty show and pre-teen beauty show April 1.

Marin County king and queen and winners from the various cities will be crowned April 12. The program is sponsored by Amvets Post 44 and a portion of the proceeds are to be given to Guide Dogs for the Blind.

Chevelle 300 6-Passenger Station Wagon

Chevelle balanced performance is best!

Passing, cornering, threading through traffic, sudden stops—Chevelle excels all around! Chevrolet's new surprise package has what it takes to meet any driving challenge: Six or V8 engines, hefty brakes, Full Coil suspension—and a trim size that makes the most of them!

We didn't just cook up a batch of engines for Chevelle and call it performance. You can get performance aplenty—standard 120-hp Six or 195-hp V8 for starters—and optional at extra cost there's a 155-hp Six, a 220-hp V8, even a new 327-cu.-in. V8! But Chevelle's performance means more.

Size, for instance. Chevelle's a foot shorter than the big cars. That much less weight to carry around. Maximum performance-per-pound, and every pound counts.

The space Chevelle saves in size comes off the ends, not the middle. It rides like you want a car to ride—comfortably—on a 115-inch wheelbase.

To give you the most out of this engine performance and riding comfort, Chevelle lets you choose Powerglide*, 4-speed manual* or 3-speed manual transmission.

And knowing it would strike the right note with a lot of different people, we gave Chevelle 11 models—in three series. Knowing how people like the custom touch, we wrote out a long list of extra-cost options: everything from power seats to air conditioning, power windows to Positraction.

Knowing all this, what's keeping you from a test drive? Certainly not your Chevrolet dealer!

Hub Man Stabbed In Family Fight

A family fight ended yesterday when Mrs. Barbara Jean Carre, 38, of 59 Austin Avenue, San Anselmo, stabbed her husband of less than a year with a kitchen knife, according to Raymond R. Buchignani, San Anselmo police chief.

The victim, William A. Carre, 48, was in fair condition today at Marin General Hospital with a deep knife wound.

Carre went to the police department yesterday asking for transportation to a hospital for treatment of injuries he said he received when he fell down while looking at some property.

Mrs. Carre was interviewed by police, she told them her husband had come home Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. after he had been drinking and they had an argument. He left home and returned around 2 a.m. Wednesday and the argument continued, she said.

Around 8 a.m., he shoved her son by a previous marriage out of the room after the 10-year-old told the victim "he shouldn't talk to his mother that way," she reported.

Mrs. Carre said she then picked up a knife in the kitchen and walked toward her husband who was sitting in the living room and said, "If you don't leave, I'm going to shove it in your back."

Carre refused to leave.

Buchignani said Mrs. Carre is on probation for disturbing the peace and drunkenness last October.

Petition Started At Redwood High

John Burke, student body president of Redwood High School, is circulating a petition to place a revolutionary charge in the form of student governmenton the ballot.

The plans allows for any interested student to introduce and vote on legislation.

"This will put student government directly in the hands of the people and make them more interested in their school," said Burke.

The petition needs 185 signatures to qualify for an election. Burke expects to get the signatures by the end of this week.

Fusselman May Face 2nd Challenger

Veteran County Supervisor William D. Fusselman may face a second challenger in the June 2 primary election.

Jess J. France Jr., 43, of 100 Legend Road, San Anselmo, today confirmed rumors that he is being urged by friends to run for supervisor in District 2 (Ross Valley). Ernest N. Kettenhofen, 46, is already in the race.

France, resident partner in San Rafael in York and Co., investment securities firm, stressed that he has not made up his mind yet about running for the supervisor's post. However, he acknowledged he is "seriously considering" the possibility.

France has a master's degree in business and economics from University of Washington. During World War II, he served in the Army for about a year.

He was president of the San Rafael Chamber of Commerce in 1962 and secretary for the Marin United Crusade. He is a member of the San Rafael Rotary Club and is active in Boy Scout work. He served as president of Toastmasters Club 890 (Ross Valley area) and district governor for Toastmasters.

He is on the board of directors of the Marin Development Foundation and the Bay Area Council.

He is divorced. A son, living in Ross, attends Redwood High School.

Registration for the Novato Tiny Tot recreation program has been postponed from next Wednesday to March 18 from 10 a.m. to noon at the Novato Community House, reported Edmund Mahany, parks and recreation director.

LOST AND FOUND

2 Boys, Tiny Girl Keep Police Busy

The walking boy, the lost girl, and the boy who lost his parents kept Mill Valley police busy yesterday.

At 4:48 p.m. police picked up Jonathan Mazer, 8, hitchhiking from Mill Valley to his home at Muir Beach. They took him to the police station and telephoned his home.

Police were advised to let the boy walk home along Shoreline Highway, that he knew the way home.

He's too young to walk, said officers, and should be picked up at the station. At 6:06 p.m. the boy's mother, Mrs. Crystal Mazer, arrived to take Jonathan home by car.

Police, a Mill Valley fireman and four Tamalpais Firemen searched for 2-year-old Jenny Hokinson for two hours after she was reported missing by her mother, Mrs. J. Hokinson of 475 Molino Avenue.

Mrs. C. V. Holloway found the child at 12:45 p.m. when Jenny walked up to her door at 10 Una Way and handed her the newspaper that had been in the driveway.

At 6:45 p.m. Robert Frazer, taxi driver for Yellow Cab, took John Aranson, 7, to the police station, the boy telling officers his parents had gone to San Francisco at 2 p.m. and had not returned and he was worried about them.

Rights Unit To Contact Mayors

The executive board of the Marin County Human Rights Commission last night agreed to write to the mayor of each city in the county asking action at the next meeting of the Marin County of Mayors to appoint three representatives to the commission.

The matter was brought up at the February meeting of the mayor's council, but was tabled.

The group discussed bringing other persons into the newly formed commission. A preliminary discussion of bylaws was held.

The first formal meeting of the commission itself was set for March 19.

By qualifying for the fall semester, they reached the three-and-one-half years of federation membership required to become a life member.

President Attends Mrs. Wagner Funeral

The president flew from Washington this morning in spite of a pea soup fog to attend last rites for the 54-year-old first lady of the city at the Madison Avenue Presbyterian Church. Mrs. Wagner died Monday after a year's battle against lung cancer.

Dixie Trustees Decide On Resource Teachers

The category of "resource teacher" was established last night at a special meeting of the Dixie School District board. The position was set up to be able to use special talents and abilities of some of the district's teachers.

Each resource teacher will be paid $1,750 a year above the regular salary during the first year, and $2,000 above the regular salary the second year.

Since the program is an experiment, it will automatically end after two years unless renewed by the board.

The resource teacher will serve as a demonstration teacher in the summer school, as a consultant to the principal and teachers in the area of the special talent, and may serve as chairman of a school's curriculum committee. Plans call for one resource teacher in each of the district's schools.

In addition, this teacher will be expected to carry a regular classroom assignment.

The board authorized Supt. Dennie B. Willis to set up a program to qualify the district for state funds for the educationally handicapped. These are students who, for psychological or neurological reasoons, are not learning as they should.

Continuance of the intern teacher program with Dominican College was approved, and an expansion, possibly to include University of California, was authorized.

The regular March 11 meeting of the board was changed to March 12.

2 Tiburon Firemen Leave For Army

Tiburon volunteer firemen said goodbye to two of their members today and acquired a mascot in the process.

Lawrence J. Bogel and George G. LaSalle Jr. left this morning for Fort Ord to begin army training. They were given a farewell party last night at the firehouse, where both have lived. Bogel was a paid fireman; La Salle, a volunteer.

The volunteers agreed to keep Cinders, Bogel's Dalmatian dog, while Bogel serves out his hitch in the army.

Fire Chief Frank J. Buscher announced John Grbac, who is finishing a navy hitch, has been hired to replace Bogel.

20-Cent Rat Island Purchase Is Urged

The Marin County Parks and Recreation Commission yesterday voted to ask the board of superivsors to approve county purchase of Rat Island, a tiny spot of land offshore from China Camp.

The U.S. Department of Interior has informed the county it can have the .08 of an acre for 20 cents, but if it is not purchased, it would be auctioned for private sale.

A. G. Michaud, vice president of the Draper Companies, which has bought the Latipac Corp. holdings on the former McNear Ranch, said his company had believed the island was included in the purchase.

He said plans for development of the area, being drawn up by Daniel B. Coleman and Associates, included the island.

"I think you got snookered on the purchase," commented Park Director Kelvin J. Nelson. The island had never been for sale, he said, and the recently presented San Rafael master plan, also drawn up by Coleman Associates, showed the island as part of the development of the Gallinas Bay area.

Michaud said the main worry was what the county might do with it.

Commissioner James M. Fletcher said there is a need for tie-up picnic facilities for boaters, and the island might be used for that.

Nelson said a navigational aid for boaters could also be installed on the rock.

Behr Is Taking Mexican Holiday

County Supervisor Peter H. Behr will leave tomorrow for a two-week trip to Mexico.

He said he wants a chance to refresh himself for an election campaign in case someone files to run against him.

Behr has been given permission by the rest of the board of supervisors to be out of the county 30 days, the legal limit for a supervisor, but said he would only be gone two weeks.

Airmen On Probation For Carrying Firearms

Five Hamilton Air Force Base men have been put on 90 days' probation by West Marin Judicial District Judge David Baty for carrying and firing loaded firearms in Samuel P. Taylor State Park.

The men are Dennis J. Bailey, 18, John B. Newman, 20, Michael O. Orndt, 19, Dalen C. Ferguson, 22 and Gene F. Sanchez, 32, who were charged with target shooting in the park last month.

BROWN UPS SCHOOL AID FUND REQUEST

Legislators Asked To Vote 60.8 Million Dollars—A Hike Of 6.9 Million Dollars

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Edmund G. Brown increased his request for new school aid to 60.8 million dollars today, and told legislators there is "no possible justification" for continuing to finance schools under the present system.

In a letter to all lawmakers, the governor raised his request 6.9 million dollars from the 53.9 million dollars he asked for in his Feb. 3 budget message.

The total includes 18.9 million dollars in new funds from a proposed 27.5 million dollars countywide tax plan, plus 41.9 million dollars in new state aid.

Brown also made a new appeal for the controversial countywide tax, calling it "eminently fair, and injurious to no one."

His letter included the first breakdown of how his proposal would affect local districts.

It said 40 counties would gain funds ranging from Los Angeles County's 15.1 million dollars to Inyo's $1,429.

Fifteen counties would lose from $926 (Mono) to $534,015 (Fresno), while three — Alpine Plumas and San Francisco — would not be affected.

(Under the plan, Marin County would gain $521,966. About seven districts in the county would be paying in more than they received from the countywide tax, but the loss would probably be covered by additional state aid, according to Dr. Rudolph S. Kupfer, assistant Marin County superintendent of schools. He based his conclusion on study done on a similar bill last year.)

The governor's plan, one of five reform proposals suggested so far, has not been introduced yet.

The countywide tax, which failed to win approval from the 1963 legislature, would require every school district to contribute from 50 cents to $1.10 of its current tax rate to a county-wide fund.

The estimated 27.5 million dollars raised in this way would then be redistributed among the districts according to their enrollment.

Of the 27.5 million dollars, Brown figures only 18.9 million dollars would be new money. This, he says, would come from wealthy districts that would be forced to raise their tax rates to meet the countywide minimums.

Tiburon Man Goes Through Windshield In Collision

A 26-year-old Tiburon man was in good condition today at Marin General Hospital after being thrown through the windshield of the car he was driving.

Hammel's car, traveling east on Tiburon Boulevard, collided with a car being driven by Dr. George Albert Watson, 59, of 135 Belvedere Avenue, Belvedere, who was turning onto Tiburon Boulevard from San Rafael Avenue at 1:25 a.m. today.

Watson was cited by the California Highway Patrol for violation of the right of way. He was treated at the hospital for cuts.

Also cited for violation of right of way was Ruby Mae Cullinan, 44, of 202 Cardinal Road, Tamalpais Valley, was turning left into the Shoreline Nursery from Shoreline Boulevard yesterday at 4:30 p.m. when her car collided with one driven by Carl Owen Dobrovny, 20, of Denver, Colo.

Peace Officers Due Talk On Stopping Cars

California Highway Patrol Inspector Russ Hannis will explain procedures for stopping cars at the meeting of the Marin County Peace Officers Assn. today at 6:30 p.m. at the Deer Park Villa, Bolinas Road, Fairfax.

Highway patrol Supervising Inspector Dan J. O'Connell had been scheduled to address the group until he suffered a minor injury when his car was hit from behind by a truck while stopped in a toll lane of the Golden Gate Bridge Tuesday.

INTERCHANGE IN ABSTRACT

College of Marin graduate Edward Douglas of San Anselmo exhibits an artistic approach to photography in this "structural design abstraction" of the Greenbrae interchange, part of an exhibit now on display in the college's art gallery. Douglas is now a second-year student at the San Francisco Art Institute, but most of the photos in the show were class projects completed while he was at the college. The exhibit includes macro-photography, ocean forms, portraiture and "structural design abstractions."

Twin Cities Rec Director Will Resign

Richard Simmons, director of the Larkspur-Corte Madera Joint Recreation Commission, today said he would submit his resignation to the commission at its March 19 meeting.

Simmons, who lives at 609 Locust Street, Sausalito, said he was advised by the commission at a special meeting last night that a more qualified person was needed to head the recreation program. He said that he does hold a degree in recreation.

Simmons said he was going into training for the Olympic Games in Japan.

Last year he won the 440-yard race at the Pacific championship of the American Athletic Union. His best time in the 440 has been 46.5 seconds, as compared to the world record of 44.9. He runs for the Santa Clara Valley Youth Village.

He said that if he had been retained by the commission, he would have asked for a leave of absence to compete in the Olympics. "I like working with children," Simmons said.

Span Suicide Or Suicides Investigated

California highway patrolmen were investigating one and perhaps two suicides off the Golden Gate Bridge today.

Officers found a parked car in the employees' parking lot near the bridge offices at 7:40 a.m. with a note in it stating that "This is the only way out."

The note was signed by Gary G. Griton, Castle Air Force Base airman who is AWOL and wanted on a warrant charging grand theft by the Merced County Sheriff's office.

At about 11:30 a.m. today the highway patrol was notified by a motorist that he saw a person with the same general description as Griton climb the railing of the brideg. He did not see the person jump.

No Complaint Filed For Death Driver

The district attorney's office will file no complaint against driver of a sports car which Feb. 2 careened over a Sausalito sea wall and killed an occupant, Asst. Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales said today.

A Marin coroner's jury early yesterday returned a verdict of accidental drowning, in effect absolving driver Thomas M. Ryan, 32, San Francisco attorney, of negligence.

Drowning victim was Edwin Bernard Gray, 33, San Francisco.

POLICE DESCRIBE OSWALD'S MURDER

Ruby Quoted As Declaring He Intended To Shoot Accused Man 'Three Times'

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — A police officer today quoted Jack Ruby as saying within minutes after shooting Lee Harvey Oswald that "I intended to shoot him three times."

D. R. Archer testified at the 52-year-old Ruby's trial that the defendant came at Oswald —gun in hand—in the basement of Dallas police headquarters last Nov. 24.

Ruby was muttering unintelligible phrases, Archer added.

After the shooting, Archer said, "as we got him down on the floor, I heard him say, 'I hope I killed . . . '" Oswald.

Archer, questioned by Dist. Atty. Henry M. Wade, said that three to five minutes later, when he was inside the jail with Ruby, he told the defendant, "I think you killed him."

"He said," Archer added, "I intended to shoot him three times.'"

Ruby, on trial for his life, is pleading temporary insanity. The defense claims Ruby was in a mental blackout when he shot Oswald and didn't know what he was doing.

Police Officer L. C. Graves, walking alongside Oswald when Ruby shot him, said he did not hear Ruby say he hoped Oswald died.

The other officer alongside Oswald, J. R. Leavelle, testified yesterday that Ruby said he hoped Oswald would die.

Graves testified he wrenched the pistol from Ruby's hands after Ruby shot Oswald. He corroborated Leavelle's testimony that Ruby's hand was contracting, apparently trying to fire more shots after the one that killed Oswald. Graves said he gripped the cylinder of the pistol, preventing it from firing again.

Scheduled to be shown the jury during the day was the film of Oswald's shooting. Melvin Belli, chief defense counsel for Ruby, said it would be the first time Ruby has seen the film.

Wade is asking the jury of eight men and four women to return a verdict of death in the electric chair for Ruby, charged with murder with malice. Oswald had been accused of assassinating President John F. Kennedy when Ruby killed him.

Wade said he expected to complete the state's case today. Then the defense will have its turn.

Motorcyclists Chew Up Course

They are Pat Smith, 18, of 126 Sunnyside Avenue, an assemblyman for Honda motorcycles; Richard Franks, 19, of 408 Pine Street, and a 17-year-old.

Police Chief Dan Terzich said the youths were asked to make restitution for damages and he will present the information to City Atty. Leland H. Jordan for possible prosecution.

Park Supt. Joseph F. Penders estimated damage to Green 9 at $50.

Condition Is Good After Collapsing

He was driving along Sir Francis Drake Boulevard about 10 a.m. when he felt dizzy and pulled into a service station. He was taken to the hospital suffering from a possible heart attack. He had a restful night, according to hospital reports.

College Board Meets Tonight

The Marin Junior College District Board will meet at 8 p.m. today in room 61 of the art building to go over building plans for the Kentfield campus.

The board will consider authorizing the architects to proceed with final plans for the music-drama building and go over utility installations and site development.

College board meetings have regularly been held on the second and fourth Wednesdays of each month, but last Thursday the board voted to meet every Thursday except when there is a fifth Thursday in a month.

Scholarships Fund Discussed

Four members of the College of Marin Citizens Advisory Committee, two college board members and three members of the college administration last night discussed ways of obtaining money for loans and scholarships.

Mrs. G. E. Mitchell of Sausalito explained a plan whereby everybody in the district would contribute $1.

Aaron Rucker of Kentfield was directed to look into forming a foundation which would handle gifts of money to the college.

Notification of the general development committee meeting and had been sent to the 130 members of the college's citizens advisory committee.

Hearing On Deputy Is Postponed

Hearing on the appeal of dismissed Deputy Sheriff William N. McKillop, which had been set for tomorrow, has been postponed.

No new date has been set. The delay came at request of the county after personnel commission Chairman Julius H. Selinger said he would not be able to attend because he is conducting a trial.

McKillop's attorney, William J. Murphy, has agreed to the delay, at least informally, according to Personnel Director Robert D. Elliott.

Also awaiting a new date is a hearing for another fired deputy, George Johnsen, charged with hitting a man in custody of San Rafael police.

Tiburon Bids Tonight

Directors of the Tiburon Peninsula Club will open bids at 8 p.m. today on remodeling of the main hall of the clubhouse and color coating the four tennis courts. The work is to be done this spring, president Thomas Price said.

Come What May, Convicted American To Quit Poland

WARSAW (UPI) — U.S. student Andrew Field, convicted of striking a Polish border guard in a passport dispute, said today he would leave Poland tomorrow even though he still does not know the final outcome of his case.

"I will be very glad to get out of People's Poland. That's all I have to say for now," the 26-year-old Russian literature and Harvard University teaching fellow said.

Field, of Cambridge, Mass., was convicted Feb. 15 of striking a border official in a dispute last Jan. 21. Field and his wife, Audrey, 24, were travelling at the time from Moscow, where Field was studying, to Paris for a vacation.

He was given an eight-month suspended sentence and fined 250 zloties ($10.40) at the close of his trial. He was acquitted of using insulting language to the guard.

Field, who has flatly maintained his innocence of both charges, has been free to leave Poland for the past few days. He remained voluntarily pending the completion of appeals in his case.

Hamilton Carrier Wing Promotes 2

Two promotions in the 349th Troop Carrier Wing at Hamilton Air Force Base were announced today by Lt. Col. William E. Cave, squadron commander.

Promoted to staff sergeant was Henry V. O'Neal, of 445 Center Boulevard, San Anselmo, aircraft engine mechanic. Promoted to master sergeant was Willard H. Stell, of 883 Rae Lane, Novato, production control supervisor.

Hamburger With Everything—Almost

CHESNEE, S. C. (AP) — Mrs. Lynn Watson Jr. sent out for a hamburger, and when it arrived it looked pretty tempting, complete with lettuce, onions, mustard and all the trimmings.

The only trouble was, the restaurant owner had forgotten to put the meat inside the bun.

At SHERMAN CLAY

March is EVERETT month

For most everyone the purchase of a piano is a lifetime investment and the unseen qualities, or lack of them, determines the life expectancy of the instrument.

We, at Sherman Clay, believe the Everett piano to be of the highest quality that you will find in its price range.

The exclusive 'Dyna-tension,' made possible because of the unique construction of the back and sound board of the Everett, allows for a string tension usually found only in more expensive grand pianos.

You will find the touch and response of this piano a genuine pleasure, and unusual for one of medium price range.

Tip Jails Landlady In Mutilation Murder

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — An anonymous telephone tip led to the arrest yesterday of a landlady suspected of the mutilation slaying of 21-year-old Elinor Kahn.

Arrested in a downtown hotel was Mrs. Jean Toman, 36, operator of a San Francisco boarding house in which she had shared an apartment with Miss Kahn.

Mrs. Toman's arrest ended a search touched off Tuesday when police found the remains of Miss Kahn in two suitcases in a gully along U.S. Highway 1 near San Gregorio.

Lt. Frank Gregg quoted Kottwitz as saying Mrs. Toman related that Miss Kahn "kicked off" after the landlady tied her to a chair and dragged her to a chair and gagged her the night of Feb. 20 when the girl became hysterical. After keeping the body in her room several days, Mrs. Toman told Kottwitz, she severed the head, legs and arms from the torso, put the remains in the suitcases, and drove to the gully where she doused the luggage with kerosene and set it on fire.

Kottwitz told police the story Monday. But when questioned that day, Mrs. Toman denied it.

Discovery of Miss Kahn's car in San Jose Tuesday spurred the search that turned up the body.

Mrs. Toman was booked on suspicion of murder.

3 Get Terms For Carrying Switchblades

Two young men and a woman, caught with switchblade knives in San Rafael on Feb. 12, were found guilty of concealed weapons charges after a municipal court trial yesterday before Judge Leonard A. Thomas.

Robert Harry Sims, 20, and Gerald Knight Baldwin, 19, both of Venice, Los Angeles County, were sentenced to 90 days in Marin County Jail. They get credit for time served since their arrest on Feb. 12.

Sims' wife Margaret, 20, was sentenced to time already served and released yesterday afternoon.

San Rafael police said the three, visiting friends on Clinton Court, had switchblade knives with them. Sims told officers he had escaped from a pre-release guidance center in Los Angeles.

The two youths will be held for state parole authorities.

Polaris Sub To Honor Vallejo

Alton Lerch, president of the Marin County Historical Society, has received word that a Polaris submarine will be named in honor of Gen. Mariano Guadalupe Vallejo, California pioneer.

Lerch said the Marin society joined others in the North Bay Area last October in sending a resolution to the White House asking that the famous general be honored in this way.

Lerch received a letter yesterday from Rep. Robert L. Leggett (D-Vallejo) reporting that President Lyndon B. Johnson had approved the name for a Polaris sub.

The Muir League of the Mill Valley Community Church will hold a pancake supper at 5:30 p.m. Saturday at the church.

There will be entertainment put on by the youth group, according to Vicki Gross, publicity chairman, and tickets may be purchased at the door. Funds will be used for youth group activities including the support of an orphan in Korea.

Play At School, Rotary Talk Honor Sausalito Sister City

"Two Cities Become One" was to be presented today by Richardson Bay School pupils, honoring Sausalito's week-long sister city celebration which will run through Saturday.

The play was written by Linda Perry, Dana Africa, Hunter Starbird and Tommy Ross, and was to be narrated by Robin Petrie. Amandes F. Flores, foreign language teacher for Sausalito school district, directs.

Loren L. Jay, chairman of the Sausalito People to People Committee, was to speak today to the Rotary Club on the People to People program.

It is the fourth annual celebration of Sausalito's salute to Vina Del Mar, Chile, its sister city.

Saturday's highlight will be a band concert in Plaza Vina Del Mar about noon, following an anniversary breakfast at Alta Mira Hotel. The 12th Naval District band from Treasure Island will play, weather permitting.

Don Manuel Tello, consul general of Chile in San Francisco, and Mayor Paul Micou of Sausalito will be speakers at the breakfast, which begins at 10 a.m.

Hernan Gatica, American Field Service exchange student from Vina, now studying in the East Bay and living at Hayward, and Toni Taylor of Walnut Creek, an AFS student last summer to Vina, will attend the breakfast.

Earl Warren Jr., assistant director of the Chile-California program, will be a guest at the festivities.

Brown's Hall Chair Drive On

Homestead Valley Improvement Club has embarked on a drive for 100 chairs, to replace those lost in the Brown's Hall fire last June.

Mrs. Martin Goldschmidt, club music chairman, said chairs must now be borrowed and carried from schools and churches for all events. "To save our strength and prevent this unnecessary labor, we have to get new chairs."

Persons wishing to help the club provide places to sit are invited, she said, to contribute trading stamps, to be left in the lobby of Brown's Hall at 390 Miller Avenue each day except Monday.

Theft From Auto

Walter Litterell of 101 Belvedere Drive reported to Mill Valley police at 5 p.m. yesterday that between 6 p.m. Tuesday and 10 a.m. yesterday someone entered the locked trunk of his 1961 Rambler and stole a dictating machine, valued at $300. He said the theft may have occurred in Sausalito, San Anselmo, or at his residence.

Larkspur Hedges On Tree Business For Time Being

The Larkspur City Council does not want to get into the tree business.

On the other hand, the council wants trees on public property to be properly maintained.

So the council last night put off to an April 15 work session further discussion of a proposed tree ordinance. (That session will be one day after the municipal election.)

Councilman James J. Lienkaemper said, "There is an awful possibility that we might end up in the tree business." He said the Town of Corte Madera was already involved in the nursery business.

Councilman Neil R. Brixon added, "I don't want to get into the tree business."

City Atty. Samuel W. Gardiner brought up the point that the body of the trees, should be cut down, would probably belong to the property owners whose lots fronted on the right of way containing the trees.

LATE WINTER FLING

With the official first day of sprin gonly a few weeks away, a heavy snowfall left two to three inches of snow on downtown Tulsa, Okla., yesterday. Gas lights adorning a shopping area glowed brightly as the snow and clouds darkened the city and flakes clung to trees along downtown sidewalks. It was Tulsa's first snow in 52 days and the moisture was welcome even though the snow did bring hazardous driving conditions and freezing temperatures.

Novatan Asks Machines For April Voting

A Novato citizen has urged that her city be designated a pilot area for the use of voting machines in the April 14 election.

Mrs. John A. Machado of 1424 Dawes Street, who has served as inspector in past Novato elections, said today it is high time that the old manual system of voting be overhauled.

County Clerk George H. Gnoss agreed that something should be done to modernize voting, but he doubted there will be time to get anything set up for the April 14 municipal elections.

Mrs. Machado has written State Assemblyman William T. Bagley (R-San Rafael) urging passage of a bill which would permit use of the Harris Votomatic. This machine has not yet been approved by the state, but at $150 a unit, it is by far the most reasonably priced, Gnoss said.

Gnoss doubted there would be time to get the bill on the books and set up the machines in Novato before the election. Six to seven machines would be needed in the city. The Harris machine works on the punch card principle. The state's reservation is based mainly on handling of the write-in vote, Gnoss explained.

Mrs. Machado's letter to Bagley said the city is the only one in the county to have voting time extended to 8 p.m. on April 14. She would like to see machines added to this convenience.

She said only 15 per cent of the voters have gone to the polls in previous elections. Anything to help make voting easier will improve the turnout, she said.

Big Whale Hunt Fails— I-J Disgraced

Talk about the search for Moby Dick!

A whale was sighted off San Pedro Point yesterday afternoon by passing boaters, but you can't prove it by a seagoing reporter-photographer team from the Independent-Journal.

With two cameras and a load of confidence, the pair sailed off to get a picture of the whale.

In a boat loaned by Western Boat Shop and piloted by Dwight Hulbert, the I-J crew scanned the choppy waters of San Pablo Bay for an hour.

Several times, they spotted floating seagulls. They managed to see a freighter headed toward Vallejo. But no whales.

Both men were sure that they would know one if they saw it.

Marin County sheriff's office said today no further reports of sighting a whale had been received.

San Quentin Case Goes To Jury

Trial of five San Quentin Prison inmates charged with felony assault last May 9 of two other prisoners went to the jury in Superior Court Judge Richard W. Sims Jr.'s court this morning.

The trial began Feb. 18. Charged with beating and kicking Russell K. Dillard and Robert E. Bearden, both 25, are Carlos Martinez, 41, serving a Los Angeles robbery sentence; Ulysses McDonald, 25, Los Angeles, car theft; Robert Harris, 25, San Joaquin County bad check conviction; James Milton Smith, 23; and Vernon Ray Rushing, 25, Los Angeles robbery.

Groups Ask Survey Of Rec For Handicapped

Providing a recreation program for handicapped residents of Marin County has become too great a problem for existing health and welfare organizations, Ray Greenberg Sr. chairman of the recreation committee of the Easter Seal Society, said yesterday.

Greenberg was one of eight persons, representing various organizations formed to help the handicapped or mentally retarded, apearing before the Marin County Parks and Recreation Commission in a joint plea for help.

First, Greenberg said, the groups need a comprehensive survey of need in the county and an inventory of facilities and programs which might be used.

Later, he added, there should be coordination of programs, to prevent duplication of work and to insure as many people as possible are reached.

'It is estimated there are 17,000 handicapped persons in Marin County," Greenberg said. "We are taking care of only a minute fraction of these."

"I think the board of supervisors will be responsive and sympathetic in this field," said County Auditor Michael Mitchell, a member of the board of Marin Aid to Retarded Children.

For MARC, added Dante Bagnani, past president, the major problem now is weekend programs. Retarded children cannot use regular community facilities, he said.

Winston L. Engvall, president of the United Cerebral Palsy Chapter, said his group has operated a swimming program for palsied children at the pool of a private home. However, he reported, owners of the home have sold it the pool is no longer available.

Robert F. Stannard, principal of Marindale School, the county's school for orthopedically handicaped children, said a volunteer program for Saturday recreation has been started, "but the problem is beyond us."

Do you want us to just support existing programs, or manage new ones or just coordinate activities?" asked commissioner James M. Fletcher.

"The biggest need now i for a year-round program and indoor facilities," answered Greenberg.

Mitchell suggested the parks department draw up a form questionaire to be sent to various organizations, so that information could be compiled in an orderly manner. He said he did not know how much the study would cost, but Engvall said he felt it could be handled by a secretary now employed.

The commission agreed to at least start the study.

Watts Divorce Suit Tentatively Set March 23

Hearing on a divorce suit filed by Mrs. Patricia A. Watts against Rae F. Watts, port director of San Francisco and resident of 377 Highland Avenue in San Rafael, has been tentatively set for March 23 in Superior Court.

Mrs. Watts alleged cruelty and said that she endured grievous mental suffering. Watts, 43, denied the allegations and asked that the action be dismissed.

They were married March 6, 1943, in Vancouver, B. C., Canada, and have a married daughter, Andrea. Mrs. Watts is asking "reasonable" sums for alimony, support and maintenance. Community property includes the family home on Highland Avenue, two automobiles and insurance policies, according to the suit.

Low driving visibility leads to high driving fatalities, warns the National Automobile Club. When the fog is dense, keep your speed low.

Hub Schools Social Studies Report Is Due

A report on the social studies curriculum from primary to eighth grades will highlight a meeting of the San Anselmo School District board at 8 p.m. Tuesday in Brookside School multi-use room.

Supt. Stephen L. Parodi and eight teachers will discuss the program and teaching techniques.

The board will continue talks on a request from the San Anselmo Parks and Recreation Commission for a $3,000 contribution to the city's recreation program.

Plans for summer school will be discussed. Classes will be held at Brookside and possibly at a second school, Parodi said. Summer school also may be extended to include second grade pupils.

Reports on the citizens committee drive for the April 14 bond and loan election and on construction of the Wade Thomas School addition also are on the agenda.

Scottsdale Water Service Discussed

Directors of the North Marin County Water District Tuesday night discussed water service to the proposed 1,500-apartment Scottsdale development south of Rowand Boulevard between South Novato Boulevard and Highway 101 in Novato.

"Until such time as the plans of Harry Heifetz and the other developers are more complete, we cannot know how we will get water service to the area," said Jerome B. Gilbert, district manager.

Tam Woman's Mail Thrown Into Creek

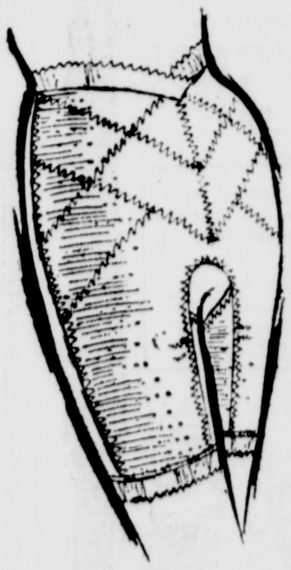

Somebody has been stealing letters out of the mailbox at 381 Shoreline Highway in Tamalpais Valley and tossing the mail into the creek, Mrs. Bonie E. Sanders reported to the sheriff Tuesday.

She operates Bonnie's Beauty Parlor at that address. Mrs. Sanders said the thefts have been taking place for the last two or three weeks.

READY FOR HORSE SHOW

Texas Woman Is Committed

DALLAS (AP) — A 47-year-old Fort Worth woman who shot at a man she thought was Gordon McLendon was committed to the mental hospital in Wichita Falls yesterday.

Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Stone, member of a wealthy Fort Worth family, was committed by County Judge Lew Sterrett.

The woman testified she shot at W. W. Dyer at Dallas' Love Field Feb. 19 because she "was sure it was Gordon McLendon."

McLendon is a Dallas radio station executive and U. S. Senate candidate.

Mrs. Stone said she believed McLendon was a member of an unnamed conspiracy which has been persecuting her.

Jim Myers Quartet To Play On TV

The Jim Myers Quartet, Novato High School students, will play on the Ben Alexander Show at 7 p.m. Saturday on television station KTVU (channel 2).

Members of the quartet are Phil Edwards, sax and flute; Jim Myers, drums; Bob Edwards, piano, and Robbie McBeath, bass.

'The Music Man' Opens At Redwood Tonight

Redwood High School's production of Meredith Willson's "The Music Man" will open at 8 p.m. today, with other performances tomorrow night and Saturday in the school's Little Theater.

Saturday performances will be a matinee at 1:30 p.m. and an evening performance. All three performances are already sold out, the school reported today.

Senior Scott Davi and junior Dean Davis will both perform in the leading role of Professor Harold Hill.

Davis will play the role on Friday night and Saturday afternoon; Davi will perform on opening night and Saturday night. Senior Janice Hantzsche will perform opposite Davi as Marian Paroo, the town librarian, and sophomore Nancy Norton opposite Davis.

Accompanying the singers are Pam Prince and Sue Jackson on the piano, Mrs. Frances Brodie on the organ, Gordon McDermott on the drums, and Jeff Thelan playing the string bass.

Other featured players are Airie van den Akker as Mayor Shinn, Carla Stone as his wife, Peter Esherick as Professor Hill's companion, Josette Sommers as Marian's mother, David Greenfield as her brother, Kris Pfluger as the mayor's daughter, Keith Mason as her boy friend and Jon Little, Mike Medina, Nick Kerry and Bill Griffin as the school board and barbershop quartet members.

Highway Tax Share Totals $66,747

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Marin County's share of highway user tax distributions in February was $66,747, State Controller Alan Cranston announced today.

Cranston reported $38,113,902 in highway user taxes was apportioned among the state, including $21,461,155 for expenditure on state highways; $7,956,936 to the counties; $3,542,273 to the state highway fund for cities, and $5,153,538 to the state highway fund for counties and cities.

Novato Candidates To Talk March 18

A public candidates' night for the seven candidates for Novato city council will be held at 8 p.m. on March 18 in the multi-use room of Olive School, sponsored by the Lu Sutton and Olive Parent-Teacher associations.

The program was announced jointly yesterday by Mrs. Arthur P. Crispell, president of the Olive P-TA, and Mrs. George W. Weiner, president of Lu Sutton P-TA.

Each candidate will be given time to present his platform. A question period will follow.

In Math Course

Three Tamalpais High School students have been chosen to attend a special course in higher mathematics at University of California to be held after school in Berkeley. They are juniors Richard Gilliam of Tamalpais Valley and Robert Clear of Sausalito, and sophomore Brian Garoutte of Mill Valley.

Vietnamese Girl Gives Some Insights Into Life In Saigon

By JEANNE DeWILDE
Redwood High School Student

The nine-year war in South Vietnam against communism has left thousands in cold graves, but has had little effect on the life of petite, 24-year-old Kim Dao of Saigon.

Miss Dao, who arrived in the United States last month, is attending Redwood High School and will go to college in California. She is living with Col. and Mrs. John Robb of 50 Seafirth Road, Belvedere, whom she met while they were stationed in Saigon.

"Most of the time during the war I dreamed of coming to the United States and studying English," Kim confessed.

"Most people in Saigon never knew about the riots and coups until they were over," Miss Dao said. "I never took part in any student demonstrations," she quickly added.

"The majority of the people liked Diem and his government, but it was Madame Nhu who we hated," stated Kim. The Vietnamese girl left before the recent coup by Khanh in Saigon.

Miss Dao had planned to come to the United States with her older brother, who is a major in the Vietnamese Army. Her brother was wounded by the Viet Cong in the second revolution. Because of the new change in government, he was unable to accompany his sister here.

At Redwood, Kim hopes to perfect her English so she can pass an English examination to enter college. She can read and write English well, but has difficulty in speaking.

Kim has had the equivalent of a year in college but because of her English she will enter college as a freshman next fall. She went to Gia Long High School, where she took such courses as algebra, physics, English, French, geography, and history.

"We had electives just like you do over here," she said. "But the classes were dull and strict compared to those at Redwood."

She called Redwood classes "very noisy," and said students in Vietnam "were never allowed to participate in class as they do here."

"Anybody who wants to learn English in South Vietnam goes to the Vietnamese-American Assn.," Miss Dao said. It has libraries, art exhibits, and organized discussions, plus classes in English. "Both adults and teen-agers go there," said Kim.

Kim is especially interested in philosophy, in which she took her second baccalaureate examination. She would like to work in an embassy in Saigon after she finishes her education, and have a hand in the U.S.-Vietnam diplomatic relations.

"The teen-agers are a lot less formal over here," murmured Kim. "And, of course, our parents were much stricter. Most girls were prohibited from smoking and drinking and were chaperoned wherever they went."

KIM DAO
From war to education

Kim has two brothers and six sisters. Her father is a retired accountant who worked for a loan company.

Like most American girls, Kim enjoys sports, swimming and table tennis being her favorites.

When asked about the reaction of the Vietnamese people to the assassination of President John F. Kennedy, Kim replied: "Everyone was very upset. They all liked him very much and consider him a hero. I cried."

Glenwood To Have Egg Hunt

Glenwood Homeowners Assn. will have its Easter egg hunt for approximately 200 children March 28, B. R. Rockwell, association president, reported today.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Daunt are co-chairmen of the event. Details will be announced later, Rockwell said.

Association directors are conducting the annual membership drive this month, he said.

Development of Victor Jones Park, which has been sought by the association is on the agenda of the San Rafael iCty Council meeting March 16, Rockwell said. Robert Bruce, who is representing the association in its push for park development, urged all Glenwood residents to turn out for the meeting.

Sawed-Off Rifle Found In 881 Club

San Rafael police investigating a complaint of a disturbance at the 881 Club, 881 Fourth Street, Tuesday night didn't make any arrests, but they confiscated a sawed-off .22 caliber rifle from a backroom table.

Officer David Jones asked five men gathered in the room if anyone of them owned the rifle. When no one answered, he took the weapon to headquarters. The men were ordered to disperse.

House Stripped Of Lighting Fixtures

Someone broke into a vacant house at 325 H Street during the past week and removed electrical wall sockets and light fixtures, San Rafael police reported yesterday.

Entry was made through a broken window. Marius J. Cordone, owner of Cordone Realty Co. of San Rafael, reported the break-in to police yesterday.

Christmas Tree Hill Dwellers To Elect

Christmas Tree Hill Dwellers Assn. will elect directors at its annual meeting Monday at 8 p.m. in Neil Cummins School, Corte Madera.

The association will also hear Mrs. Elizabeth Berryman of the Marin Conservation League tell of the need to purchase 87 acres of underwater lands off Corte Madera's bay shoreline.

TOP COLLEGIATE CAGER

Gary Bradds, 21-year-old Ohio State University basketball star, was named the 1964 college basketball player of the year yesterday by both the Associated Press and United Press International. The 6-8 senior averaged 30.5 points per game this year for the Buckeyes. A center, Bradds played his early days at Ohio State in the shadows of star Jerry Lucas, moving into the All-American spotlight last year. (AP Wirephoto)

Marichal Brings Wild Stories To Camp

CASA GRANDE, Ariz. (AP)—Juan Marichal, only half as late as last year, arrived at San Francisco Giants spring training yesterday complete with stories of death threats and transportation snafus.

Last year's 25-game winner is being counted on to be the Giants' top pitcher this year—and probably the next ten seasons as well.

In 1963 he was 22 days late arriving in camp because of a salary dispute but this time he was only 11 days behind.

"They gave me what I wanted and I'm happy with the money (about $40,000)," he said. "But the ticket they sent me to come here was for a very bad flight. I would have had to go bouncing all around, from Santo Domingo to Miami to Tampa to New Orleans to Tulsa and then to Phoenix.

"I went down and added my own money to get a plane to San Juan in Puerto Rico, Then we went to New York and then to San Francisco. I was ready to leave a few days ago, but for the last three days there's been a drivers' strike in the Dominican . . . if you drive your own car, the people throw stones at you."

The right-hander told of earlier troubles with the populace because he stopped pitching in the Dominican league Dec. 20.

"The fans said that if I had played the whole season, Escogido (his team) would have won (it finished second) . . .

"Everywhere I went people would shout at me and call me names."

He went to a game Jan. 17 as a spectator. "There were a whole bunch of guys all around me. They started shouting at me. Then they threatened they would kill me. We couldn't get out of there without policemen. There must have been 50 cops to get us out of the ball park."

Today Marichal will again don a uniform. But the pitchers in an intra-squad game were to be Jack Sanford, Bob Hendley and Jim Duffalo.

Manager Alvin Dark said Bob Bolin and Bob Garibaldi will follow Bob Shaw to the mound Saturday against Cleveland. Sanford, Hendley and Duffalo will oppose the Indians Sunday.

The Casa Grande grounds dried sufficiently from Monday night's rain to permit a full—though delayed—workout yesterday.

Warriors Vs. Hawks Tonight

The San Francisco Warriors are two games up with eight to go as they move into tonight's key clash with the St. Louis Hawks in the Cow Palace, 8:15.

Second-place St. Louis stayed in the race last night with a dogged 110-105 decision at Los Angeles.

The Hawks handled San Francisco Monday night without flu-ridden veteran forward Cliff Hagan, who is expected to return to action tonight.

But the Warriors will have to go tonight again without the services of rebounding ace Nate Thurmond, who is still hobbled by a groin injury. Thurmond has grabbed 684 rebounds this season while playing only about half of each game and his absence hurts San Francisco's board strength considerably.

San Francisco also is minus starting guard Gary Phillips for the balance of the season because of torn ligaments.

Bulldogs Start Tourney Action

San Rafael High School was to start play today in the Camellia City basketball tourney in Sacramento against Stagg High School of Stockton, tipoff scheduled for 5 p.m.

If the Bulldogs win, they will play tomorrow night at 9:30 against the winner of the Rio Linda-Orland game. If they lose, they will play the losers of that game at 6:30 p.m. tomorrow. The tourney is being held at Sacramento High School.

NOVATO OPENS CAGE TOURNEY TOMORROW

Novato High School's basketballers will start play in the 18th annual Fall River cage tournament tomorrow at 2:15 p.m. at Fall River High School in McArthur, near Redding, in Shasta County.

Opposing the Hornets from Novato will be Trinity High School of Weaverville. The tourney will open at 1 p.m. with host Fall River opposing Burbank of Sacramento. Then at 3:30, Hurlong will play Modoc of Alturas, followed at 4:45 by a game between Big Valley of Beiber and Mira Monte of Orinda.

If Novato wins its opening game, the Hornets will play the winner of the Fall River-Burbank kame at 8:30 tomorrow night. The tourney championship game will be Saturday night. If Novato loses the opener, it will play two consolation games Saturday.

REASONS FOR UCLA SUCCESS

Wooden Gives All Credit To Players

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The basketball world has wondered week after week what kept UCLA undefeated, and John Wooden, coach of the nation's top-rated team, is just as surprised as any of the experts.

UCLA for the ninth straight week ranks as the top team in the United Press International's major college ratings on the strength of a 25-0 record.

Wooden has never had a losing season as a coach, but he said today that this team has performed beyond his wildest expectations. He gives the credit to the players.

"This is a very unselfish team," he says, "which accounts partially for its success. And it has a leader in Walt Hazzard, who sets the example for the rest of the team."

Asked to pick the turning point in UCLA's greatest season, Wooden says it came early in the season over a three-week period when the Bruins' success made the team jell. He said:

"I would have to say it all started when we invaded the middlewest and defeated Kansas State and Kansas on the trip. The following week we beat Creighton handily and then went into the Los Angeles Basketball Classic in which Michigan was picked as the team to beat."

UCLA astounded basketball experts by beating the powerful Michigan team 98-80, and Wooden says that victory coming on top of the successes leading up to the tournament gave his team the confidence it needed.

"In most cases where a team has a lengthy winning streak it has been because it had one outstanding 'big man' around whom its game could be built," Wooden pointed out.

"But the personnel we had was ideally suited for the type of game I like best—the fast break, the full court press."

Wooden points out that UCLA has had its stars in Hazzard and Gail Goodrich but their efforts alone would not have been enough. It took the efforts of Jack Hirsch, Keith Erickson and Fred Slaughter along with the bench players to keep the Bruins undefeated thus far.

"I truly feel they have worn success well," he adds. "They have accepted it modestly and realize they are no better than their next game. If we should get beaten, they will take it with good grace and continue doing their best. That's why I think this is a wonderful team, and they are all wonderful boys—for we must not forget they still are undergraduates who have other responsibilities besides playing basketball."

Wooden says he judges a team by how well it plays up to its capability, and he says this squad is as close to reaching its potential as any he has ever coached.

"That gives me a lot of satisfaction," he says, "because I know the players are striving to play their best at all times and are spurred on by their pride."

Plush Seats For L.A. Coliseum

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Coliseum commission has awarded a contract for the installation of 42,841 theater-type seats in the Los Angeles Coliseum.

Installation of the seats is called for in the new contract with the Los Angeles Rams of the National Football League.

The California Museum of Science and Industry yesterday voted to support the Rams contract after the Board of Supervisors had approved it.

Construction Of New Golf Course Starts Next Month

PEBBLE BEACH (UPI)—Construction will start next month on Pebble Beach Pines, which backers hope will become one of the world's greatest golf courses.

The layout will be designed by master golf architect Robert Trent Jones and will be set along the sand dunes and through the pines of Del Monte Forest.

"We think this will be a combination, without copying the holes, of Pine Valley in New Jersey and Augusta National in Georgia," Jones said yesterday.

Construction on the course is expected to be completed next year. Length will be around 7,190 yards and there will be six of the water holes for which the Pebble Beach area is already world famous. The greens will be of the mammoth European variety—averaging between 6,500 and 9,000 square feet each. That's two to three times the standard green.

One of the course's many unique features will be an underground cable which will permit television or telephone communication from any or all holes on the course.

Kentucky Raises Racing Purses

The state racing commission has raised the minimum purse to $1,100 and said it prefers an average of not less than $1,350 if parimutel handle permits. The old minimum was $1,000.

Women's PGA Tour Will Start March 19

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP) — The Ladies' Professional Golf Association tour this year will begin at the Scenic Hills Country Club here on March 19.

Following the four-day event the gal golfers will have an open week after which will follow the St. Petersburg Women's Open, April 2-5.

Wild Ducks Film

Dr. Victor L. Loosanoff, senior scientist at the Bureau of Commercial Fisheries, Tiburon, will show a film and give a talk on raising wild ducks as a hobby at the 8 p.m. meeting tomorrow of the Marin Audubon Society in Room 40, Chemistry Building, College of Marin, Kentfield.

Eureka Teacher Is Hard To Beat

EUREKA (UPI)—High school teacher Robert Wright of Eureka isn't the type to let one of his students get out of hand.

Wright was playing golf with 16-year-old James Guy and his father yesterday when the youngster whacked a nine-iron shot for a hole-in-one on the 119-yard fourth hole at Bayside course.

Expert Informs Boaters On That Terrible Threat Of Fire Aboard

We recently talked to Perry Johnson who represents the Underwriters Equipment Co., selling and servicing fire extinguishers. "Stop a minute," we begged, "how about some information for the boater on the subject of fire aboard?

"Sure will," he agreed. "If a fire starts, a fire extinguisher can be the most valuable possession aboard. If it's the right type, that is — and if it WORKS! There's an old saying that fire is a fine servant, but a terrible master. This is especially true in a boat, because, as one customer told me, 'There's no place to get out and walk.'

'In order for a fire to burn, it must have three essentials: Fuel, heat and oxygen," explained Perry, and then adding something considerably interesting. "All techniques of fire control are directed toward removing one or more of these essentials.

"For simplicity, fires are classified under three general classes—A, B and C. Class A refers to fire in wood, paper, trash, rubber and other general combustibles, accounting for approximately 95 per cent of all fires. Cooling (heat control) is the best method of fighting this type fire. Class B fires are those in flammable liquids such as oil, gas, paint, tar, etc. The smothering (oxygen control) method is usually most effective in this case."

"ARE THERE any other possible sources of fire on a boat?" we queried. And according to Perry, Class C had possibilities, too. This involved electrical wiring apparatus or equipment. "What's best for this?—Water?" we asked.

His quick "No" made it plain this wasn't a bright guess. "Water or foam (water based) extinguishers should not be used on a fire of this kind, because water is a conductor and could cause serious injury or death to the person using the equipment. Smothering (oxygen control) is best for combating a fire of this nature."

HE EXPLAINED there are basically only five types of extinguishers: Vaporizing liquid or carbon tetrachloride, water, foam, CO-2 and dry chemical powder. Most people are aware that the familiar "carbon tet" extinguisher has been found to be toxic under certain conditions, and is no longer permitted on inspected vessels.

The next type, water extinguishers, takes many shapes and forms. The common soda and acid is one. All water extinguishers take away the essential heat from a fire by cooling. For use on Class A fires only.

The foam extinguisher is one of the most versatile, but also the messiest. When inverted, a chemical reaction takes place which produces yellow foam. Heat is removed by cooling, and oxygen is shut off by the foam layer. Use on Class A and B fires only.

MOST VETERANS are acquainted with the CO-2 extinguisher — a favorite with the armed services for years. When the valve is opened, an inert gas is expelled which smothers (oxygen control) the fire. Safe for Class B and C fires. May also be effective on small Class A fires.

The fifth type of extinguisher, dry chemical powder, does the same job as the CO-2. A layer of powder is forced out of the extinguisher by compressed air, and cuts off the fire's oxygen supply.

THE OTHER if: Will your extinguisher WORK? An annual inspection by a licensed firm is cheap insurance, and is required by law.

"How about giving a few examples of false protection, where fire protective equipment is inoperative," we requested.

"For example, yellow jackets had built a mud nest inside the nozzle of a dry chemical extinguisher that I examined," he said. "At best, only a portion of the powder would have been expelled onto the fire. And there was that machinery firm in Petaluma that didn't know its extinguisher had been already used, until I lifted it off the wall bracket."

CONFIRMS TEST RUMOR?

Cassius Will Tour

NEW YORK (AP) — Cassius Clay says he plans on taking a world tour in a month or two and may be gone for a year.

This would seem to confirm a report that the newly crowned heavyweight champion had flunked an Army pre-induction psychological test. It also indicated that Sonny Liston may have to wait a long time for another shot at his conqueror.

Clay said yesterday that he had taken the Army test at Coral Gables, Fla., Jan. 24, but denied any knowledge of the outcome.

"I know nothing about that," he said when asked about a report from Louisville that he had failed the exam.

The Defense Department said that the results of the examinations are being "administratively processed in Washington."

Clay made the statement about his tour on a visit to the United Nations headquarters. He said he would fight some exhibitions on the trip.

Soft spoken and on his best behavior, the 22-year-old Louisville boxer wowed the diplomats and the common folk at the UN with his deportment and enthusiasm.

"I love to meet all the people from all over the world," said Clay in explaining why he came to the UN.

Now that he is champion he said his main goal is "to see that 20 million Negroes have freedom, justice and equality in the United States."

Clay, conservatively attired in a black suit, white shirt and black tie, remained at the UN for two hours and had coffee in the delegates' lounge.

He said he planned to visit Ghana, Nigeria, Egypt, Turkey, Pakistan, Rome, and the Moslem holy city of Mecca in Saudi Arabia. Clay has adopted the Islam religion.

S.F. Team Moves Into 4th In ABC Tourney

OAKLAND (AP) — Addo-X Adding Machines of San Francisco took fourth place in the regular division at the American Bowling Congress Tournament yesterday with 2,942, the best score the team has ever shot.

The 915 average team rolled games of 942, 1,038 and 962. Its best score before last night was a 2,860 league series.

Bob Johnson, 26, a bowling center manager, and Don Melteni, 30, a personnel worker, tied for scoring honors with 622.

All-Coast-Vancouver of Seattle, Wash., dominated the regular 5-man standings with a 3,055 total composed Sunday.

Earl Widman of St. Louis moved into fourth place in the classic singles with a 639 series. The 38-year-old motorcycle shop owner rolled games of 225, 180 and 234 but fell far short of overtaking George Fleischhacker of Phoenix, Ariz., who totaled 668 Sunday.

Oiseth and Shea, neither of whom had ever competed in an ABC, were substitutes for two bowlers from Brockton, Mass., who canceled out.

Pat and Tony Russo lead the doubles with a huge 1,343 series they assembled Sunday.

Because of a local junior bowling competition which is being run on the tournament lanes, action in the ABC will be abbreviated today.

Sledge Wins At Santa Anita

ARCADIA, Calif. (AP)—Sledge rallied in the stretch and pounded to a close victory over Mustard Plaster in the $22,100 Sierre Madre Handicap at Santa Anita Park.

It was the second win of the season for Sledge, who sprinted the 6½ furlongs yesterday in 1:13 3-5.

Sledge paid $5.80, $3.40 and $2.60, Mustard Plaster $6.60 and $3.40 and Double Lea $2.40.

Record Payoff For Cotton Bowl Teams

DALLAS (AP) — Texas and Navy each will receive a check for $203,688.90 for playing in the Cotton Bowl—a record for the Jan. 1 post-season football game here.

Thater's 631 Series Leads Bowlers At Country Club

Bill Thater rolled a 631 series that included games of 245 and 221 during the Adult-Junior League to headline the league bowling for the past week at Country Club Bowl.

Close behind was Frank Therriault of the Twilight Twirlers League with a 626 set topped by a 234 game. Mike Weddell of the 900 Clasic had a 222-215—623 recording. Thater's 245 line was also the high individual effort of the week. One pin behind were Clark Carlson and Bud Kimmell, each with 244 games.

Joan Talamantez of the Las Vegas Mixed Fours League had the high series for the women, a 578 highlighted by a 215 game. Donna Rotary of the Morning Glories had a 568 set and 228 game.

Shirl Campanella topped individual scores among the women for the week of league action with a big 233 game in the Guys and Dolls League.

Kindergarten For Salmon; Shakers Galore But Keepers Are Scarce

STEVENS

It would seem that the Santa Cruz-Monterey Bay Area is temporarily playing the role of kindergarten for salmon. From the Stagnaros comes word that, "Shakers galore but keepers scarce. The troller, Old Tom, combed through 60 fish for four persons with only four fish of legal size. Where, oh where are the big ones?" Well, cheer up, there's bound to be a run of "big ones" in the not far distance.

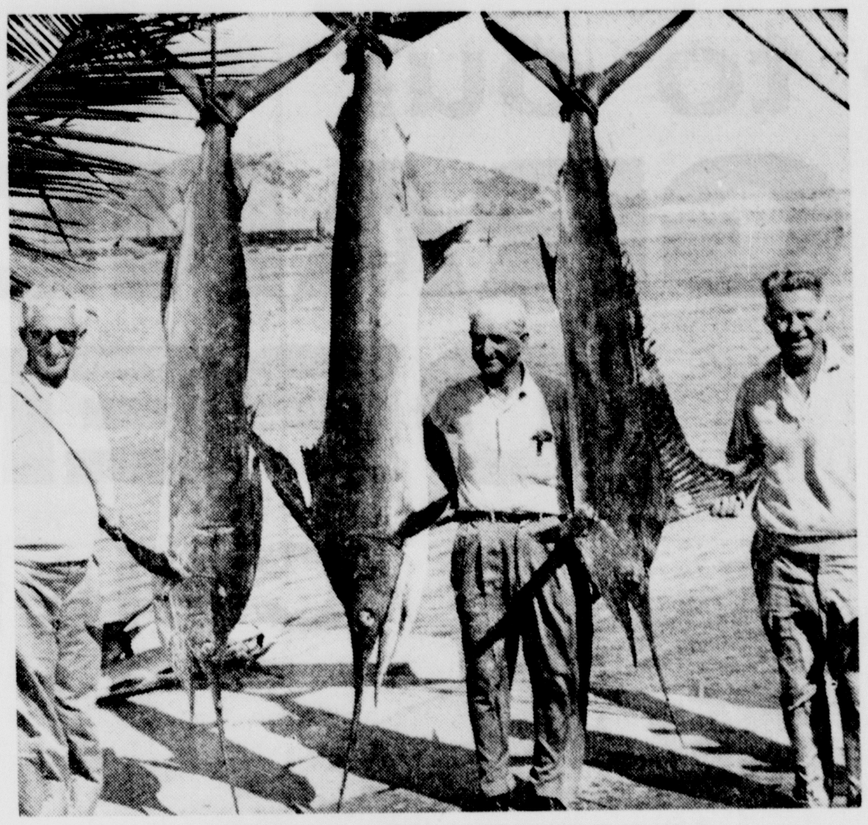

Not much doing in the local areas, either, for that matter, and again, it's bound to be only a temporary slump. A change of weather can bring the fast action of a couple weeks ago back with us.

At least one fishing femme was successful recently. According to the report of Audrey Payne of the San Lorenzo Bait shop, Florence Olson fished the river outside of Redding and hooked, played and landed a nice 24-pound salmon.

IN THE foreground of the striped bass picture appears a pair of Berkeley boys, Mas Takano and Larry Tsuvuki. Mas limited with bass to 27 pounds in the Suisun Bay on Sunday. Larry's limit ran to 24 pounds on the same day in the same area. Bullheads were used for bait. Hal Boenner of Lee Anderson's bait shop, who reported the above, also informed that the new skipper of the Sea Bee, Bill Dillon, with two lone passengers trolled off Duxbury Reef and docked with four salmon to 18 pounds.

ACROSS THE upper San Pablo Bay, Joe Nerviani of Joe's Launching at Santa Venetia bewailed the wild water and few fishermen, but reported two boats went out on Monday and came in with 10 very fine bass from 10 to 18 pounds, caught on bullheads on the Pump House side of the bay. Joe insists there are still plenty of fish in the San Pablo. I agree!

CARL BENNETT of the Rodeo Marina reported last Saturday and Friday good fishing with close to an average of two fish per rod. Sunday the bad weather slowed fishing down, but a Berkeley lad, Fred Murakoka, was back in port with a limit of bass from 15 to 18 pounds by 8 a.m. And Hi Okagi of Alameda displayed a nice 25-pound striper he hauled in from the Buoy 8 sector. Bob Criss and Don Wells of Castro Valley fished the Rodeo area on Friday and boated five bass from 8 to 16 pounds on sardine baits. Incidentally, the 29th sturgeon of the season was brought into the Rodeo Marina.

MARIN ANGLERS STRIKE IT RICH

John J. Ongaro of Belvedere, Ernest Ongaro of San Anselmo and Les Walsh of San Rafael (left to right) proudly pose with the Marlin they caught on a recent deep sea fishing excursion out of Matzalan, Mexico. The largest fish was caught by Ernest Ongaro; it measured 9 feet 6 inches and weighed about 165 pounds. The three men and their wives also travelled throughout Mexico on their vacation.

BOTH CARL Bennett and Joe Nerviani remarked that the fish taken appear to be fresh runners. So, it's something to look forward to, eh?

Audrey Payne of the San Lorenzo Bait, called to report a mixed bag of fish, to-wit: A. Hyttinen had 11 pounds, 2 ounces of cat fish from Salmon Slough; Curtis Turk and party sacked 36 cats using clams as bait; Louie Amaral and Ted Young took 40 cats from Whiskey Slough; Tony Centoni took a 12½ and a 17½ pound striper from the Rodeo area; Don Titus wound up the steelhead season by landing a seven pounder in the Russian River, and, on Saturday, Tony Barness Sr. took a 15-pound striper while Tony Barness Jr., settled for a 12-pounder. Last on the list was the stunt of Tito Leopoldo who fished with sardines (frozen) and took a limit of bass to 11 pounds in the Crockett area. Oh, yes. Still another report from Audrey. Tony Centoni and Tom Yamamoto boated limits from 8 to 13 pounds out of Rodeo on Bullheads.

Coast Bowl Finals At Nave Lanes

Nave Lanes of Ignacio today announced it will again participate in the third annual Gold Coast Classic, a singles handicap tournament for men and women, starting Saturday, March 14 and continuing for 12 weeks.

The North Marin bowling establishment also has been selected to co-host the Gold Classic's grand finals at the climax of the tournament on June 6-7. The other host for the grand finals will be Westlake Bowl, San Francisco, on the same dates.

The tournament is open to members of the American Bowling Congress and Women's International Bowling Congress. Entry fee is $5 per three-game series, which includes the cost of bowling.

TWO DIVISIONS

The tournament qualifying round starts March 14 with competition for bowlers in two handicap divisions — an average of 164 and below and 165 and above.

Nave Lanes will host the lower division grand finals and Westlake Bowl the upper division finals.

Approximately 25 bowling establishments in California, Oregon, Nevada and Utah will participate in the tournament, according to Jack Cooper, spokesman for Nave Lanes. Each participating house will send approximately 30 qualifiers to the grand finals, he said.

NotreDame and the Air Force Academy will play their first football game at Colorado Springs, Colo., next Oct. 10.

Blessed Sacrament Wins Cage League

Blessed Sacrament, with a 7-0 record, won the elementary basketball league sponsored by the San Rafael Recreation Department. The Stuffers team won the frosh-soph division of the High School League with a 4-1 mark, and Rafael's Five won the junior-senior division with a 6-0 mark.

Final standings:

Elementary League — Blessed Sacrament, 7-0; Gallinas, 5-2; Hartzell, 5-2; Bernard Hoffman, 3-4; Don Timoteo, 3-4; Mary Silviera, 2-5; Santa Margarita, 2-5; Lucas Valley, 0-7.

Frosh-Soph High School—Stuffers, 4-1; Terra Linda, 3-2; Speedburners, 2-3; Cats, 1-4.

Junior-Senior High School—Rafael's Five, 6-0; MarVel A.C., 3-3; Ahern's Five, 3-3; Levinson's Five, 2-4; Rubenstein's Five, 1-5.

Hayley Mills Decries Rapid Growth Of U.S. Teen-Agers

By GAY PAULEY

NEW YORK (UPI)—If society is determined to put the label "teen-ager" on the young set, then why should there not also be "middleager" and "old-ager"?

Hayley Mills, the British actress who fits the teen billing, suggests the other age brackets.

"I don't particularly dislike being called a teen-ager," she said. "But in the minds of a lot of people, it's become a synonym for delinquency, hasn't it? Something improper gets done and people say, 'Oh, those teen-agers again.' "

"I just think," she said, "we ought to leave something to look forward to. Mink coats and night clubs now. I think it's a shame our childhood and youth are taken so rapidly." Miss Mills wore a sheared goatskin coat, not mink.

It would be difficult for a 17-year-old girl who will be 18 in April to remain unsophisticated with the background Hayley Mills has. But in appearance very little varnish has been added since she became a star. Her only makeup was a pale lipstick. Not a lock of shiny, shoulder-length hair was teased or glued into place with spray.

Her conversation, which flowed freely, indicated a girl remarkably unspoiled by the success that since she was 12 has found her in seven motion pictures. She holds a dozen or more awards and citations for her acting including a special Oscar from Hollywood.

HAYLEY MILLS

Miss Mills has just finished "The Chalk Garden" in which she stars with Deborah Kerr, Dame Edith Evans, and her father, John Mills, who accompanied her to New York where the picture will open first.

The young actress finds American youth rushing into adulthood faster than the British and believes the English tendency to let the young make their "individual" decisions is a factor.

"In London, if we want to have a cocktail, it's perfectly all right," she said. "Here, you have to be 21 to be served." (18 in some states.) So the minute you come of age, bang, you celebrate."

"I don't smoke," she said. "I've tried smoking of course. It was in finishing school. But when no one fell out the window about it, I quit. I did find it rather revolting."

"And I must say! Getting married at 17. Marriage means such responsibility, such unselfishness. How many of us are unselfish enough at 17 to make a go of it?"

MARIN'S SOCIAL WHIRL

Many Parties Will Precede Cotillion's Dance Saturday

By FLORENCE DONNELLY

Many parties will precede the spring dance of Marin Cotillion Saturday night at the Meadow Club. Before it Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Harshbarger of Corte Madera will give a cocktail party. Their guests will be Messrs. and Mesdames David Harshbarger, Maurice Harshbarger, Paul Nagel, Harry Kostering, Alfred Fedotieff, N. E. Springsteen, William Roed, Joseph Ryan, Serge Shalagin, Eugene Osloff, Kenneth Landage, Serge Umphenour, Carl Nilsen and Miss Helen Zelinski.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Clark of San Rafael will serve cocktails and hors d'oeuvres to Messrs. and Mesdames Willard O. Hall, John Clancy, Albert Chiaroni, John Sais, Urban Morf, Stanley Trenam and Herbert Austin.

Attending the cocktail party of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Underwood of San Rafael before the dance will be Messrs. and Mesdames Joseph Navas, Carl Sandahl, Anthony Ricci, Ralph Findley, Samuel Levin, Carl Nilsen, K. C. Thompson, Lou Aquilino, Harold Freitas, Robert Siegler, George Dykes, Joseph Bell and John Wollak.

Mr. and Mrs. Angelo Filipelli are entertaining at a pre-dance party at their Greenbrae home. Their guests will be Messrs. and Mesdames Walter J. Tait, Robert M. Clark, John Lewis, Ray Eubanks, M. Joseph Lamperti, Albin Dittli, William Farrelly, David Michaels, John Carbone, John Pleich, Percy Smith, George V. Cooley, Robert Kimball, Fred Tegeler, Igor Lobanov, Peter Sternad and Douglas Vaughn.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Munter of San Rafael have returned from a delightful vacation in Baja (Lower) California, which, you know, belongs to Mexico. They flew to La Paz and their hotel room there gave them a wonderful view of the harbor and the ships unloading and taking on cargo. La Paz, which has more than 13,000 population, has retained its natural charm. Few tourists go there because the roads are bad and the best mediums of transportation are planes or ships.

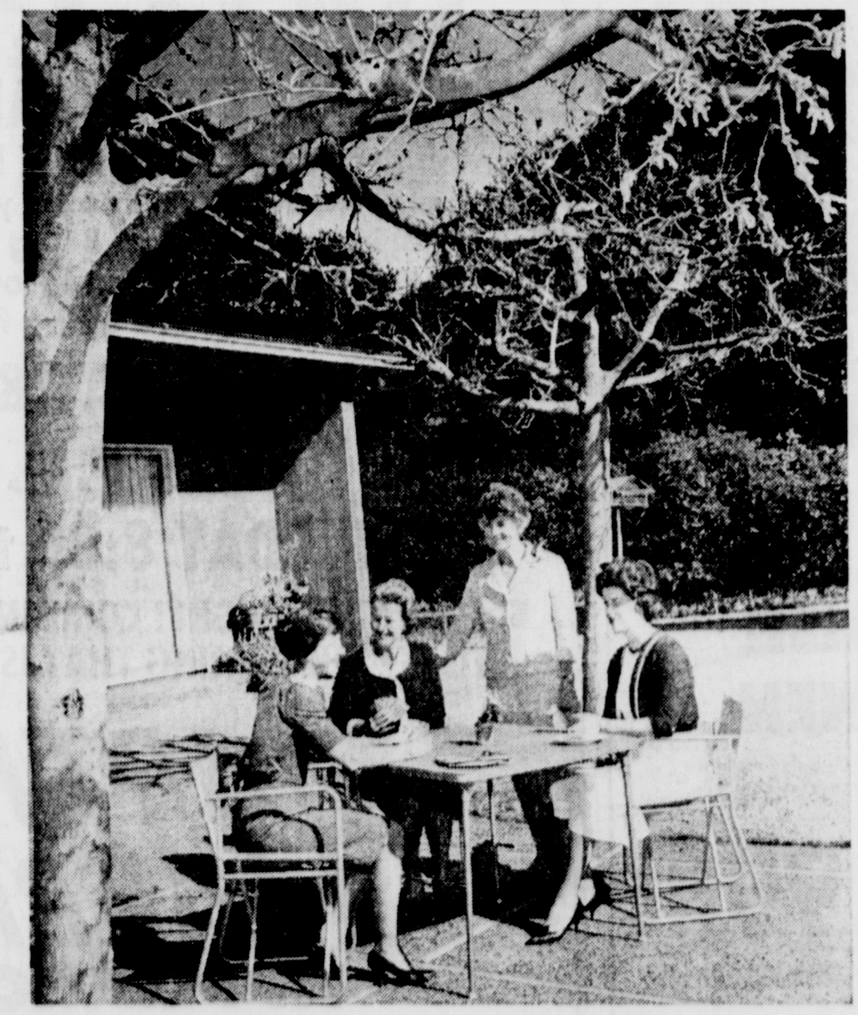

Mrs. Munter told me the people were happy and looked well and healthy although their clothing is often ragged. There are no tourist attractions other than the town itself. Mrs. Munter and Bob were entertained aboard two luxury yachts which came into port while they were there. One of the yachts had been owned by the late Dick Powell. The Munters went deep sea fishing, but it was too early in the year to hook the marlins. However, they did catch many smaller fish. One of these they had cooked at their hotel. The town has only about 200 telephones so there was no jingle of bells to arouse people from their siestas.

MR. AND MRS. JOHN C. FIELD of San Rafael sail March 9 on the Lurline for a vacation in Hawaii. This will be celebration of their tenth wedding anniversary.

MR. AND MRS. Clarence A. DeLong have returned from several weeks in the south. They went to Phoenix, Arizona, where the weather was cold, then to Scottsdale and on to Palm Springs.

DR. AND MRS. L. HENRY GARLAND entertained at a party recently at their San Rafael home honoring their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Reeves (Sheila Garland). Earl and Sheila leave soon to make their home in Tucson, Ariz. They recently returned from a holiday at Sun Valley where they had many hours on the ski slopes.

MRS. DALE CONRAD, formerly of Belvedere, who has been living in San Francisco, has taken a house in Palm Springs and will stay there until school is out in June. Dale and her children, whose father is Barnaby Conrad, will stay only for the summer in San Francisco and will return to Palm Springs in the fall.

ALPHA PHI GATHERING

Penelope Prichard Bride In St. James Church Ceremony

At Tuesday evening nuptials at St. James Episcopal Church in San Francisco, Penelope Lynne Prichard became the bride of Michael Ross Somers of Corte Madera, the Rev. Max Christensen officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lynn R. Prichard of Sleepy Hollow. Given in marriage by her father, Penny recited her vows wearing a white Chantilly lace and satin gown with a lace shoulder train.

Charlette Hassett of San Francisco was maid of honor and the other attendants were Roxana Young, Sykes-Adell Creamer, Karen Colyear and Marcia Johnson, the bride's cousin, and junior bridesmaids were Jeanne Marie DeMille, the bridegroom's half-sister, and Kelly Hendricks. They wore full length dresses of peony crepe and the junior attendants wore white chiffon over pink taffeta dresses.

Best man for the bridegroom, whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. Jack DeMille of Corte Madera, was Mike Cavanagh of Manhattan, Kan. Ushering were the bride's brother, John A. Prichard of Sleepy Hollow, Darrell Creamer of Greenbrae, Dennis Johnson of Mill Valley, Terry Knebone of Walla Walla, Wash. and Christopher Pray of San Francisco.

A reception followed the ceremony at Presidio Golf Club. After a wedding trip to Heritage House in Northern California, the couple will live in San Anselmo.

The bride attended the Overseas School of Rome and Katherine Delmar Burke School in San Francisco, the College of Marin and San Francisco State College. She is the granddaughter of Mrs. Florence Prichard of Mill Valley and the late Mr. and Mrs. Charles P. Henderson of Berkeley.

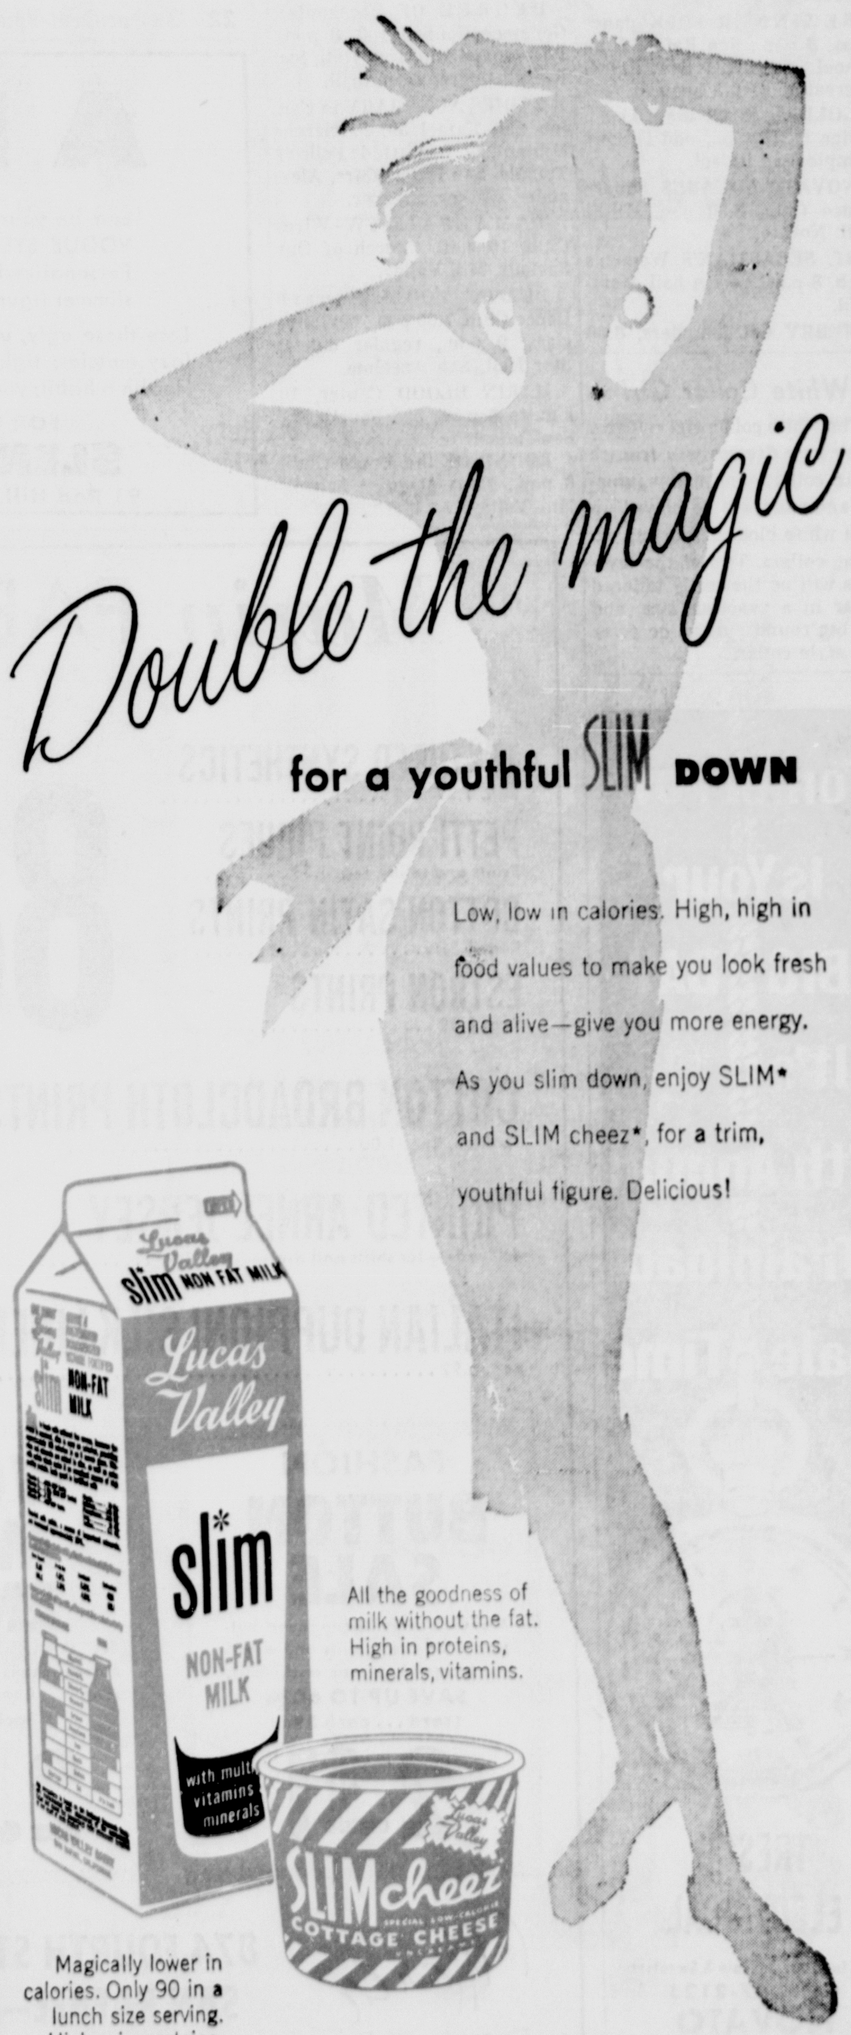

The bridegroom attended Redwood High School, Whitman College and the College of Marin and is employed by Wards.

Welcome Wagon To Hear Talk By Virginia Keating

Mrs. Richard (Virginia) Keating, Marin County librarian, will be guest speaker at the Tuesday meeting of the Welcome Wagon Club.

The luncheon will be held at noon in the Woodlands Restaurant, Kentfield. A punch party at 11 o'clock in the Corte Madera home of Mrs. Richard Berryman will precede the luncheon.

BLACK POINT CLUB PARTY

President Mrs. William Wagner oversees the tables of bridge during the Black Point Women's Club card party yesterday to benefit the Black Point Improvement Club building fund. The Byron McDonald home was the setting of the gathering for which Mesdames D. D. Stoner, Joe Kniser and Franklin Miller were chairmen.

Lagunitas P-TA Will Hear Sonoma's Dean Of Students

Dr. Alvin Marks, dean of students at Sonoma State College, will be guest speaker at the Lagunitas School Parent-Teacher Assn. meeting on Tuesday.

The speaker will discuss "Teen-Age Values — Whose Are They?", analyzing the basic factors which influence the moral standards of today's children and young adults and the effect of today's fast-changing world on the values of yesteryear.

Dr. Marks, who received his Ph. D. in psychology from University of Southern California, has worked with and observed young people as an educator, a psychologist and as an officer in the Marine Reserve. Prior to moving to Greenbrae and helping to establish the new Sonoma State College at Cotati, he was affiliated with USC and Los Angeles State College as an educator, administrator and psychologist with special interest in counseling and testing.

Preceding the meeting, which will be held in the Lagunitas School multi-purpose room, dessert and coffee will be served from 7:30 to 8 p.m.

Book Fair For Terra Linda

A three-day book fair will be coming to Don Timoteo Elementary School, Terra Linda, March 10 to 12, sponsored by the Parent-Teacher Assn.

The fair will be conducted in the school library 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. daily and 7 to 9 p.m. on Wednesday and Thursday evenings. Proceeds are to be used for future library and science projects.

Sample books for children of all ages will be featured. Staffing the book tables and taking orders will be library aide mothers and other volunteers. Parents are invited to come in and browse at any time or join their children during their scheduled library sessions. All parents of preschool and school-age children are invited.

POLKA-DOTS?

New Lipstick Will Combine Color Mixes All In One Tube

Ha, you sneer. But don't.

This is the newest development in cosmetics — a lipstick that combines, marble-fashion, red, yellow, orange and other color mixes all in one tube.

The development that permits the manufacture of the two and three-colored lipsticks might, in time, be used to produce lipstick that rolls on plaid, striped or dotted — depending on how a damsel wants to decorate her lips to coordinate with her costume.

Samuel Kalish, a cosmetic firm executive, said the lipsticks combining more than one color will give lip coloring more intensity.

"The lips won't light up like a neon sign," he said. "They won't pulsate. But they certainly will be much more attention-getting."

Kalish said he got the idea of using more than one color from art.

"Something appealing happens," he said, "when an artist puts down some yellow and then rolls red over it. We're achieving the same beauty with the new lipstick."

MAUREEN O'NEIL

Maureen O'Neil To Wed April 5

The engagement of Maureen Ann O'Neil, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Menjou of Sleepy Hollow, to Robert Glen Lezzeni of Fairfax has been announced.

The bride-elect was graduated from Sir Francis Drake High School and is employed in Kentfield.

The future bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Lezzeni Jr. of Fairfax and the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. John Lezzeni, also of Fairfax. A Drake High School graduate, he is employed by H. S. Meinberger Builders and Developers.

The couple plans a wedding April 5, and will live in Larkspur.

Riding Club Honors Prossers' Daughter

The baby is Tania Elise Prosser, first child of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Prosser. Tania, who received many gifts, was born on Feb. 3.

Members of the Tennessee Valley Riders who gave the party were Pam Helling, Peggy Steinhoff, Cookie and Harriet Humphrey, Keven Seaver, Sarah and Jenny Oppenheim, Cindy Stuart, Laurel and Linda Graver, Jenny Pratt, Saralyn Almada, Jo Anna Powers, Lennie Strikker and the hostess, Diana Lopes.

ORDINANCE NO. 793

AN ORDINANCE OF THE CITY OF SAN RAFAEL PROVIDING FOR THE LICENSING, CONFINEMENT, INNOCULATION, IMPOUNDING AND CONTROL OF ANIMALS WITHIN SAID CITY, AND REPEALING ALL CONFLICTING ORDINANCES.

The City Council of the City of San Rafael does ordain as follows:

SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE. This ordinance shall be known and may be referred to in all proceedings as "The Animal Control Ordinance".

SECTION 2. DEFINITION OF TERMS. For the purposes of this ordinance, the following words and phrases are defined and shall be construed as hereinafter set out unless it shall be apparent from the context that a different meaning is intended.

(a) "Dog" means any animal of the canine family.
(b) "Owner" means any person who owns, keeps or harbors an animal for fifteen or more consecutive days except a veterinarian or an operator of a kennel or a pet shop engaged in the regular practice of his business as such.
(c) "Dog License" means the license required to be annually issued for each individual dog.
(d) "Licensed Dog" means any dog for which the license for the current year has been issued and to which the tag provided for in this ordinance is properly attached.
(e) "City" means the City of San Rafael.
(f) "Commercial Animal Establishment" means any premises whereon or wherein is carried on a business of buying, selling, bartering, renting or boarding of dogs, cats, or other animals, wild or domestic, or fowl; provided that this definition shall not apply to the buying or selling of livestock for dairy purposes, nor to dairy establishments, the business activities of a duly licensed veterinary hospital, nor to the business or activities of the Humane Society of Marin County.

SECTION 3. LICENSE REQUIREMENTS. Every owner of a dog which is over the age of four months and which is kept in the city shall procure a license for each such dog. Such license shall be procured within thirty (30) days after the day upon which the dog is four months old, or within thirty (30) days after the day upon which the dog, if over the age of four months, is first owned by a resident of the City, and thereafter, shall be maintained on a current basis from year to year.

SECTION 3.1 RABIES VACCINATION. Whenever the laws of this state require vaccination of dogs against rabies, no license shall be issued for any dog required to be vaccinated until the issuing authority is given satisfactory written evidence of compliance with such law. Provided, however, that whenever state law does not require the vaccination of dogs against rabies, a license may be issued for any dog without evidence of rabies vaccination.

SECTION 3.2 CONFINING OF DOGS UNDER THE AGE OF FOUR MONTHS AND RABIES QUARANTINE. Unlicensed dogs under the age of four months shall be confined to the property of the owner and all dogs shall be so confined for thirty (30) days after receiving the initial rabies vaccination. If any person shall fail or refuse to obey any lawful order for the quarantine of an animal for observation of rabies, any Animal Control Officer may impound the animal for such quarantine at the expense of the owner at the redemption rate set forth in Section 4.4.

SECTION 3.3. LICENSE FEE. A dog license fee of $4.00 per year is hereby imposed. The said fee is due and payable with the issuance of a license as required in Section 3 hereof. The fee shall be for licensing during the fiscal year and shall not be prorated.

SECTION 3.4. LICENSE PENALTY. Any owner failing to procure and pay for such license within the period allowed in Section 3 hereof shall pay a delinquent penalty for such failure in the sum of One Dollar ($1.00). Such delinquent penalty shall be in addition to the regular license fee and shall be paid at the time of issuance of the license.

SECTION 3.5. DUPLICATE LICENSE TAGS. If a license tag is lost, the owner may secure a duplicate license tag upon presentation of satisfactory proof of such loss, and payment of a fee of fifty cents.

SECTION 3.6. DISPLAY OF LICENSE TAGS. The license tag issued to the owner upon securing of a license shall be attached securely to a collar or harness or other suitable device on the dog for which issued at all times that the dog is in the city and not confined indoors or in an enclosed yard or pen. The license certificate and tag shall be shown by the owner or person in control of the dog at any time upon demand by the Animal Control Officer or his deputies.

SECTION 3.7. EXCEPTIONS. Any dog owned and used by a blind person as a guide dog is exempt from the license fee while so owned and used, but is not exempt from being licensed or from any required vaccination. The provisions of Section 3 of this ordinance shall not apply to any dog owned by or in the care of a nonresident of the City, who is traveling through the City or temporarily sojourning therein for a period not exceeding thirty days.

SECTION 4. APPOINTMENT OF ANIMAL CONTROL OFFICER. The Humane Society of Marin County is hereby appointed as and shall be the Poundkeeper for the city, and said Humane Society shall appoint suitable persons to act as Animal Control Officers.

SECTION 4.1. POWERS AND DUTIES. The powers and duties of the Poundkeeper and its Animal Control Officers shall be as follows:

(a) To enforce all provisions of this ordinance and all the laws of the State of California relating to the care, treatment and impounding of animals.
(b) To maintain and keep an animal shelter or other place where all animals which are subject to be impounded may be kept and safely held and provided with proper and sufficient food and water.
(c) To take up, impound and safely keep any animals found to be in violation of the provisions of this ordinance.
(d) To collect any costs or charges hereinafter provided in this ordinance for the impounding and keeping of any animal.
(e) To enter upon any premises upon which any animal is kept for the purpose of taking up, seizing or impounding any animal found to be in violation of any of the provisions of this ordinance, or for the purpose of determining whether such animal is licensed or is violating the provisions of this ordinance.
(f) To forthwith destroy any animal lawfully impounded which is by reason of injury, disease or other cause unfit for further use or is dangerous to keep impounded.

SECTION 4.2. DISPOSITION OF ANIMALS BY POUNDKEEPER. The Poundkeeper shall keep any dog or animal impounded for violation of the provisions of this ordinance or turned over to him for disposal for the period of time hereinafter specified and shall dispose of the same in accordance with the following provisions:

(a) Unlicensed dogs. Unless an unlicensed dog shall have been redeemed within ninety-six (96) hours after being impounded, Sundays and holidays excepted, it may be sold by the Poundkeeper, provided that the purchaser shall not be given possession of any such dog until he has secured a license for the same and has paid such fees as are required for redemption.
(b) Licensed dogs. Unless a licensed dog shall have been redeemed within seven (7) days after impoundment, Sundays and holidays excepted, such dog may be sold by the Poundkeeper, the same as an unlicensed dog. The Poundkeeper shall notify the registered owner of said dog by mail at the address shown in the licensing records of the city, said notice to be given within twenty-four (24) hours of impoundment.
(c) Other animals. The Poundkeeper shall keep any other impounded animal for a period of at least seven days. At any time after the expiration of such period, the Poundkeeper may, unless the animal is redeemed, or unless a bona fide home has been obtained for such animal, destroy the same in a humane manner.

SECTION 4.3. REDEMPTION OF IMPOUNDED ANIMALS. Redemption of an impounded animal by the owner shall be made by exhibiting to the Poundkeeper any required license certificate or license tag or other satisfactory proof of ownership, and by paying the charges provided for under Section 4.4 hereof. If an animal is sold or released to a person other than the owner, the owner of such animal may, at any time within thirty (30) days after such sale or release, redeem the same from such purchaser or other person by paying him the amount of the purchase price if any, plus a sum equal to fifty cents (50¢) per day from the date of such sale or release, to and including the date of redemption, except that no person may redeem an animal under this section if he was given written notice of such impoundment by the Poundkeeper and failed for a period of five (5) days after the mailing of such notice to redeem or release such animal from impoundment.

SECTION 4.4. REDEMPTION FEES. No dog or other animal shall be released by the Poundkeeper until all charges, cost of redemption and the current year's license charge, if any, have been paid. The charges and costs of redemption of impounded animals shall be a fee of $3.00 for the first impoundment in any fiscal year, a fee of $5.00 for the second impoundment in any fiscal year, a fee of $7.00 for the third impoundment in any fiscal year, a fee of $10.00 for each additional impoundment in any fiscal year, plus in each impoundment a charge of 50¢ per day for keeping.

SECTION 5. PERMITTING DOGS TO RUN IN CERTAIN PUBLIC AREAS AND GAME REFUGES. It shall be unlawful for the owner or person having control of any dog to suffer or permit the same, under any circumstances, to run at large in any public parks, or in any school, or upon any said school grounds, or in any commercial district, or in any game refuge, or in any public watershed area; and every dog found running at large in violation of the provisions of this section shall be immediately seized and impounded. Any duly authorized peace officer shall be entitled to take such other action as may be reasonably necessary for the protection of wild game in those cases involving dogs running at large in game refuges or public watershed areas.

SECTION 5.1. PERMITTING DOGS TO RUN ON CERTAIN PRIVATE LANDS. It shall be unlawful for the owner or person having control of any dog to suffer or permit the same to run upon the lands of another whereon livestock or domestic fowl are kept, without the consent of the owner or person entitled to the use or possession of such lands.

SECTION 5.2. NUISANCE ABATEMENT. It shall be unlawful to permit any vicious dog or dangerous animal to go unrestrained. The keeping or harboring of any dog, cat or other animal or fowl, whether licensed or not which by habitual howling, yelping, barking or other noise disturbs or annoys any considerable number of persons or neighborhood is unlawful, and is hereby declared to be a public nuisance, and each day that such act is continued, shall constitute a separate offense. It shall be unlawful to suffer or permit any animal or fowl to trespass on private or public property so as to damage or destroy any property or thing of value, or so as to commit any other act dangerous to public health or safety, and any animal committing any such act is hereby declared to be a public nuisance and may be impounded by the Poundkeeper.

Whenever it shall be affirmed in writing by three or more persons having separate residences or regularly employed in the neighborhood that any animal is an habitual nuisance by reason of trespassing, howling, barking or other noise, or damage to property, or being vicious or by its actions potentially vicious, or in any manner causing undue annoyance, the Poundkeeper or the Police Department of the city, if it is found by such authority that a nuisance exists, may serve notice upon the owner or custodian that such nuisance must be abated. If the owner or custodian does not abate such nuisance within forty-eight (48) hours after the giving of such notice, the Poundkeeper may impound the animal or fowl.

SECTION 5.3. STRAY ANIMALS. Any person discovering a stray or apparently lost animal shall report the same to the Poundkeeper. Any person who apprehends or picks up a stray or lost animal shall report the same to the Poundkeeper within eight (8) hours thereafter and shall release such animal to the Poundkeeper upon demand.

SECTION 5.4. BITING ANIMALS TO BE REPORTED. The owner or other person having custody or control of any animal which bites a human being shall immediately notify the County Health Officer of such bite, giving the name and address of the person bitten, if known to him, and shall faithfully obey any quarantine instructions given by the Health Officer.

SECTION 5.5. QUARANTINE CHARGES. Whenever the County Health Officer shall order the quarantine of any animal pursuant to the provisions of any local ordinance or state law, the owner of such animal shall pay to the County of Marin, a quarantine charge of $3.00 for the first quarantine of such animal, in any fiscal year, a charge of $5.00 for the second quarantine of such animal in any fiscal year, a charge of $7.00 for the third quarantine of such animal in any fiscal year, and a charge of $10.00 for any subsequent quarantine of the same animal in any fiscal year.

SECTION 5.6. ESTRAYS. Notwithstanding any provisions in this ordinance to the contrary, the Agricultural Code of the State of California, Division 3, Chapter 5, shall be complied with in reference to estray bovine animals, horses, mules or burros.

SECTION 5.7. USE OF ANIMALS FOR EXHIBITS. It shall be unlawful for any person to operate, conduct or maintain any commercial show, circus, animal exhibition, carnival or advertising display or device in which any dog, cat or other animal, wild or domestic, or fowl is used or kept without first having obtained a permit therefor. A permit fee of $25.00 is hereby imposed for such purpose. The Poundkeeper shall, in connection with the issuance of any such permit, establish such conditions as may be reasonably necessary to protect the public health and safety, and to provide for the humane care and treatment of any dogs, cats or other animals, wild or domestic, or fowl which may be so used.

SECTION 5.8. COMMERCIAL ANIMAL ESTABLISHMENTS. It shall be unlawful for any person to operate or maintain any commercial animal establishment without first obtaining a permit therefor. An annual permit fee of $20.00 is hereby imposed for such purpose. The Poundkeeper shall in connection with the issuance of any such permit establish such conditions as may be necessary to protect the public health and safety, and to provide for the humane care and treatment of the dogs, cats or other animals, wild or domestic or fowl. The Poundkeeper may deny or revoke such permit when necessary to protect the public health or safety or when necessary to assure the humane care and treatment of the dogs, cats or other animals, wild or domestic, or fowl.

SECTION 5.9. SALE OF ANIMALS FOR EXPERIMENTATION. Neither the Poundkeeper nor anyone in its employ shall knowingly sell or give an impounded animal to any person, firm, corporation, association or school for the purpose of animal experimentation. No person, firm, corporation, association or school shall by fraud, misrepresentation, or coercion induce the Poundkeeper or anyone employed by it to sell or give away any impounded animal for the purpose of animal experimentation.

SECTION 6. PENALTY. Any person violating any of the provisions of this ordinance shall, upon conviction thereof, be punished by a fine not exceeding $300.00 or by imprisonment in the County Jail for a period not exceeding six months or by both such fine and imprisonment.

SECTION 7. This ordinance hereby repeals Ordinance No. 783 and any and all other ordinances or parts thereof in conflict herewith.

SECTION 8. EFFECTIVE DATE. This ordinance shall be published once in full before its final passage in the INDEPENDENT-JOURNAL, a daily newspaper of general circulation, printed, published and circulated in said city, and shall be in full force and effect thirty (30) days from and after its final passage, provided, however, that the provisions thereof shall not become operative until July 1, 1964.

(SEAL)

Water Taste Probed By Scientists

By DELOS SMITH

NEW YORK (UPI)—A very old question chewed over in countless arguments now has a new scientific answer. The question is, Does water have a taste? The answer is, it depends upon the "adaptation" on the drinker's taste buds.

Since the 19th Century scientists have sought the true answer and it has been a frustration quest. Some of their subjects tasted water all right and said the taste was bitter. Others tasted it either as flat or insipid, many subjects insisted water was tasteless.

A few years ago scientists discovered that water when on the tongue will stymie electrical impulses from taste fibers to brain. These impulses provide the information which enable the brain to tell differences among tastes.

From that you could guess the taste of water was the absence of any other taste. But it caused three scientists at Brown University, Providence, R. I., to suspect taste was a matter of adaptation. They got two colleagues to thrust out their tongues.

This gave the scientists innocently unadapted tongues to work on, since it stands to reason that tongues when in their mouths are chemically adapted to saliva. They worked on these tongues by pouring salt solutions upon them.

The salt solution was poured onto the tongues for at least 15 seconds, in a random order. After a one second pause, the owners of the tongues were given something to taste which was a salt solution weak or stronger than the original one or distilled water.

The original solution adapted the tongue to its taste. If the same solution was put on the tongue after the pause, it became tasteless. If the second solution was stronger than the original one, the men said it tasted either sweet or salty.

But if the second one was weaker its taste was judged either sour or bitter. That was the result even when the weaker solution was water. Saliva to which the tongue is usually adapted is a very weak salt solution. Therefore, the experiments explained why so many people believe water has taste and the taste is flat and even a little bitter.

The scientists, Linda M. Bartoshuk, Donald H. McBurney and Carl Pfaffman, were confident of their results. They repeated the experiments in nine other subjects and they came out the same way. In reporting to the American Assn. for Advancement of Science, they recalled that adaptation of taste buds had been demonstrated before.

After tasting citric acid or quinine many people will taste water as sweet, and after they had tasted the sugar, sucrose, water will taste sour or bitter.

Their own findings and these make an "opponent taste theory attractive," they said, which would mean that the taste of any given thing dictates how the next thing will taste. So far there is not enough evidence to support such a theory, they added.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

VAN DELLEN

The aggressive young one seldom is a problem, provided his behavior stems from an eager, alert mind and a vigorous, healthy body. The energy and interests of these tykes ought to be utilized wisely by directing them into constructive channels.

But these boys can be loud, boisterous, and bossy. Mrs. Martha Hardy, a kindergarten teacher in Abington, Ill., handles this situation by assigning challenging activities along with added responsibilities. She then rewards the child by praising his accomplishments.

THE PROBLEM is more difficult when the aggressiveness stems from rebellion — often against severe discipline in the home. The parents expect too much or have set standards far above the youngster's ability. He is frustrated when he cannot deliver the goods and reacts by becoming a boisterous showoff. This kind of boy often is destructive. He differs from the fireball who responds constructively to additional activities.

Parents and teachers can minimize this anti-social behavior by not expecting a 5-year-old to act like a 10-year-old. Let him enjoy his age and his ability, such as it is. He will grow up eventually but meanwhile, love and understanding are all important.

ANOTHER TYPE of aggressiveness comes from too little or no discipline in the home. These children push to see how far they can go before being taken in hand. They actually are trying to find the limits of misbehavior and what is expected of them. They want guidance, attention, and love —but, most of all, the security of knowing that someone cares even to the extent of saying "no" to an unreasonabl request. But the parents must cooperate in every way, including proper discipline in the home. The teacher can do only so much.

The aggressiveness that results from an emotional disturbance is more difficult to manage. A broken or unhappy home may be responsible. In other instances, the child may have been shifted from one babysitter to another without knowing just who is the real authority in his life. These boys and girls need professional care.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

CONGENITAL DEAFNESS

Mrs. N. writes: Would a hearing aid help a child who was born deaf in both ears?

REPLY

There are instances in which these children have been able to understand the spoken voice by learning to lip read and by turning up the volume of the hearing aid. The results depend upon the condition of the nerve of hearing.

ABDOMINAL HERNIA

J. B. writes: My doctor mentioned recently, after a checkup, that I have a ventral hernia. He didn't explain this condition or say what to do about it. Can you fill me in on this disorder?

REPLY

COLD SHIVERS

R. B. writes: On the way to work these winter mornings I start shivering and cannot control it. I dress properly and eat a good breakfast. Why does this happen?

REPLY

SOAP FOR THE FACE

Mrs. A. B. writes: Should the middle-aged avoid using soap on the face?

REPLY

No, provided dryness or dermatitis is not present.

Communications Cable For Nuclear War Being Buried

NEW YORK (AP)—A wrist-thick cable now worming its way underground across the nation may provide the only direct transcontinental telephone communication in the event of a nuclear blast.

The 3,218-mile cable is much like six others already in transcontinental operation except that it is buried five feet underground instead of the normal three and one-half feet.

It also differs from the other lines because all its relay and other stations are sunk deep underground in concrete cocoons.

"Let's say that this cable will be blast-proof," said a spokesman for the American Telephone and Telegraph Co. "A direct nuclear blast certainly would cut it, but I doubt that anything short of that would do it."

He said the cable is being so located that it will be out of any of the nation's prime target areas.

The cable now is in use between a point in upstate New York and Fairfield, Kan. It is scheduled for completion to the West Coast sometime late this year.

The Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. already has laid the cable and installed relay and other equipment along much of the 612 miles it will cover in Southern California.

Over-all cost was set at 200 million dollars—the most expensive project of its kind in the United States.

"This is not a government-sponsored project, rather it is another step taken by the Bell System to insure survivability," the company said.

The project was begun in upstate New York in 1960.

The cable when completed will be capable of handling 9,000 simultaneous calls — at least 2,000 more than can now be handled by any of the other six cables.

"A serious natural disaster might break another cable where it will have to go 18 inches deeper to get at this one," the spokesman said. "Eighteen inches in this particular case is quite a lot."

No Objections Filed On Dredging Request

There were no navigational objections filed with the Army Corps of Engineers on the application of Finley-Carpenter Inc. of Temple City to dredge the shallows of Petaluma River a mile north of Black Point in Marin County.

The corps office in San Francisco announced today that a permit will be issued soon for the work. Main channels will be dredged to eight feet below mean low water and a side channel will be dredged to three feet. The 30-day period for interested persons to file objections with the Corps has expired.

High School Seniors Study At College, Make Top Marks

By PHIL FRADKIN

An increasing number of Marin County senior high school students are taking a "small bite" of college education at the College of Marin to learn what it will taste like when they graduate from high school.

They say, in general, that it tastes fine — and they keep coming back for more helpings.

College officials are pleased with the results of the three-year-old program. During the 1963 spring semester, nine high school students had higher average grades than the college's freshman class average.

This semester, 26 high school students are taking courses at the college. Most popular courses are calculus and English, with some political science, language, history and zoology courses high on the list.

The high school students enrolled at the college are "gifted," according to Dean of Students Irwin P. Diamond. They have usually reached the limit of courses offered in their high schools in a particular field and want to continue in these subject areas.

Diamond said the students also want to experience what college courses are like and accumulate college credits.

Some of the high school students have accumulated as many as 24 units at the College of Marin. This can be done by enrolling in the summer session at the end of their junior year, taking courses during each of the two regular semesters, then finishing up by going through summer school again at the end of their senior high school year.

However, the greatest number of high school students enroll at the college for the spring semester of their senior year, after having accumulated the needed amount of credits for high school graduation in the first half of their senior year.

Most of the students take courses at the college either early in the day or late in the afternoon. Some take night credit courses, and some have high school schedules arranged so they can take midday courses at the college.

"Our aim is not to have the high school students identified. We treat them just like other college students," Diamond said.

He said most of the high school seniors know what they want when they enroll at the college. Most are headed toward scientific fields, he said.

While this program is aimed at students taking academic courses, college officials are working on a program with Marin high schools for students who want technical or semi-professional training, in such subjects as business, electronics and industrial arts, high school students will be able to take college courses and perhaps graduate earlier.

The main advantage to this program, according to Diamond, would be that "students will get into a specialty earlier and go farther with it."

TODAY'S EDITORIAL

This G.O.P. Primary Will Differ From Past Times

When Governor Rockefeller made his first "test" campaign visit to California (including a stop in Marin) some weeks ago the size of the crowds that turned out to see him exceeded the fondest hopes of his campaign workers.

When Senator Goldwater made some of his first quick visits to our state, he too drew crowds whose numbers surprised even his more optimistic supporters.

What does this mean?

It could mean that both have effective organizations going for them in California, organizations which can produce a crowd for their man at a given time and place.

It could mean that California still has a sizeable proportion of progressive Republicans of the Earl Warren and Tom Kuchel stripe who look to Governor Rockefeller as their man, while the vestigal old "black guard" conservatives have at the same time found their first "darling" in decades in the person of Senator Goldwater.

But we think there is a deeper reason for this paradox which finds both a progressive candidate and a conservative candidate simultaneously drawing what might be called record crowds.

We are inclined to believe the basis for this paradox lies in the absence of a Republican primary presidential contest in California since almost longer than we can remember.

It has been a tradition, or an accident, or both, that California Republicans have fielded only an "uninstructed" delegation for election to represent the state's Republicans at the G.O.P. national conventions for years and years.

There were deviationist slates a time or two in the past generation, but they didn't get far.

For practical purposes, you can say that the rank and file of California Republicans really have had no choice of candidates in the Republican presidential primary here for a generation or more.

The primary this summer will be the first that is different.

Republicans are confronted with a new situation; they will have to make a choice at the ballot box.

We think the crowds consist of concerned Republicans who — faced with the necessity of making a choice—want to size up the candidates for themselves before making their final decisions.

If, when Senator Goldwater comes to Marin as promised by his state chairman, former Senator Knowland, many of the same people turn out to see him who turned out to see Governor Rockefeller, our belief will be confirmed.

The Fight Against Litter

Students at Marin high schools who have been rather roundly and consistently berated by school officials for littering their campuses may take heart. They are not alone.

Prisoners litter their "campus" too. Warden Fred R. Dickson of San Quentin writes in the latest issue of San Quentin News:

"Frequently I notice that various areas of the institution are not maintained in as clean a manner as they could and should be. I feel there is no excuse for trash to be littered about, and I am sure you will all agree that it is just as easy to dispose of trash in the receptacles provided as it is to throw it on the ground."

We wonder whether the inmates at San Quentin will follow the warden's admonition better than the students at high schools follow similar pleadings from their principals.

Unruh's Idea To Reduce School Districts Is Gaining Support

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—Although the bill presented by Assembly Speaker Jesse Unruh (D-Los Angeles) to consolidate 1,585 school districts into less than 200 is not expected to be passed at the current session of the legislature, many members of both houses are coming to the conclusion that Unruh's measure, or one similar, is the inevitable answer to many school financial problems.

Unruh's plan proposes county-wide school districts, except for districts in chartered cities.

PURPOSE OF the measure, Unruh says, is equalization of school taxes, better schools in so-called underprivileged districts and elimination of unnecessary administration costs to the ultimate advantage of the taxpayer.

Unruh found major support from the California Taxpayers' Assn., an organization which is devoted to seeing that government is operated both efficiently and economically while eliminating unnecessary costs.

The board of directors of the taxpayers organization has voted support for the drive to reduce the number of districts in the state. Executive Director S. J. Arnold said his organization intends to take a positive and constructive approach to school money problems. He described the Unruh proposal as a "courageous and forthright proposal" and one which deserves support.

"FOR TOO MANY years," Arnold said, "we have left the school problem to commissions and those people concerned with the daily business of conducting our school problems.

"Solutions have not been found, but rather, complexity has bred complexity, and now the opportunity is at hand to support the philosophy of simplicity breeding simplicity."

Anticipating opposition to the state-wide consolidation, the association said many people will brand the drive as anti-education, and statism. Likewise, it is pointed out that many will oppose the Unruh bill in the belief that it will take away local control of the schools. Also, some are claiming the move will be the best way to hand California education over to the federal government.

HOWEVER, the association points out that citizens of California must realize that traditional efforts have failed to solve educational problems, and "until we take the bold approach, the problem will remain unsolved to the detriment of all."

Also, some legislators who have not as yet been quoted in public, declare that the quicker California school districts are consolidated, the faster will be the road toward solving school problems.

The State Department of Education for many years has advocated unification of school districts.

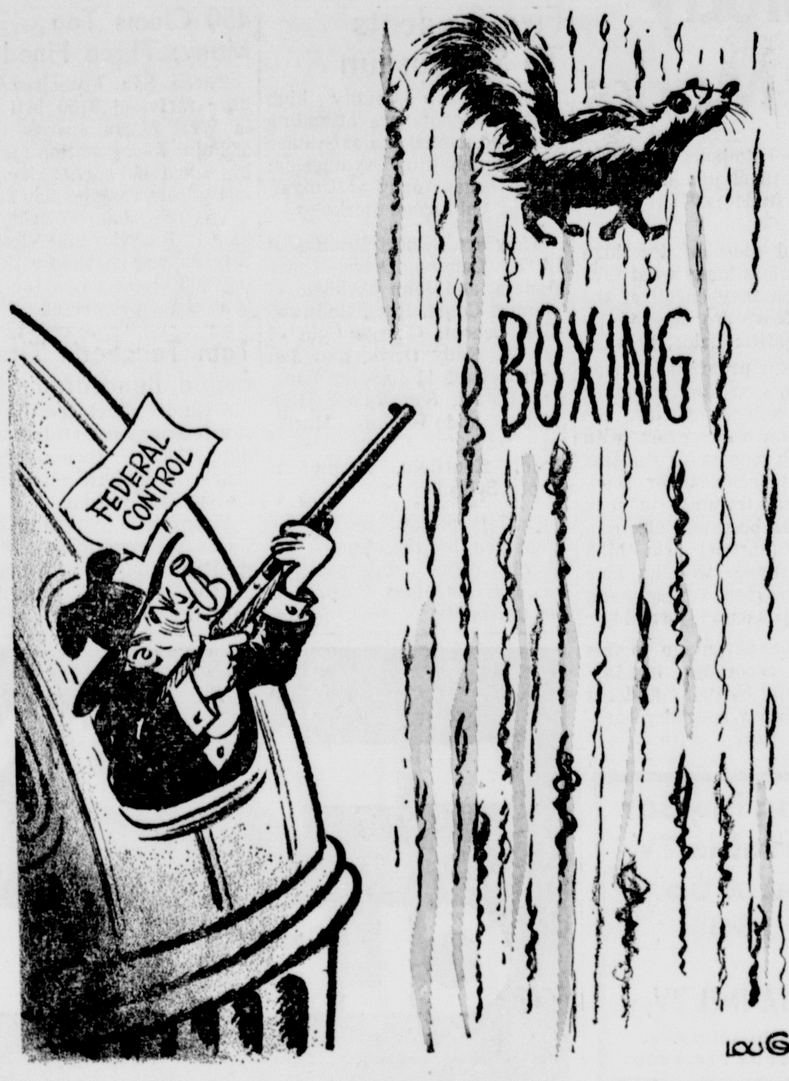

"But," one legislator stated, "if we wait for the slow operation of the state department, it will take until 1992 to achieve the end that could be achieved in a couple of years. And the problem is not one to solve in 1992, it has to be solved right now."

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

All Restaurant Abalone Is Frozen

Editor, Independent-Journal:

I was very interested in the letter from Jack O'Connell of Tiburon regarding abalone eating and your comment.

Since Sabella's of Marin serves abalone on its menu 365 days a year, I thought you might be interested in my comment on how we do it. Since there is a 10-month "open" season (Mar. 16 to Jan. 14) on red abalone, and a two-month "closed" season (Jan. 15 to Mar. 15), we have enough packed for us frozen in the "open" season to take care of our requirements for the "closed" season.

All of our abalone comes from Morro Bay. It is all red abalone.... Our packer quick-freezes the abalone for 48 hours before shipping a truckload to us. The Board of Health looks very favorably on this method because so much less risk is taken if a refrigerated truck should break down and take longer en route than originally estimated....

You are quite right in saying that abalone can never be caught or sold commercially in the Bay Area, but due to our new quick-freeze techniques we do offer the popular California abalone the year 'round....

Cats, Like Dogs, Need Licensing

Editor, Independent-Journal:

I believe there is a leash law for dogs in the county; also a license and requirements for certain shots.

Is it not reasonable that cats should be regulated to some degree? In this tract there are quite a few and they run around unleashed and most with no bells on their necks, killing birds as a sport. I love animals, although I do not have any on the premises, but certainly cats and the owners should not be free from all responsibility for damage and trespassing.

Why should not owners of cats be charged with a license requirement for each cat of at least $5 to $7? They kill dozens of birds per year, are allowed to roam free at night in the yards of the neighborhood.

I would appreciate the opinions of others on this matter.

BOOST FOR JOHNSON

Action Likely This Year On Medical Care Measure

By Congressional Quarterly

WASHINGTON—A scaled-down version of the administration's medical-care-for-the-aged bill will probably win House ways and means committee approval within the next few months. This would send the bill to the House floor for passage in 1964, giving President Lyndon B. Johnson's election campaign an important boost.

The ways and means committee is expected to take up the bill in executive session in mid-March. The administration proposal calls for an increase in the Social Security payroll tax and use of the new revenues to finance hospital care benefits for the nation's elderly population.

In the past, medical care bills have been firmly locked in the ways and means committee. A majority of the committee, including Chairman Wilbur D. Mills (D-Ark.), has opposed medical care bills tied to the Social Security payroll tax system.

BUT REPORTS now indicate that a majority has developed on the committee in favor of a compromise measure.

Three former medical-care opponents — Mills, himself, and Reps. John C. Watts (D-Ky.) and Clark W. Thompson (D-Tex.)—are now said to be willing to send the bill to the House floor.

If so, the bill that emerges may well be sponsored by Mills as committee chairman and be part of a package of improved Social Security old-age benefits.

The bill expected to clear the ways and means committee this year is a revised and sharply cut-down version of the original administration bill, but it preserves the essential features of Social Security financing and federal administration.

COMMITTEE MEMBERS are said to favor a modest beginning for the program. Although final details have not yet been worked out, following were the expected key features:

1. Hospital benefits will be limited to 50 days a year, with no alternatives or options. (Under the original administration bill, hospital benefits could be as much as 180 days.) No final action has been made on whether the bill also will carry nursing home benefits and will provide for elderly persons who are not eligible for regular Social Security old-age payments. But there is a chance that the answer to both these questions will be "no."

2. The program would not include any of the proposals to let beneficiaries buy private insurance or have Blue Cross administer the benefits. Administration would be handled by a special staff in the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

3. Benefits would be financed by a Social Security payroll tax increase of at least one-quarter of 1 per cent, and probably more. The proceeds would be put into a separate Social Security account or trust fund reserved for payment of the hospital benefits. Creation of the separate fund would safeguard the existing Social Security old-age and disability trust funds.

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

ONCE UPON a time a draftee completed his hitch in the service and brought home a bullet as a souvenir, which he always carried in his shirt pocket. There came a day when a Bible slipped out of the grasp of a devout soul who lived in a Park Avenue penthouse. It landed smack on the chest of the ex-draftee, who was passing below, and sent him staggering to the railing outside of the apartment house. Later he admitted, his voice trembling, "That Bible would have gone right through my heart if my souvenir bullet hadn't stopped it!"

A WESTPORT commuter paused at a bar enroute to his train and ordered a bourbon. "How do you want it?" inguired the bartender. "Like my marriage," sighed the commuter. "On the rocks."

A LONESOME gent had been patronizing for weeks a little restaurant that, according to a sign over the cashier's desk, featured, "Margo's home cooking." Finally he asked the cashier, "Where is this famous Margo of yours, anyhow?" "It's like the sign says," answered the cashier. "Margo's home cooking."

ROSCOE DRUMMOND

Lodge Wants The GOP Nomination But Wouldn't Leave Saigon Now

SAIGON—The draft-Henry-Cabot - Lodge - for - president supporters in the United States need not feel that their candidate is too far away to do them any good.

They are going to get some help, though not as much as they hope.

This is not to suggest that the American ambassador to embattled South Vietnam — the man who came within a thimbleful of votes of becoming vice president in 1960— is coming back to campaign for the Republican presidential nomination.

HE TOLD ME he isn't. He said he intends to stay on the job at the one explosive point where we are grappling with Red China. He plans to remain in Saigon continuously unless summoned home for official consultation. He is going to do everything in his power to keep this crucial struggle in Vietnam completely out of partisan politics.

But this doesn't mean that Lodge, who thought he was out of politics forever when President John F. Kennedy asked him to take this post last fall, is uninterested in the nomination.

He is very much interested. He is fully aware of what is being done in his behalf at home and he is abreast of the latest polls, public and private, which reflect unexpectedly substantial Lodge support. Despite the fact that his present address is unfamiliar, his political mail is beginning to bulge.

CLEARLY Ambassador Lodge is not going to lift a little finger to deter or discourage the activity of his Republican political backers.

I think he will do more. More would be this:

1. Permitting his supporters to enter his name in representative primaries, possibly Wisconsin, Oregon and California, so that a good cross - section of Republican voters would have the opportunity to show whether they wanted to see Lodge nominated even though his present job prevents him from campaigning for it.

2. Making it clear well before the San Francisco convention that he would willingly accept the nomination. This would enable his supporters to line up delegate support in good faith.

Lodge told me he looks at it this way:

"I DO NOT HAVE a duty to run for the presidential nomination. My overriding responsibility is to stay here on the job to represent the U. S. as effectively as I can and to help win this vital struggle to secure this gateway to Southeast Asia, which the Communists are desperately trying to unhinge. Naturally I would consider it my duty to run for the presidency if nominated."

It seems to me that Ambassador Lodge does not have a difficult decision to make. For him to quit his post in Saigon when American troops and American military dependents are being shot and bombed by the Viet Cong Communists would be the worst possible politics, even if it should enter Lodge's mind.

AS FAR AS I could see, it doesn't enter his mind at all. He says he has no intention of taking off his ambassadorial uniform to enter politics unless summoned by the Republican national convention as its presidential nominee.

Beyond this political consideration is the fact that the South Vietnamese government and people would at this stage be dismayed if Lodge should leave soon.

HE IS THE symbol of U. S. commitment and determination to defeat the Communists in this part of the world. The South Vietnamese people see him as more than a professional diplomat. They see him as an influential American public figure in his own right who was named ambassador here to demonstrate a firm and bi-partisan U. S. purpose.

He needs to stay. He knows it.

As I see it, Lodge is willing, even eager, to be nominated. He values what his supporters are doing and wishes them to succeed. But he feels he could not in good faith leave Saigon except as the 1964 Republican presidential nominee.

GET PROMISES, PROMISES

Russians Demanding Better Way Of Life

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

ALONG WITH ITS other troubles, it is apparent that the Soviet Union leadership is having increasing difficulty placating a population demanding more and more of the better things in life.

It puts a special strain on the government which, since the end of the Stalin era, has sought popular support and produces a series of contradictions hard to explain to a people after more than 45 years of Communist promises. The strain and the contradictions are both physical and ideological.

Nikita Khrushchev's 1957 promises that Soviet production of meat and butter per capita would surpass that of the United States by 1960 long since went by the boards and the consumer price on both commodities went up to cut down demand.

WHILE REFRAINING from a return to the rigid controls of the Stalin era, the government has seen fit to warn Soviet artists too eager to experiment with ideas from the West that their works must reflect the ideals of socialism.

OTHER ARTICLES in Soviet newspapers attempt to convince the people that things are better than they think.

In January, the Moscow Economic Gazette published findings of a survey which it said covered 100 families for an 11-year period ending in 1961.

Family income, it said, had jumped from $178 to $232 a month.

Taking the families from workers' households in the industrial cities of Gorky, Ivanovo and Moscow, the article said that in 1951 none had washing machines, television sets or refrigerators. But by 1961, 42 had television sets, 10 had refrigerators and five had washing machines.

TO COMBAT increasing grumbling over higher living costs, the survey laid heavy stress on the state's contribution to low-rent housing and to government health services and education.

The virgin lands program which ploughed up millions of acres and not only failed to produce the huge increase in grain expected but led to vast new dust bowls, apparently is to be abandoned.

Next Time You Complain About Teachers Remember This Story

IT IS THAT TIME of year again when teachers in Marin County sharpen up their pencils to present precise requests for raises.

Teachers in the Tamalpais Union High School District are no exception to this "spring fever." Generally, the public and editorial comment in the press look upon these requests with disfavor.

Two months ago, Paul Preston, son of Mr. and Mrs. William P. Preston of Stetson Avenue, Kentfield, broke his hip when he was thrown into a concrete bulkhead while sliding down a hill in Tiburon on a piece of wood.

PAUL WILL REMAIN on his back in a cast until June. He is not able to go to classes at Redwood High School, where he is a junior.

The county schools office sent a tutor to Paul to keep him up in his school work. But, as the tutor was only human, he knew some subjects better than others.

The subjects he was weakest in were algebra and Latin. So the Prestons went to Paul's counselor at Redwood and asked him what could be done. The counselor went to two teachers with the problem.

ABOUT ONCE A WEEK, or whenever Paul has finished his assignments, the teachers make their separate trips to Paul's bedside to go over his work.

He is thinking, she said, that if these teachers can make the effort, why can't I?

SHE DESCRIBES herself and her husband as having only average interest in school affairs. "There is nothing special about us which would make these teachers donate their time."

The Prestons offered to pay the two teachers, but the offer was refused. The teachers, Mrs. Preston said, felt that Paul needed the extra instruction and they would provide it free, if he was willing to do the work.

Mrs. Preston commented, "They are real good human beings. They are not as stuffy as you would think they are."

Famed Architect Says Creative Work, Not Happiness, Life's Goal

To Stone, who has been acclaimed as America's greatest living architect, the best answer to the challenge of exist ence is the dedication that comes with creative work.

I FEEL SORRY for people who spend their lives doing nothing but buying eggs for three cents and selling them for five cents. They only do this to get money to buy more enjoyment for themselves and their families," Stone said.

"But creative work is absorbing in itself, and material gain is a byproduct, not the main end. The thrill of creation is the greatest of all."

Stone, a tall, courtly, broad-browed man of 62, started the study of architecture in his youth in Fayetteville, Ark., a town which he whimsically says has been described as "a hotbed of tranquility."

SINCE THEN the scope of his output has been tremendous and world wide. It includes the famed U. S. Embassy in India; a 20-million-dollar hospital in Peru; hotels in Panama and Lebanon; museums, dormitories, libraries cultural centers, factories, pharmaceutical laboratories, civic buildings, banks, private homes and a monastery.

At present he and his staff of 200 assistants are planning or completing work on a dozen projects. Among them are several buildings at the New York World's Fair, including two religious pavilions, the Tulsa Civic Center, the Huntington Hartford Gallery of Modern Art here, and the proposed cultural center in Washington, D. C., honoring the late President John F. Kennedy.

"Ugliness is sinful, because like sin, ugliness reflects a grossness of mind and a poverty of spirit, a robot-like materialism that implies a denial of a bridge to the ingens, a glimpse of perfection.

Great art is the result of peace, prosperity and leisure. We have all these things, but our country hasn't yet reached the philosophical point where we want to leave a heritage of loveliness to future times.

"A hero of mine, Frank Lloyd Wright, used to say, 'Love your work, love your wife, love the truth.' To this I would only add, 'Love God —that's all there is to life,' "

REMEMBER WHEN?

20 YEARS AGO

The San Rafael city schools would have a full week of vacation for Easter week like other districts, instead of having only two days as previously planned, announced Supt. Oliver R. Hartzell.

After a bitter hearing, the Marin County Board of Supervisors upheld the planning commission in denying the application of University of California student Henry P. Boyd to keep two horses on his property in Marin Heights.

Second Lt. John M. Cook of San Rafael, believed to be on duty in Australia, received the Distinguished Flying Cross for action in sinking a Japanese warship as bombardier aboard a B-17 Flying Fortress.

March 31 was designated as "Hicks Day" when San Rafael High pupils could dress as they please—and attend a Hicksville Jig at noon in the gymnasium.

"Silent Village," a sound film of the Japanese invasion of China, was shown at Guild Hall, Mill Valley, by the Episcopal Women's Service League.

Sgt. Joe Brusatori, "former local police officer," stationed with the Army military police in Marysville, visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Brusatori of San Rafael.

The moon is approaching its last quarter. The evening stars are Venus and Jupiter.

On this day in history:

In 1933, election returns in Germany gave the Nazis and their Nationalists allies 52 per cent of the seats in the Reichstag.

In 1953, Soviet Premier Josef Stalin died at his apartment in the Kremlin at the age of 73. The Communist government said he had been stricken with a cerebral hemorrhage.

In 1962, Premier Nikita Khrushchev warned the Soviet government that the seven-year plan was in serious danger as a result of agriculture management.

A thought for the day — Josef Stalin once said: "In the USSR, work is the duty of every able-bodied citizen, according to the principle of he who does not work, neither shall he eat."

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Something For Nothing May Be Poor Bargain In Bridge

South	West	North	East
1 ♣	Pass	1 ◇	Pass
3 NT	All Pass

Opening lead — ♠ 2

West opened the deuce of spades, declarer played low from the dummy, and East cunningly followed with the three of spades. South pounced on the trick with the six of spades remarking on the fact that he had never before won so cheap a trick.

LED KING

South next led the king of diamonds, and West began a signal with the eight. East held off, but took the next diamond and returned the queen of hearts.

Declarer won with the ace of hearts and returned the ten of spades, but this got him nowhere. West stepped up with the king of spades, and now South could never get to dummy for the rest of the diamonds.

South eventually got two spades, two hearts, one diamond, and two clubs. Down two. The loss of 200 points was no bargain.

NEEDS SPADE ENTRY

He should see that game depends on bringing in dummy's diamonds, and that he needs a spade entry to the long diamonds.

South can make sure of a spade entry to dummy only by winning the first trick with the ace of spades. After knocking out the ace of diamonds, South can lead one of his two low spades.

SMALL SPADE

West can take the king of spades, but South still has another small spade to lead to dummy's queen.

This line of play gives declarer five diamonds and two tricks in each of the other suits.

QUESTION

Partner opens with 1 NT (16 to 18 points), and the next player passes.

You hold:

♠ A 9 8
♥ A 6 3
♦ K J 8 5
♣ A 8 2

What do you say?

Answer: Bid four notrump.

This immediate jump asks partner to bid a slaim with 18 points, to pass with 16 points, and to use his judgment with 17 points.

PANORAMIC VIEW

A sweeping vista from the Bay to Mt. Tamalpais is yours to enjoy from the deck of this newly completed rustic home, or thru the window walls of the beautiful 32-ft. living room and dining ell, and the master bedroom, too. You'll like the mahogany paneling on the fireplace wall, the all-elec. kitchen with double sink and large breakfast area. 3 bedrooms, 2 baths. All on one level. Excellent storage areas. Paved patio and deck for outdoor living. Minimum gardening. Act now, this should go fast.

NEW—EXPANDABLE

Here is a new home with the right combination of charm and utility value. Custom designed to fit the beautiful oak-studded setting. All on one level, in a central hall plan, 3 bedrooms, 2 baths, spacious living room with ceiling height fireplace, built-in cabinets and bookshelves. Full size dining ell. Paneled family room. G.E. equipped kitchen. Separate laundry room. Plus a partially finished extra room and roughed-in plumbing for 3rd bath downstairs, off the tile floor entry hall. Sliding glass doors open to a charming secluded patio, screened by oaks and laurels.

VIEW LOTS

PETERSON & GREENE

It's A Secret

But we will tell you about this beautiful new home in Greenbrae that is nestled in the trees and gives you that comfortable woodsy feeling when you come home after a hard day. Six rooms with three bedrooms and every modern convenience you would desire. Electric kitchen, two baths, double garage. $32,500, with excellent financing.

Don't Tell

anyone but your friends about these 2 new lots we are offering for the very first time. Large, beautiful and level on Butterfield Road. One at $12,-500, and the other at $13,500. No one has seen these lots as of this ad and they are nice. Always excellent terms with Peterson & Greene.

Just We Know

about this little jewel of a home. And look at this price of only $15,950. One bedroom condominium. Own your own home complete with pool, parking, laundry, BBQ area, ground floor, soundproof, all electric. Utilities paid, and easy access to freeway. A new way of life and only 10 steps to pool. $15,950. Terms.

The Secret Combination

to unlock the door to this beauty is held by us. Old world charm and quality, privacy, view, easy commute, country atmosphere in a high value area. The pool is included free. This lovely home has been built to last forever. It has HARDWOOD parquet floors, BOLTED beam ceilings, STEEL "I" beam support for the patio cover, raised hearth fireplace and other attractions too numerous to mention. Such incidentals as pool, pool equipment, pool vacuum and cover, garden tools, carpets, deluxe refrigerator and combination washer/dryer are included free to the buyer. If these qualities in a 3 bedroom home interest you, DO NOT DELAY, because it was just listed and won't last long. $45,000. Financing assistance is available of course.

Just Between Friends

This beautiful lot on the San Rafael Canal is a real beauty. 150 ft. of water frontage is ready to build on and has view unlimited. Deep water docking on a patrolled canal. Buy now and build the home of your dreams at your convenience.

Confidentially

Here is a fixer-upper that has not been shown before. It has a lot of fine points and a few that need attention. You could probably save some money on the low asking price of $18,700 if you take it as is. A fine lot and not up in the hills. A beautiful, sunny location. Asking only $18,700.

You may now lease certain brand new 1, 2 and 3-bedroom units in East Harbor Estates.

The apartments themselves are unusually large, with super-generous closet space. All-electric kitchens include dishwashers. Some units have balconies and fireplaces. All with carpets & drapes of course. Laundry facilities in each building. Covered parking. This is a normal "balanced" community and includes children, of course.

111—Used Imported and Sports Cars for Sale

We get all kinds of cars as trade-ins. Fords, Chevies, Cadillacs as well as VW's. But we show no preferences. As they come in, each car is put through a rigid performance test. The ones that pass get the works. They're reconditioned, tuned-up, tightened up, washed and polished (inside and out). The ones that fail never show up on our lot.

We can't afford to sell you anything but the best. After all, you'll be driving our reputation around with you.

NOTICE OF SALE OF REAL PROPERTY AT PRIVATE SALE
No. 15498

In the Superior Court of the State of California in and for the County of Marin.

In the Matter of the Guardianship of the Person and Estate of MARGARET J. SMITH, also known as MARGARET JOSEPHINE SMITH, Incompetent.

Notice is hereby given that on or after March 9, 1964 the undersigned MARIAN D. HANLON, as guardian of the person and estate of MARGARET J. SMITH, also known as MARGARET JOSEPHINE SMITH, incompetent, will sell at private sale to the highest and best bidder, subject to confirmation by the above-entitled Superior Court, all the right, title, interest and estate of the incompetent in and to that certain real property located in the City of San Rafael, County of Marin, State of California, described as follows:

Parcel One:

Parcel Two:

Commencing at a point on the Westerly line of "H" Street distant thereon 85 feet Southerly from the Southerly line of Forbes Avenue; running thence Southerly along said Westerly line of "H" Street 60 feet, thence at a right angle Westerly 150 feet; thence at a right angle Northerly 60 feet; thence at a right angle Easterly 150 feet to the Westerly line of "H" Street and the point of commencement.

Subject to current taxes, covenants, conditions, restrictions, reservations, rights, rights of way and easements of record.

Bids or offers are invited for the property and must be in writing and may be delivered to the guardian or to the office of Mr. Paul R. Leahy, Sequoia Title Company, 341 Third Street, San Rafael, California, or may be filed in the office of the Clerk of the above-entitled Court at any time after the first publication of this notice and before the making of the sale.

Terms and conditions of sale: Cash in lawful money of the United States of America; ten per cent (10%) of the amount bid to accompany the offer and the balance to be paid upon confirmation of sale by the Superior Court. Taxes, rents, operating and maintenance expenses, and premiums on insurance acceptable to the purchaser shall be prorated as of the date of confirmation of sale and upon delivery of the deed of the undersigned guardian. The examination of title, recording of conveyance, and any title insurance policy shall be at the expense of the purchaser or purchasers.

Bids must be sealed and will be opened at the office of Mr. Paul R. Leahy, at the Sequoia Title Company, 341 Third Street, San Rafael, California, at the hour of nine o'clock a.m. on the above date.

The property herein described is commonly referred to as 325 H Street, San Rafael, California.

'Dracula' Will Come To Marin

Horrors!

"Dracula" will come to Marin County. But it is not the vampire in person. It is a three-act play about him. That should be enough.

The play is planned by Theater V, a new drama group in Marin County. Auditions will be held at 1:30 p.m. Saturday at 330 Paloma Avenue, San Rafael.

Dracula was the brain child of author Bram Stoker. His book was adapted for the stage by Hamilton Deane and John L. Balderston. Bela Lugosi made the role famous in the movies.

LION IN THE ARK

Leon the lion enjoys a friendly pat from Lois de Banzie as Rachel in Festival Theater's production of "The Flowering Peach", a comic treatment of the Noah's Ark story. Mikel Taxer in the role of Noah's son, Japheth, smiles approval. Under the lion costume is Conrad Knudsen of San Rafael. Vanna Franks of Lagunitas designed and made the costume. Performances are at 8:30 p.m. Fridays and Saturdays and 7:30 p.m. Sundays through March 22 at the theater, 2 Kensington Road, San Anselmo. The March 7 production is sold out as a benefit for the Legend Club of Sleepy Hollow.

IN STEP WITH SPRING

Lightweight sport coats for spring . . . tailored by Timely. Here is an import look yet with refreshing American lightweight comfort. This jacket is a wrinkle-free wool and acrylic blend with a luxuriously soft feel. At Cazassa's in San Rafael.

Easter's Chick Is Snow White

White is for coats, for suits, for dresses, for evening wear, for accent touches. And, it's for millinery.

The Millinery Institute of America at its spring preview observed that the white hat is "a runaway favorite" in a season "when just about everything chic is snow white."

Two types of white showed at the industry's show — the crisp, chalky white and the natural, creamier one, both fashioned in a variety of smooth and rough-textured straws, shiny and dull finishes, and of sheer or opaque fabric. Black was seen rarely except in black and white combinations.

THE INSTITUTE is an auxiliary member of the New York couture group, which is one of two organizations staging a week-long series of showings of spring and summer apparel to the nation's visiting fashion reporters. The other is the American designer series (ADS).

White dominated the millinery collections, but to go with it there were flamboyant pastels with yellow a strong favorite. There were bold greens, peach-toned oranges, sharp pinks and blues ranging from turquoise to the pale and icy tints.

THE BIG hat makes a comeback for spring. We took measurements on some to find brims eight inches wide. Double that for the two sides of the hat, add the inches the woman's head occupies, and you have a head carting a cartwheel with a 21 to 22 inch diameter.

Many of the large brims rolled up and away from the face. Others turned down to frame it. Still other brims were borrowed from the men —the plain sailor, the padre, the sombrero, the sideswept cavalier.

NEW FOR spring was the sugar scoop brim, with a deep dipping front and a high-riding back.

In materials, the range includes basketweaves and lattice effects in straws, wide meshes, and combinations of straw and fabric as in the satin-finished straw intertwined with colored beads or the smooth straw with starched lace.

Among the dress and suit designers-manufacturers who showed collections, Larry Aldrich predicted that the bias cut would be one of the new season's biggest trends and showed some garments all on the bias, others with the top only on the bias.

He compared one clinging black crepe cocktail dress as one in the maner of Vionnet, the Paris designer who was a pace setter of the 1920's and made the bias her trademark.

Another highlight—

ARTHUR JABLOW — Designer David Kidd produced an avalanche of whites in everything from day suits and coats in a variety of weaves and textures to evening clothes in ottoman silk. Newest suit style was called the "Buccaneer."

SUMMER COOLER

Bold stripes splash against a sea of white, non-wilt Arnel triacetate jersey, R & K's travel-loving casual dress. Its skirt is a whirl of box pleating with the fit waist encircled by a grosgrain belt. Available at R & M Style Shops, San Rafael and Mill Valley.

LUXURIOUS LOOK OF SPRING

A pace setter for spring is this luxurious two-piece ensemble made of rayon and cotton with the "Knit Look." Wrinkle-resistant. By Betty Barclay. At Ella Joseph in San Rafael.

Marin Designer Goes Caribbean

Heralding the approach of spring on the cover of the 1964 Independent-Journal fashion edition is the "Caribbean Collection" of successful Marin designer Jacqueline de Bray.

ON THE COVER—The Jacqueline de Bray "Caribbean Collection" modeled by, from left, Mesdames Don McCoy Jr. of Tiburon, John H. Robinson of Ross and James Kean of San Rafael.

The local designer will have run the full circuit when Lanz features de Bray collections in its new store in her native Paris.

IN THE "Caribbean Collection," Jackie offers culottes in yellow checked gingham hand painted in garland blue or pink and white gingham hand painted in tones of red and dress in white pique is accented with a silk screen design in black and the "Guadalupe" is in white pique with a hand-painted modernistic design in black.

The de Bray collection for spring also includes long hostess skirts in hand painted fabrics with organza blouses and both long and short hand painted shifts on silk.

COLORFUL and bright is the de Bray keynote for spring.

How Seriously Should You Take The Paris Originals?

How is a fashion born? Is it necessary to always follow it?

Twice a year, in the spring and in the fall, the big Paris showings are held. These are covered extensively by the press. Needless to say, it is particularly disconcerting to open a fashion magazine during these months and suddenly find almost everything you own has been "decreed" to be out of date. How seriously, then, should you take the news of the Paris showings? The answer is: Read them, consider them . . . then watch and wait! It will be months before any of the adaptations from these showings will reach your store at a price you can afford.

THE "ORIGINALS," at fantastic prices, will trickle in faster. Watch—but don't envy—those who can afford these originals.

WALKING WITH FLAIR

Leading the spring parade is this knit walking suit by Arnel. It comes in navy with red and white braid trim and brass buttons. An accent is the white sleeveless crepe ascot blouse. At Jon Robert, San Rafael and Novato.

It All Started With A Fig Leaf

A better question to ask might be: what is a fashion? And the answer? No one seems to know. It is a phenomenon that has been puzzling sociologists and psychologists for years.

One thing we know however — fashion has been going in cycles ever since Eve first stated her preference for the leaves of a fig instead of a grape, or the first cave woman decided she preferred to wear a bear skin instead of a bare skin.

AT THE TURN of the century, the bustle had given way to an amazingly toppled-over silhouette of the Gibson girl with her hour-glass figure. As this figure became boring to its wearers, skirts became so hobbled that women could scarcely walk. World War I brought about the shorter skirt and looser dress. Zoom went the skirts in the jazz era of the twenties . . . only to come down again in the thirties as women again discovered their waistlines and bosoms.

IN THE EARLY thirties, fashion began to show a graceful, willowy, silhouette conforming more to the feminine form. But as time passed, the shoulder line became more and more padded and puffed, while skirts became shorter and shorter. As the war clouds again gathered over Europe, the fashion silhouette took on more and more of a masculine look until it reached its peak during World War II when women were more often seen in slacks and uniforms than in frilly clothes.

This line reached its limit about 1947 when Christian Dior launched the New Look . . . bringing about a softer shoulder, large hats, voluminous skirts and a drop in the hemline from 18" to 11½" off the floor. It mattered little that women were caught short without skirt hems to let down—the new look was in.

ABOUT 1951 came the influence of the high-belt Directoire line, only to give way in 1958 to the no-belt, straight-line chemise and the flaring trapeze, followed by the A-line in 1962.

WHILE A fashion trend usually runs about seven years, as a general rule, you can safely wear what you have on hand for about three years, sometimes longer, without appearing dated.

MELODY IN FASHION

Men's Suits Take On Iridescent Look

What's right in men's suits, slacks and sports coats for spring? Light! Colors will be lighter than ever, brighter than ever, and patterns will be bolder.

Texture, too, will play an important role as will the newer stretch fabrics that show up in sports jackets and suits as well as slacks.

IRIDESCENCE, a most notable word and look for spring, means new drama for fabrics without pattern. Cross-dyes, compound colorings and multicolor weaves are used to add interest to suitings. Glen plaid is the only pattern that will be seen widely in dressier fashions.

In sports coats and blazers, color is light, and it is also very bright. Pattern also makes a big splash in these styles. Stripes, in all widths, are used alone or in combinations everywhere. Madras is most important.

Never Have Pearls Been So Important

For centuries, pearls have been loved and admired as the "Queen of Gems" and have been desired by all women through the ages.

THIS YEAR'S many new and striking designs offer a wide variety of selections at the jeweler from which to choose, the council says.

There are multiple strands of pearls, cultured or simulated, that are bound to delight the heart of any girl. And there are new pearl collars, clasped close around the throat, effective with any neckline. Multiple strands of tiny seed pearls are used in effective necklaces, bracelets and earrings, always beautiful, always in good taste.

Combinations of pearls with other stones, such as jade, turquoise, lapis or topaz, add color and excitement to many of the season's newest designs in necklaces and matching accessories.

CULTURED PEARL necklaces, so flattering to every woman, are available in all lengths, though the trend is to the shorter lengths of 18 to 22 inches to frame new necklines. These may be found at budget prices that will pleasantly surprise every shopper —beautiful, perfectly matched and lustrous.

FOR THE woman who has a favorite pearl necklace, the Council suggests that matching earrings, an elegant ring or a beautiful pearl pin is a perfect addition toward a pearl jewelry ensemble.

AMERICAN SCENE

Floor Length Costumes Dominate

By GAY PAULEY

Rare indeed is the collection of American women's fashions for spring that does not include at least a couple of costumes suggested for the woman who wants, and can afford the time and money, to look glamorous as Marlene Dietrich around the old homestead.

Floor length costumes with sweeping skirts dominate in the new at-home clothes. And among the most luxurious seen from the New York designers were those by Ferdinando Sarmi. These were a group of beautifully printed silks made as he said it for "dinner at home." And we'd add, "with butler, cook, and a couple of maids in attendance."

IT TOOK ANNE KLEIN and Chuck Howard, designers at Junior Sophisticates, to come up with one of the jazziest costumes of the season —bright green crepe pajamas with collarless overblouse top. They ruffled the trouser cuffs, ruffled the cuffs of the long sleeves, ruffled the bottom of the overblouse.

Runner-up in the off-beat loungewear division was John Weitz's madly checkered pantaloon and overblouse combination in tones of brown and black. The pantaloons were cinched at the ankle by a narrow band, the checks easily were two inches square and the whole costume was a bit reminiscent of a clown's baggy drawers.

NOT ALL IS stay at home fashion by a long way, however. For those going out in the height of style, designer Mollie Parnis produced a collection which pointed to the return of the natural waistline, either belted or unbelted.

Miss Parnis predicted 1964 would see a white Easter. "And everything that isn't white will have a white touch somewhere," she said. Her navy and black dresses of silk or silk and wool had small collars or yokes of white organdy.

So a white coat or suit apparently will be one "must" for spring.

VERA MAXWELL was one designer to give the strongest endorsement to the apricots and pinks for the new season.

She showed orange in raw silk shell dresses; in combination with beiges with enough of the orange tone in them to pick up the hue and orange itself in a dozen different shadings.

On this color binge for spring, Miss Maxwell also tossed in sherbet pink in dresses, suits and coats. She combined the pink with kelly green in coat-dress combinations.

Brims Will Cast Shadows All Around This Season

Look for different ways with the brim—wide in front and smaller at the back, or vice versa. You'll see it casting a shadow all around as well.

Brims will be on a medium scale, but in importance, they are truly big.

The crown also shapes up in proportions with the high derby shape vying for a top spot.

There will be many prints in the fabric movement as well as sheers, silky textures and both straws and felts that are both rough and smooth.

Trimmings will be in line with the softer look of other fashions this season. There are many drapings, shirrings, fabric-on-fabric trims.

BY PUCCI OF ITALY

A one piece dress and coat designed by Pucci of Italy is offered in the Vogue Couturier pattern No. 1299 at the Nimble Thimble, Mill Valley. The semi filled coat has wrist length sleeves lined to the edge and reversible. The slender dress with button front has slightly extended shoulders.

Shoes Are Shuffling Over To 'Bare' Feminine Foot

Designers have bared the heel, cut the sides of the new shoes lower, and resorted to cutouts, lattice and straps to show off more of the feminine foot.

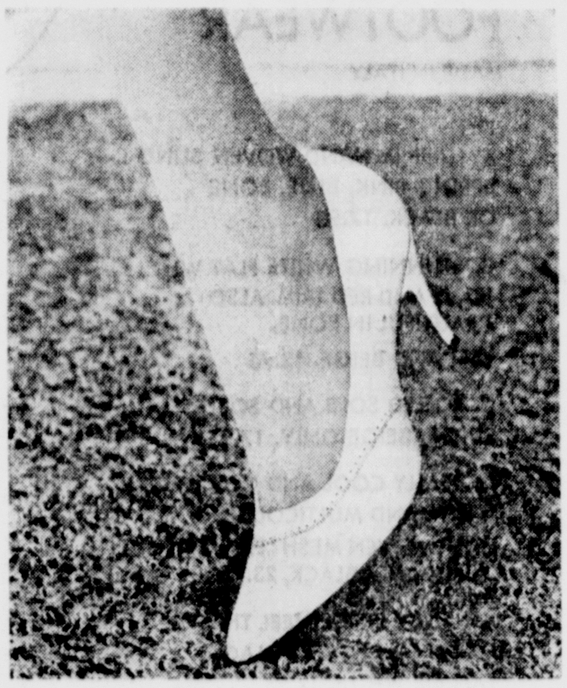

THE SLING back pump comes back in a number of variations, with the heel strap either spaghetti thin for the most open look or the wide sling which leaves only a strip of the heel showing.

Straps are used in countless ways, reports the National Shoe Institute. There are T-straps, horizontal straps, criss-cross, halter and cantilever straps. There are shoestring webbings for evening, straps decorated with perforations, stitchings or cutouts, and broad thongs for the suntan and patio set.

THE INSTITUTE, representing manufacturers and retailers, is an auxiliary member of the New York Couture Group.

It was a week of concentrated showings of all phases of spring and summer styles with another group — the American designer series — also in the act simultaneously for the first time, bidding for attention of the fashion press.

THE MULE also is on the footwear scene with its completely open back, showing in evening shoes with winestem shaped heels and daytime walkers with sturdy heel shapes.

CONTEMPORARY LOOK

"You'll find the young contemporary look in this dramatic new pump. There is feminine elegance in the subtle undertoned texture of its pliant leather . . . in the cling of its wide-fold topline going straight from fingertip toe to upright little heel. Expresso by Socialites, a Red Cross shoe. At Kramar's Shoes, Corte Madera Shopping Center.

PATENT IN BROCADE

The Bikini Look From The 'Way Out' West

From Munich comes the "barely there" bikini, but carried out in Western checks that belt low on the hips . . . much lower than any cowpuncher's jeans. The "shirt" of course is minimized to a bra with wide, suspender type straps. A 10-gallon hat completes the costume.

Shades Of Lilac Follow Closely In Easter Parade

Pink and lilac shades follow closely behind, and navy blue is bound to regain fans. Reds and oranges sing out too. White, again, with black will be big.

A SOUTH OF THE BORDER look appears noteworthy for spring and particularly for summer, in dresses with a fiesta air. They're practical and pretty for patio entertaining, or for wear to any gala, yet casual, affair.

JUMPERS, an all encompassing term for sleeveless fashions that can be worn over a blouse or sweater, were red hot favorites this past season and it's a strong bet that they'll continue in a top spot for spring.

RUFFLES, an important trend in dresses and blouses for spring, are a natural for gloves — so, of course, there they are. But, that's not all. Gloves are feminine in many other dainty ways as well — with buttons, bows, lace, smocking, flowers, embroidery. In fact, gloves are prettier than ever this season.

CLEVER DESIGN

It's quite a trick to combine fashion's newest opened-up look with firm growing-up fit. Stride Rite's designers do it with a graceful side-sweeping strap on this smart shoe "Cupcake." The leather is patent, soft and gleaming. Available at McKenzie's Children's Bootery, San Rafael.

FROM DIOR FOR SPRING

This cocktail ensemble of pink crepe is from the spring collection of Dior of Paris. The jacket, with a rose of the same material, and the cuffs of the loose sleeves are trimmed with pearl drops. Dior has also proved that fashion kings have a jester's sense of humor in his millinery collection. He is showing one nutty hat with walnut half-shells plastered all over the crown. A new color from Dior —carnation red. It appeared throughout the collection, sometimes with white and navy. Stock market note: The plunging neckline continues bearish at this house. (AP Wirephoto)

ON THE MARC

Bohan Uses Country Linen

Marc Bohan, Dior designer, used old-fashioned country linen for many dresses . . . cellophane sequins for trims on cuffs and hemlines to add a little soundtrack for evenings—the rustle of spring, no doubt.

Continuing his trend-setting embroidery that won him an American Schiffli Achievement Award, Bohan places delicate pink and blue flowers on voluminous chiffon evening pajamas . . . uses polka dot all-over embroidery on an airy outfit with ruffled sleeves . . . places a gold embroidered rose on one shoulder of a dress with a petal raised to give the effect of a flower inlaid there . . . uses jewel embroidery like the new layered crystal paintings currently on display at the Galerie Charpentier. The white bridal gown featured embroidered flowers under a filmy overskirt of organdy.

Raglan And A-Line Flair New Style Silhouette For Misses

Most children adore dressing up, and certainly they attract admiring glances from elders and contemporaries alike. Witness the Easter parade in cities large and small, or any Sunday or holiday when small fry emerge from Sunday school or from visiting grandparents. They respond to admiration and praise as does anyone.

THEY EVEN behave better as psychologists recognize.

Let's see what's fashionable for the young. Our first observations indicate that silhouette, colors and, in many instances, fabrics follow those of adult fashions. Children mature earlier; they see TV, hear and see their older sisters discussing fashion, and they more often shop with mothers and grandmothers.

IN SILHOUETTE there is a softness and smartness of cut that is most becoming. Ease of fit, in fact a gentle fullness, is characteristic of '64 fashions. Shoulders are generally raglan cut and the A-line flare continues, back fullness often softly held by a half belt.

Both single and double breasted closings are seen, but buttons are an important detail, many times in metal that indicates a military influence. Welt seams give variety and may suggest a princess line. Pockets are conspicuous, and necklines are varied — collarless cardigan type, high round standaway or small lapels.

FABRICS INFLUENCE cut and are practically synonymous with color. There are, so to speak, two schools of color: pastels and the red and navy while white is everywhere and, of course, is included in the pastel category or completes the trio red, white and blue. Among pastels yellow, pink, light blue and turquoise are the leaders.

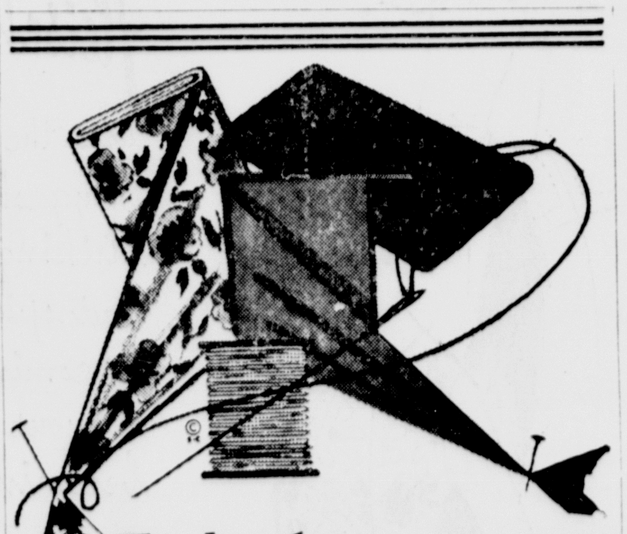

Fabrics in pastels tend to have greater surface interest such as nubby monotone and often mohair appears in wool mixtures.

GETTING MORE MILEAGE FROM YOUR BOOTS

After boots are worn and they become soiled from winter elements, shoe trees should be placed in them. High boots can be held in position with rolled newspaper as stuffing.

Spray smooth leather boots with a silicone waterproof covering and when treating boots that have become water or salt stained, restore with an instant shoe coloring.

AN ELEGANT LOOK FOR THE TEEN-AGERS

This is the official coronation gown of Miss Teenage America, left. Row upon row of Val lace ruffings alternates with Caprolan nylon organza in the controlled poodle skirt. A matching organza stole completes the picture. From Nadine Formals. At right, the return of the elegant look is found in this formal gown of nylon organza. The bell shaped skirt and over-sized puffed sleeves are embroidered in a maze of little flowers and beaded through with velvet ribbon. From Sylvia Ann.

Necklines Down, Down, Down Slashing, Plunging, Curving

Down, down, down go necklines after dark—way down.

They plunge. Make a deep V. They're slashed. They curve. They meet the waistline high up in the Empire cut, or dip lower to a slightly raised waist. But they are never the old scooped-out cut with sleeves.

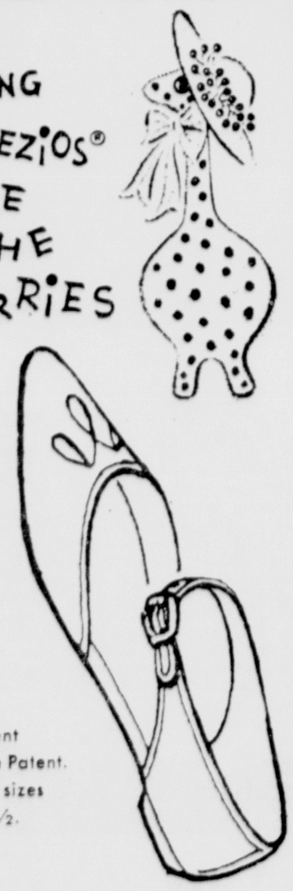

These no-holds-barred dresses are in cocktail and full-lengths. They're in chiffon, crepe, silk faille, and very very often in lace.

Beach Colors Sizzle

Let's hope that the only riots on the beach this spring will be the riot of color—and that's one riot that is bound to be!

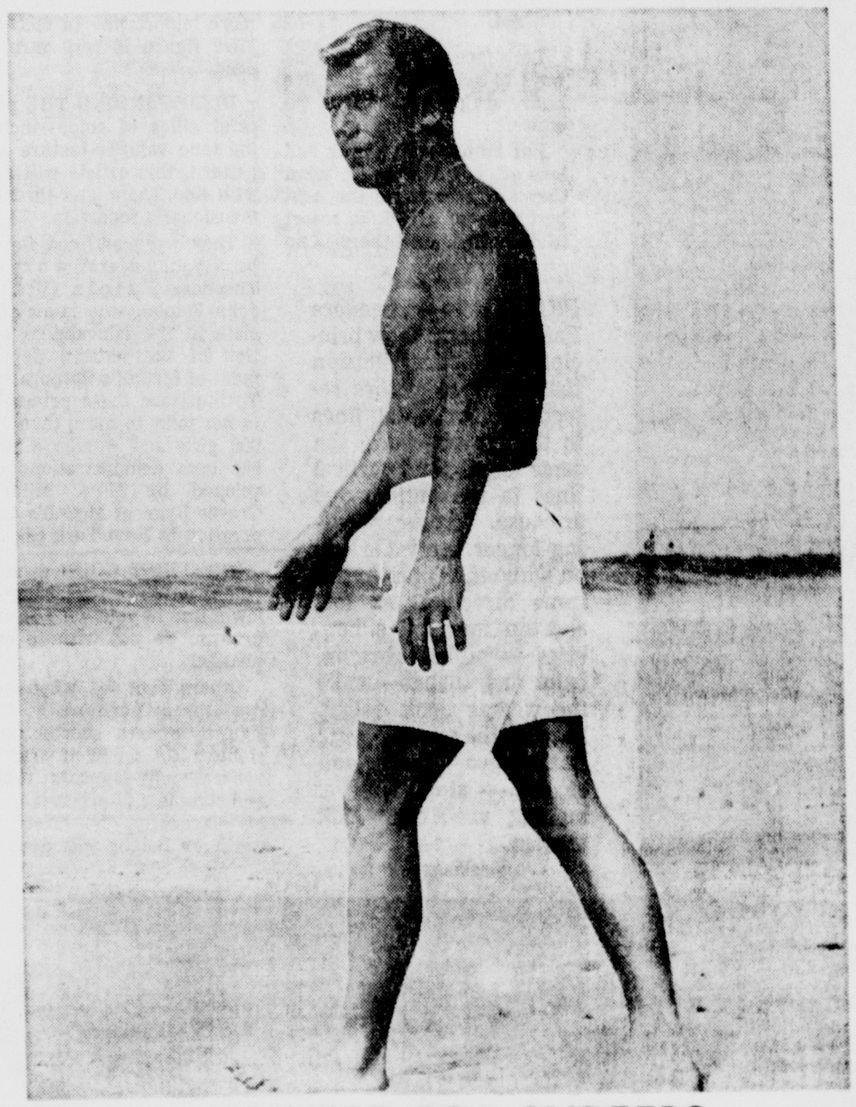

The new beach colors sizzle hotter than the sun — pinks blazing against orange . . . lilac mating with blue . . . yellow splashed against vivid reds.

Patterns play a part in these hot fashions, too. Checks cash in on color played against color and against other patterns such as stripes or plaids.

DANDY FOR THE BEACH

Bound to attract throngs of admirers on the beach this spring and summer is the new 100 per cent nylon one-piece swimsuit "Doodledandy" from the Rose Marie Reid junior collection for 1964. Bright straw flowers complete the motif in this attractive and functional swimsuit. At Stan's Apparel for Sports, San Rafael.

NEWEST FOR SURFERS

Removing Eye Makeup Is Easy

Almost every night of the week, beauty-conscious women can be counted on to cry a little—through veils of mascara particles. This is our moment of truth, the price we pay for demanding and getting superbly durable eye make-ups that refuse to smudge, blur or flake—and are sometimes easier to put on than take off.

WHEN IT'S time to remove the cosmetics that have rendered our eyes large, long-lashed and darkly mysterious, it's tempting to try and get it over with quickly. This usually entails scrubbing back and forth with soap and water even though it tends to grind the lashes, loaded with mascara and eye-watering suds, in toward the lids.

If speed is important; convenience essential, substitute cold cream for soap and water —and the job will be practically tearless.

COLD CREAM contains special make-up dissolvants that absorb even stubborn eyeliners, shadows and waterproof mascaras without the need to apply pressure. Unlike soap, it will not sting or irritate if it gets into the eyes—and you can also avoid blinking through bits of mascara if you use the following method.

Camouflaging Those Figure Faults—

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

A little bit of camouflage
On what a lady's got
Makes her seem much prettier
And look like what she's not.

But human will power and love of comfort being what they are, sometimes the next best plan of attack is resort to deception. And there is no better way to begin than by learning some of the principles of optical illusion.

Furthermore, certain flaws of bone structure cannot be corrected, and in these cases use of optical illusion is even more important. In fact, the ideal figure is very rare indeed.

PICTURE 1 — Theodora Faiola's charts show principles of optical illusion that apply to clothes selection. Horizontal lines in the top chart are the same length, and vertical lines in the bottom one are also. Those appearing longer carry the eye on with other lines in the same direction. At left the top four hat silhouettes — pillbox, breton, calot and turban—make the wearer look taller, keeping the eye going up. Bottom two — sailor and cloche — stop the eye, making wearer look shorter.

DISREGARDING THE powerful allies of color—including tone values—texture and pattern, this article will deal with line, shape and three-dimensional proportion.

They were outlined for us by a young Marin woman, Theodora Faiola (Mrs. G. John Faiola), who is an associate in the educational section of the pattern department of McCall's Corporation. To illustrate these principles in her talks to more than 10,000 girls and women a year she uses demonstrations developed by Mrs. Mildred Graves Ryan of McCall's Corporation in New York City.

Others are: (a) when the eye travels horizontally, the figure appears shorter and stouter; (b) when it travels vertically, it appears taller and slimmer; (c) when it travels diagonally, the effect of width or height will depend on the direction of the lines; (d) curves add softness and gracefulness but also width; (e) tight fit or clinging fabrics emphasize defects.

The best way to do this, Mrs. Faiola suggests, is to have two pictures taken of yourself in a bathing suit or foundation garment—one side view and the other front view, like the ones in Picture 3.

THE IDEAL VERTICAL proportions are: Chin to point of bust, 1 nead; bust to waist, ¾ head; waist to hip, 1 head; hip to knee, 1¾ heads; knee to ankle, 1¾ heads; and ankle to sole of foot, ¼ head.

Next you draw the dotted lines where the following points actually are on your silhouettes: point of bust, waist, hip, knee and ankle. Comparing these with the solid lines will show flaws of proportion

FOR EXAMPLE, these are what the dotted lines show on Picture 3. The bust is too high at line A. It should be the next lower solid line, or half the distance between the shoulder and elbow. This means this person must avoid high bust and waist lines and too low necklines or any high horizontal lines.

The waist is too high at line B. It should be at the next lower solid line. Whether you are high or low waisted, therefore, is not a matter of inches but of proportion. Long overblouses help to camouflage this flaw, as well as dropped waistlines, long jackets or shifts or in general avoiding anything which emphasizes the actual waistline.

The knee is too high at D. It should be the next lower solid line. Camouflage involves concealing the kneecap even though very short skirts are in style. Hemlines should not be determined by inches from floor but rather in terms of the overall proportion of the figure. Lower waistlines help to create the illusion of shorter skirts.

THE FIGURE is also square-hipped, which means slim skirts must fall straight from hipline to hemline (a flared skirt is not quite so good. Gathered and soft pleated skirts should be avoided; and slacks should not be fitted too tightly. Note that Figure 2 would indicate that skirt choice would not be so limited as Figure 1 reveals.

PICTURE 2—Further tricks of deception are illustrated on dolls 1 through 6. Because of the unbroken "up" line on the first doll she looks taller than doll 2. Both 1 and 2 look thinner than the others because of their straight skirts. The upward and inward line of the flared skirt of doll 3 makes her look slender, a good line for most figures if flare is not too wide at bottom. Dolls 4, 5 and 6 show different treatments of fullness. The closer the fabric to the figure, the more slender the effect. Doll 4 is most slender with pressed pleats. Doll 5 is next with fabric layered in unpressed pleats. Widest appearing is doll 6.

Fashion Salutes The Military In Brass Buttons, Epaulets

No longer is a "young fashionable" (and this term applies to every woman) confined to one silhouette. This spring, the look is soft and feminine—and there is a fashion for everyone.

Coats and suits feature silhouettes with high-rising, subtle shaping at the bodice — conversely, with pleats or soft flares to indicate low movement. Interesting fabrics and bright, new tones abound.

FASHION SALUTES the military, too . . . and many coats and suits have brass buttons, epaulets or sleeve straps. Sometimes all three regimental effects appear — but mainly, these embellishments are used with discretion for a finer, more luxurious look.

Color is emphasized, too. Fresh and refreshing are the true white, the oyster whites, the vivid golds, the brassy yellows . . . the blues that range from "sky" to aqua—and on to bright navy. The pastel and kelly greens—and even a new version of olive drab that has a golden glow and isn't drab.

LBJ Women Call Him A Miracle Worker

NEW YORK (AP)—Ask makeup man Eddie Senz why Lady Bird Johnson described him as a miracle worker and he'll blush — with pride.

"That was an exaggeration," insists Eddie of the inscription, "To Our Miracle Worker," that Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson wrote on a photograph of herself and daughters, Lynda Bird and Lucy Baines. The color shot taken during the inaugural festivities in 1961 shows Mrs. Johnson in pink, Lynda Bird in white and Lucy Baines in green. It hangs in Senz office.

"She's the most charming, warm, gracious woman," Senz says. "She has all the qualities a woman needs for loveliness. I gave her a little beauty advice and she follows it, that's all."

ANY TALK ABOUT Mrs. Johnson's charm revolves around her mouth and eyes, Senz says.

"She has the most delightful twinkle in her brown eyes and a most expressive mouth, so these two features that key her personality were the ones to accent," he explains.

Senz minimizes makeup, as in the case of her olive skin. But he evolved an inauguration makeup for her that would be compatible on television, and he suggested the hairdo she now wears.

HE ADVISES Lynda Bird and Lucy Baines and some of their friends, and no one is more appreciative and complimentary about his efforts than President Johnson, who takes a fatherly interest in the grooming of the girls and their friends and telephones Senz to discuss forthcoming appointments.

"He is a warm gracious Southerner. 'Now don't give them everything they want' he will say. 'Give them what you think they should have," the President has told him.

"He wants them to look well but not theatrical," Senz explains. "He often has said that he likes his women folk to look attractive and stylish, but doesn't want to overdo it."

Senz met the Johnsons through friends when the President was a senator. He invited the ladies to visit his salon. And they did.

SENZ MAKEUP technique for the Johnsons is a basic one he has used for 35 years, he says. It is a concept of achieving an ideal by studying the structure of the face from every angle, and then shaping the head, brow and mouth in a way that flatters the individual. Through proper shaping of these features, correct makeup techniques and proper cosmetics, the appearance of cheekbones, nose and chin may be heightened or diminished.

"But the means of achieving gratifying results should never be too obvious," Senz points out.

ONE OF THE best-known makeup men in the country, Senz was apprentice to his late father who was makeup director at the Metropolitan Opera for 50 years. He has been adviser to major movie companies, Broadway shows, television. His diversified clientele has included Lady Mendl, Junior Leaguers, wives of government officials as well as stage and screen stars.

Left to her own devices, Mrs. Johnson might be casual about grooming. At one time asked to comment on Jacqueline Kennedy's controversial hairdo, she replied, "I like to think that what is in a person's head is more important that what is outside."

But when she had a hospital room adjacent to the President's during his recovery from a heart attack, she commented later that "Lyndon wanted me around 24 hours a day. He wanted me to laugh a lot and have my lipstick on."

IT HAS BEEN said that she cut her hair to please Johnson, and that he has set standards for her makeup, weight and dress, and she lives up to them. She ditched low heel shoes for the high heels he prefers, shrunk her size 14 frame to a size 10, and some years ago took a makeup course with Senz.

GO FOR GREEN OF LIMEY HUE THIS SPRING

It's "go" for green this spring, but not just any green — it must be a green that looks good enough to eat — lime-y, sunny, softened, touched with yellow, paled with whites.

You'll find green going big this season in all collections—in dresses, coats, suits, sportswear, jewelry and other accessories. You'll find mixing greens to be a newsy part of the story.

Coordinating Fabrics Easy

Can you tell me what fabric textures coordinate well?

First, try to avoid, when combining textures, fabrics that are difficult to coordinate. These are: gabardines, silk shantungs, linens, and the synthetic fibers such as nylon, rayon and dacron.

Here are a number of fabrics that go well together: Cotton and cotton-knit jersey; velvet or velveteen and wool jersey; velvet or velveteen and pure silk taffeta; dress woolens and pure silk taffeta or satin; Angora wool and tweeds; Shantung and silk jersey; corduroy and tweeds; flannel and worsteds; wool jersey and tweeds, broadcloths, silks, taffetas, satins, and worsteds.

The Return Of The 'Lady-Like' Look

Not in a long time have clothes been so soft, so feminine, so flattering and so easy to wear. In tune with this trend are: soft suits with breathtaking feminine blouses; flares; pleats and ruffles on everything; capes on suits and wool dresses; more definite shapings in costumes; and the long, lithe line.

FLATTERING the new silhouettes and the woman are the exciting fabrics. They're really something to rave about, particularly the woolens, in beautiful, soft, dimensional surfaces, in open textury, lacy, cobwebby weaves . . . in worsteds of gossamer sheerness or mannish lightweights. Many of them are British-made with quality that has the touch that meets the look.

COLORS are also sublime. There are the white woolens, which have been around for a while, to flatter the figure. The new white crop is luxurious with handsome, deep, deep surfaced, weightless coatings, loaded with mohair, fuzzy or veloury fleeces, and white tweeds prettily nubbed or slubbed in vivid multicolors or pastels.

A BIG COMEBACK for spring is the navy blue-and-white combination. The fashionable navy is dark and true or second choice is a bright navy. Smart-looking are the soft navy suits in worsteds, crepes or twills with frothy white organdie, silk chiffon or crepe blouses. There's much navy, too, in dresses with or without coats or jackets for a costume look, in plain coats over silks printed in huge polka dots, linear plaids, abstractions, modern flowers and in blazer stylings.

NEW TWEEDS are a-plenty. Newest are very colorful with lots of texture and mohair to shape curved back coats, little overcoats and classic suits. Dressier fluffy tweeds sparkle in gentle pastels and Chanel-type suits. For the elegance, brilliantly colored, boldly patterned British tweeds accent lengthened jackets, capes over slim skirts or long torso dresses.

IN PATTERNS the classic glen plaids are the hit of the season. A carry-over is the chalk-stripe, mostly on navy or gray, sometimes on different grounds as olive, red or royal.

FOR A BIT of swash-buckling, Ellen Brooke of New York introduces this pale blue, grey and beige plaid Scottish mohair, full length circular cape. Falling in a full inverted pleat in back, it has a rounded collar and is highlighted by large patch pockets.

FOR THIS SPRING'S gentle woman, Hannah Troy introduces this pronounced white and navy blue British woolen houndstooth check in an enchanting cape-like butterfly sleeve coat with a semi-fitted empire A-line cut. Accompanying the coat is navy sheer English wool sleeveless dress.

MOST BECOMING in aqua blue open weave English mohair, this weightless coat by Ilie Wacs has all of the new spring touches. A collar, slightly shaped front, straight falling back, style the silhouette. (UPI photos)

Paris Models Are Both Pretty And Practiced Prevaricators

A Paris model almost always says "Oui" to those Johnnies who queue up after a fashion show with invitations to do the town. But she almost never keeps the date.

"Please tell the the nice young man coming here at 8 that my husband is arriving and I will not be able to have dinner with him, after all."

After leaving the familiar message with the doorman, the pretty, practiced prevaricator dashes home to mother —or her own true love.

"It's a pretty good system when you think of it," reflects Billie Gould, who was an American in Paris recently with a half dozen young manikins temporarily in her employ.

"Demurring just wastes time and to Frenchmen it is only a challenge to continue the pursuit."

That is only one of the things, some to her delight and some to her despair, that Billie learned about the Paris manikin while producing a U.S. Department of Agriculture-sponsored leather show there.

Since she sailed into port with trunkloads of size 10s the fashion coordinator discovered to her despair that the majority of French models are meatier than the much more publicized minority, those scrawny, swan-necked fashion goddesses of the haute couture houses.

In fact, the first group booked ahead of Billie's arrival, was endowed with such grande derrieres that they were paid off and sent home. Despite a scarcity of models in Paris during the early fall season, a skinnier half dozen was found.

Even so, the black-eyed raven-haired effervescent favorite of the audience broke several zippers in leather ski pants, until at last, long overblouses and unzipped zippers solved the problem.

In fast-paced American fashion shows, each model is assisted by her own dresser. But in Paris the young ladies consider it a part of her job, claims Billie, to study the ins and outs of the garments, keep the proper accessories handy, and hang and brush the garments after the show.

The five-day leather show, a bid to the Common Market, outdrew the audiences of other European exhibits, Billie reports.

Color was the big attraction. Frenchmen went wild over men's leisure and golf jackets in half-ounce kid as soft as chiffon and in ice blues, greens and ivory.

The vivid hues . . . like orange and cranberry leather ski clothes attracted the French women. Although leather as feminine apparel is popular and prevalent in Europe, the shopper's choices are still limited largely to browns and blacks, she says.

Californians' View Of Easter

HERE IS AN example of the complete look in Adele-California's handsome full length, light weight, all wool tweed cape in pale golden beige. Designed with slim, welt pocketed skirt of the same wool, it is further enhanced by a white long sleeved blouse of crepe, notable for the semi-ascot tie and cuffs with links. There is interest in the notched lapels of the cape, also the slash pockets in addition to the arm slits.

THERE'S NEWS in this decidedly "on-the-go-able" coat by Stanley-Nelson of California. The return of worsted wool gabardine, light but warm; the hint of fit to the front and the flaring back, the slightly broadened and rounder shoulders with set-in sleeves. Note the rounded and notched collar which stands away just enough to prevent soiling, the double-breasted closing with important black buttons, the slash pockets, the long, slightly belled sleeves.

Costume Look Is The Story For Easter

Easter is early this year—March 29, to be specific. Remember when you were a little girl and your mother dressed you in lovely clothes for Easter? What a thrill it was and how wonderful you felt!

THE COSTUME—the complete look—is very much the story for spring. Suits, very important, often have their own blouses and even coats or capes to match or harmonize. Coats not infrequently are shown with skirts of like fabric with a blouse added to complete the ensemble. Dresses with matching tailored jackets may appear to be suits or, with the addition of a cape or coat, become costumes.

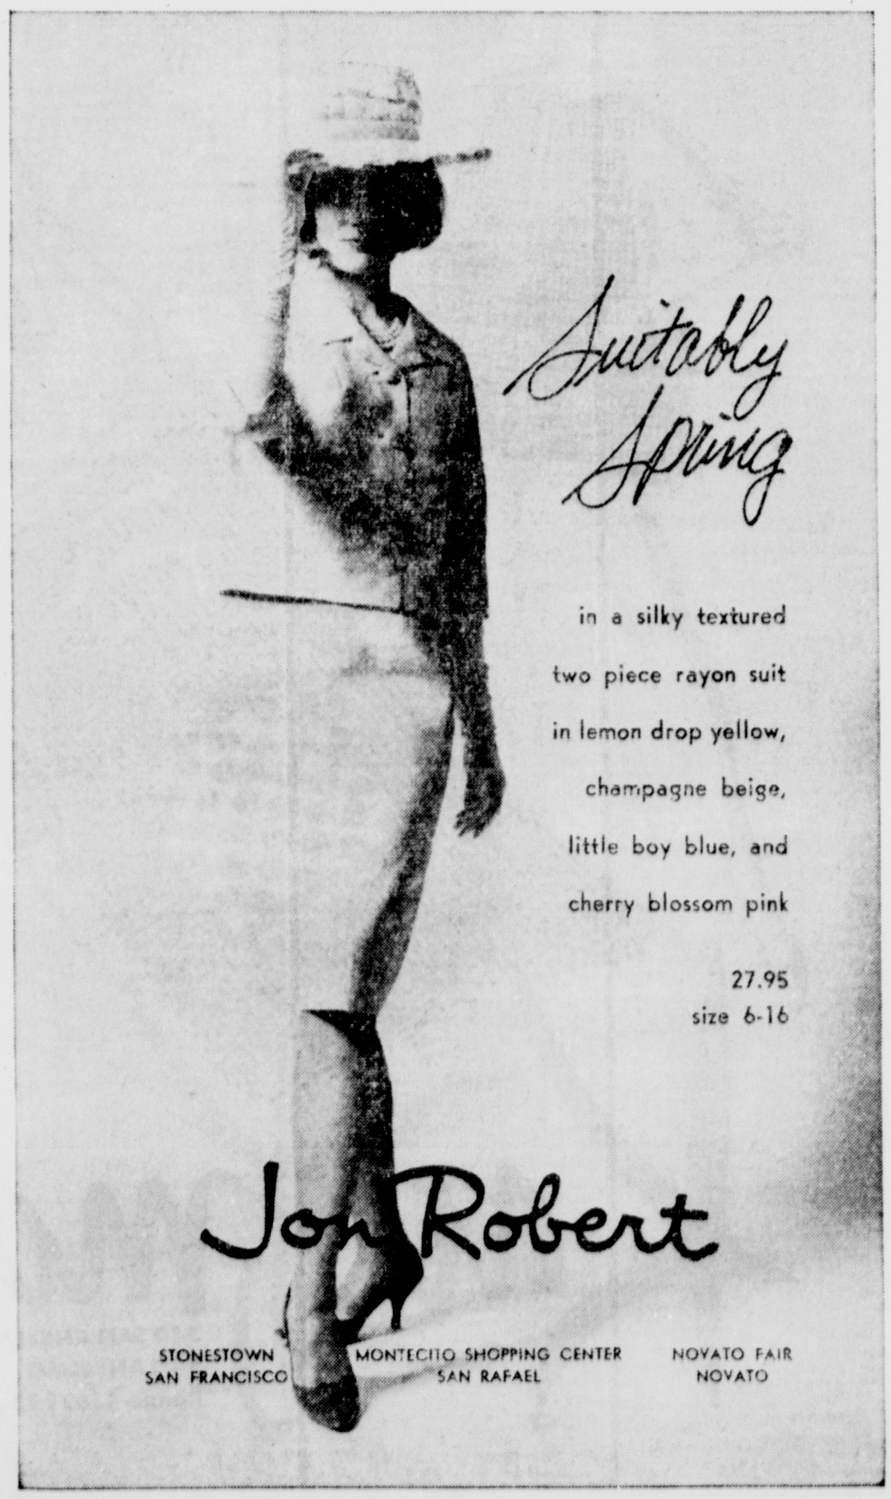

COLORS ARE very important with white near the head of the list, lots of pinks from pale shell to vivid fuchsias and the "hot" shades, sunshiny and daffodil yellows, blues from pastels to bright navy (which is excellent for Easter), a bit of a trend to lilacs, wisterias, mauves.

Minty, cool-looking greens, many off-whites to pale beiges are other favorites, and all sorts of mixtures of neutrals and whites with color appear in both coat and suit collections . . . in tweeds, large and small plaids and the like.

SUITS ARE SHOWING real strength for the new season, offered in a wide variety in which there are many changes but none of them startling. Jackets tend to be a little longer, shoulders are often a bit wider and may even be lightly padded; some are dropped a bit and are rounder with sleeves set in, raglan types, placed low or not there at all, having been replaced by the long sleeves of a companionate blouse. A belt placed low on the jacket often lends an elongated appearance.

Some jackets are gently shaped but not many are actually fitted at the waistline and some are straight as a little boy's Sunday suit. There are single and double-breasted blazers, a la Chanel, with buttons and pockets playing a role.

CAPELET JACKETS look new, exposing handsome blouses to match the lining. While slim skirts predominate, more A-shaped styles and more pleats are to be seen.

14.95 Black or brown

Casual elegance that is completely at home at the office, on the campus,—or anywhere you meet modern men on the move. Every stitch demonstrates the skill, knowledge, and pride of Roblee craftsmen . . . and the price proves that good taste need not carry a high price tag.
